Mellon Breaks a Record. Hoover! Boom! Boom! Berlin-New York 1 Hour. Big, and Intelligent.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

WHEN Andrew Mellon enters Herbert Hoover's cabinet he will do what nobody has done before. No man has ever been secretary of the United States Treasury under three presidents.

You may add that nobody ever did better work for the people of the United States under any president than Mr. Mellon has done since he took charge.

TO RUN a ship you need somebody that understands ships. And to manage the money of the richest nation on earth, you want somebody that understands money. Mr. Mellon understands it.

"SEEST thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before kings."

George F. Baker has been extremely intelligent in running the First National Bank of New York City, the New York Central Railroad and heaven knows what else besides.

The price of his First National Bank stock went up $1,150 in a day, adding more than $20,000,000 to Mr. Baker's wealth in twenty-four hours, and more than $100,000,000 to the wealth of other stockholders in the same bank.

WALL STREET yesterday and the day before made clear the fact that it does NOT consider the election of Herbert Hoover a detriment to business.

Wall Street's "Hoover boom" is starting. Heaven pity the poor bear, if any bear still survives.

THIS fortunate country has had nearly eight years of economy and wise abstention from meddling which the country needed.

Now comes Herbert Hoover, trained engineer, familiar with great national enterprises that need attention.

Soon another large volume will stand on the shelves of national history labeled "Hoover Prosperity." It will be a thick book.

MAX VALIER, German who invented the automobile driven by rockets discharged at the far end, has manufactured a new rocket car, expected to do 300 miles an hour. He will drive it.

If he survives, his next attempt will be to fly the Channel with a rocket-driven plane.

MR. VALIER believes that some day a "rocket airplane" will go through the atmosphere that protects our globe from meteor bombardment, like a belt of armor plate, and fly off to other planets.

THE foolish laugh when Valier suggests the possibility of sending an airplane rocket from Berlin to New York in one hour.

Compared with other speeds in nature that is low. Light goes around the world seven times in one second. If starting and stopping can be regulated, crossing the ocean in an hour would not be impossible. Crossing in three hours is quite probable. That will be fast enough.

BIG business is intelligent. It fights occasionally when private conferences don't bring results, but wounds are healed as soon as possible.

THE British "Royal Dutch" Oil Company has "kissed and made up" with American Standard Oil Company. They have arranged between them to get whatever can be got in Russia, in the way of oil.

That's the way to make business pay.

LABOR unions and others that sometimes fight, instead of getting together, there is a lesson for you.

GOOD boys make good men. Herbert Hoover, who appoints William Dewitt Mitchell attorney general, would be interested to hear a description of the new cabinet officer by Dr. Abbott, headmaster of the Lawrenceville school.

Dr. Abbott, who taught Mr. Mitchell long ago, believes that this country will have a great attorney general.

NEW rules in our canal zone restrict flying to American aircraft, which is good, as far as it goes.

But how would the airplane flying be restricted in that zone in time of war?

You can do anything in peace with words. But in war you need flying machines and submarines.

GOV. ROOSEVELT of New York wants a committee to investigate and provide for the needs of poverty stricken old people. For that, he will have the thanks of all that voted for him, and all that did not vote for him.

If the richest country in the world can't take care of poor and worn out old people, at least as well as a decent man takes care of an old horse, there is something wrong with that richest country.

THE postoffice receives bids for what will be the longest air-mail route in the world, from Christobal in the Panama Canal Zone to Santiago, Chile, far on the other side of the Equator.

UNDER the contract, the postmaster can order the contractor to extend that long route over the Andes Mountains to Buenos Aires, and Montevideo.

Thanks to Mr. New in the postoffice, and Mr. Coolidge in the White House, there is some encouragement of American aviation. Nobody doubts that Mr. Hoover will continue that and increase it.

MUSSOLINI'S Fascist grand council selects 400 names of whom exactly 400 will be nominated and elected to the next Italian Chamber of Deputies.

That you might call a complete system. Mussolini believes one man is enough to run a government.

Mexico Guards Lindy and Anne

PAIR SCORN BANDIT SCARE

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—(AP.)—A heavy artillery escort was provided Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Ambassador Morrow and his family by the Mexican government this morning for their 40-mile trip to the Morrow country home at Cuernavaca.

A bandit raid on a freight train yesterday near Cuernavaca led to fears by government officials that guerilla elements, ever active in this area, intended harm to Mexico's distinguished guest and his fiancee, Miss Anne Morrow.

The fear, however, was not shared by Col. Lindbergh and the Morrows, who shortly after their arrival from Toluca late yesterday reaffirmed their intentions of making the trip today, returning to Mexico City Monday or Tuesday.

CARS BURNED

In the raid on the freight train yesterday looting was followed by burning of the cars. The spot where it took place was between the stations of El Parque and Alarcon, in the state of Morelos, near the highway.

But for the fact that Col. Lindbergh, his fiancee, her mother and her sister Elizabeth, chose to go to Toluca instead of adhering to an original plan to motor to Cuernavaca yesterday, they would have passed close to the scene of the bandit attack.

Bandit attacks and highway holdups occurred during the last year at times when Ambassador Morrow himself was making the motor trip. On at least one of these occasions

MOSES' WIFE FINED $50

Dora G. Moses, wife of Ben Moses, drug store proprietor who just completed a sentence imposed for a violation of the prohibition laws, escaped with a $50 fine today when she pleaded guilty in Federal Court to sale and possession of liquor. The 60-day sentence imposed upon the husband expired last month.

Mrs. Moses pleaded guilty to sale of liquor last March and to possession of liquor a month later. Both offenses occurred in the Young drug store, Center avenue, of which her husband was proprietor at the time.

In imposing the light fine, Judge R. M. Gibson said that it was difficult for the court to determine whether the violations were independent or in connection with the offenses for which her husband was found guilty.

In Cabinet

ARTHUR M. HYDE

President-elect Hoover has selected Gov. Hyde, Missouri, as secretary of agriculture in his cabinet. Reports of the choice are confirmed.

LAMONT CHOICE AS COMMERCE SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP.)—Robert P. Lamont, Chicago engineer, has been chosen Secretary of Commerce in the Hoover cabinet.

The identity of the other one of the two men around whom had been thrown a veil of mystery was uncovered overnight. He is Arthur M. Hyde, former governor of Missouri, who has accepted the agricultural portfolio.

PICKS LOWDEN MAN

In making this appointment, Hoover went into the camp of the most formidable of his foes in the pre-convention campaign—former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois.

As he awaits Monday, Hoover is enjoying the peace of the big red mansion on S street, which has been his home for years. He is surrounded there by all of the members of his immediate family.

SISTER ON WAY

Hoover's only sister, Mrs. Mary Leavitt, of Long Beach, Cal., is on the way here for the inauguration, but the only brother of the President-elect, Theodore Hoover,

2 Downtown Safes Cracked, Loot $52

Safecrackers jimmied open two safes in offices at 316 Penn avenue and escaped with a loot totaling $52, it was revealed today. At the office of the Singer Sewing Machine Company they obtained $32, and at the Standard Metal Spinning Company $20 in cash.

4 TRAPPED, PERISH IN FLAMES

STEUBENVILLE, O., March 2.—Four persons were burned to death early today in a fire that destroyed the home of William Primm, at Gould's Station, O., 12 miles southeast of this city.

Primm, in the Ohio Valley Hospital seriously burned, is the lone survivor of five members of a family occupying the dwelling.

The dead:

Mrs. William Primm, 43, Primm's wife.

Mrs. Charles Crawford, 25, a daughter.

Charles Crawford, 27, husband of Mrs. Crawford.

Primm was found by neighbors and brought to the hospital here. He said he had been awakened by smoke filling the home. Then he discovered the entire house in flames. Calling his son-in-law and rousing the others, Primm leaped from a window to the ground and called for his son-in-law to drop the others down to him. He waited in vain.

Within a few minutes after Primm had escaped, the floors of the house collapsed, trapping the four victims.

The origin of the fire is unknown.

Held in Fatal Crash After W. & J. Dance

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 2.—Chauncey T. Frazier, 24, former Washington and Jefferson college student, was held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter by a coroner's jury last night, as the sequel to a fatal automobile accident following a W. & J. frat dance November 1. Harold E. Minnick, 21, of New Bethlehem, Pa., was killed when Frazier's automobile crashed into a pole. Frazier has been in a hospital for weeks with injuries suffered in the accident.

GIRL GONE IN SCHOOL MYSTERY

LANCASTER, Pa., March 2.—(AP.)—Miss Geraldine Jessica Horn, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horn, 401 Seventy-sixth street, Brooklyn, disappeared from the fashionable Linden Hall Seminary at Lititz, near here.

This was revealed today in a communication between the school and Miss Agnes Herriterm, policewoman of this city. Mr. Horn is a wealthy Brooklyn merchant.

NO CLUE FOUND

Miss Horn disappeared from the school on February 18, and no word or trace of her has been uncovered in the intervening days.

The Rev. C. J. Stengel, principal of the finishing school, said he was completely baffled by the disappearance and could give no reason for the girl's action.

He said that she had been homesick and on February 16 sent a telegram to her parents. The telegram said: "You said I may come home; may I?"

He revealed that the girl had been extremely homesick and had repeatedly urged her parents to permit her to withdraw from the Lititz school and return to her Brooklyn home, attending a school in that city or New York.

SPOKE OF ILLNESS

On the day of the disappearance, Miss Horn was to have played in a school basketball game. She told one of her instructors that she did not feel well. The instructress suggested that she go to her room and rest before the game. The girl retired to her room and that was the last she was seen.

When she did not put in an appearance at the game, an instructress went to the girl's room and found that she had gone, taking all her personal possessions with her. She had borrowed $5 from a classmate and $2.50 from the school fund before disappearing.

REMOVED PENDING TAX CASE OUTCOME

Police Magistrate John W. Orie, convicted of evading income tax payments, was deposed today by Mayor Charles H. Kline.

On the heels of a protest by the Allegheny County Bar Association, the Mayor announced that Orie would not sit "until his case had been finally disposed of." The Mayor's action was a reversal of his previously expressed attitude on the case.

Orie was not on the bench at Central nor the "Strip" police stations this morning. Magistrate Leo Rothenberg, of Center Avenue Station, had been assigned to conduct the hearings.

NEW TRIAL DENIED

Orie had been serving since his conviction in Federal Court Monday until today. He was denied a new trial yesterday by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker and ordered to appear next Thursday for sentence.

"It always has been my policy not to judge a man on an indictment or accusation until he has had his day in court," said the Mayor.

"In view, however, of the Federal Court denying a new trial to Magistrate Orie, he will not sit until his case has been finally disposed of."

No reference was made by the Mayor in his announcement to yesterday's action of the bar association.

BAR FILES PROTEST

The bar association, of which the Mayor is a member, adopted a resolution calling on Kline to oust Orie, declaring:

"A police magistrate who stands convicted of an offense against the revenue laws of the United States should not continue to ex-

IRON ERECTORS' STRIKE DENIED

Not a rivet was pounded in the Pittsburgh district on construction work today or yesterday. Not a tap of work was being done by the bridge and structural iron workers. The Cathedral of Learning, the only big building under construction in the city, which has been resounding to the rat-a-tat-tat of the steel workers, is as silent as a tomb.

Members of the Building Trades Employers' Association said today that the iron workers walked out because their demands for $1 a day increase for journeymen and $2 a day increase for foremen were refused.

The union is to hold a special meeting this afternoon at its headquarters, No. 2 Marion street, to consider the terms offered them by the employers.

However, J. L. Milton, vice president of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers Union, Local No. 3, vehemently declared this morning that the iron workers were not on strike.

J. L. Kelly, secretary of the local, told newspapermen this morning to judge for themselves. He stated Thursday afternoon that the iron workers had gone on strike and that 500 men in this district were affected.

GANNA MEETS HUSBAND HERE

Ganna Walska, millionaire's wife, business women and operatic soloist, stepped from a train in the Pennsylvania Railroad Station today into the arms of her husband, Harold F. McCormick, the "Harvester King."

McCormick's presence dispelled any lingering suspicions from recent reports that the couple was contemplating divorce. The Chicago businessman made a hurried trip from his home to spend a few hours with his wife, who is scheduled to give a concert in the William Penn Hotel tonight under auspices of the Women's City Club.

Condition of Foch Termed Stationary

PARIS, March 2.—(AP.)—The condition of Marshal Foch remained "stationary" today, his doctors said at the conclusion of their consultation. It was said he had had another restful night and was given some solid food this morning in an effort to build up his strength. The patient's temperature was 100.4, and his pulse 84.

Fox Buys Loew Show Interest, Is Report

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP.)—It was reported in Wall Street today that the William Fox interests had purchased control of Loew's Inc., from the estate of Marcus Loew.

COOLIDGE SIGNS STIFF DRY ACT

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(INS.)—President Coolidge today signed the drastic Jones prohibition bill, thus making it a law.

Under its provisions, violations of the Volstead Act now become felonies and as such are punishable by prison sentences of five years and fines up to $10,000, applicable alike to first offenders or hardened old offenders.

Mere possession of liquor, however, does not come under the provision of the law. All other violations, such as manufacture, sale and transportation of liquor, do.

In signing the measure, which was strongly opposed by the wets in Congress as well as some drys who thought the provisions too drastic, President Coolidge allowed it to become known that he believes the real purpose of the bill has been largely misinterpreted.

RAINY INAUGURATION DAY LOOMS, CAPITAL IN GLOOM

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(INS.)—Gloom permeated the capital today when the Weather Bureau not only refused to predict fair weather for Monday's inaugural, but forecast rain for Monday morning.

The government prophet hesitated about saying whether there would be rain Monday afternoon, but unofficially it was stated that it would be "a close shave" for the great Hoover inaugural parade to get by without a wetting.

Plans were completed today for the parade which the capital will offer as its tribute to the incoming Executive. It promises to be a memorable spectacle, and one not approached since that which President Taft reviewed on that blizzardly March 4 in 1909.

For the first time in history there will be a monster parade in the air. Sixty airplanes, representing all branches of the nation's armed forces, the navy's giant leviathan of the air, the Los Angeles, and five army blimps, will compose the aerial fleet.

Twenty-seven governors with their staffs will have the places of honor in the civilian section.

Historic Pennsylvania avenue is putting on gala attire, stands are about finished, and the court of honor, extending from Fifteenth street to Seventeenth street, is decorated with evergreens, the national colors and flags. Stands fill in spaces on both sides of the avenue in front of the White House and Lafayette Park. The new president will review the parade from the glass encased stand directly in front of the White House.

DENY SEPARATION

MR. AND MRS. LOU GORDON

The Lou Gordons—he the mechanic on Amelia Earhart's "Friendship" flight over the Atlantic and she the former Anne Bruce, Boston—are moving into a larger New York apartment, which they set forth today as positive proof that the reports of a marital rift are false. They married since the "Friendship's" hop.

2 HOP FROM MEXICO CITY ON FLIGHT TO WASHINGTON

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—(AP.)—Joaquin Gonzalez Pacheco and C. E. McMillin took off from Valbuena flying field at 6:47 o'clock this morning (7:47 a. m., eastern standard time) on a non-stop flight from Mexico City to Washington.

The two airmen hoped to reach Bolling Field, Washington, early Sunday morning. The distance was estimated at 2,300 miles. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is now the only man who has flown without a stop between the two capitals.

Their flight represented an attempt to do what Capt. Emilio Carranza failed in last summer, he having been forced down in North Carolina just short of Washington. Their plane, a Stinson monoplane, is named for Capt. Carranza.

In the event of success in their venture it was believed the two aviators would take off shortly at Mt. Holly, N. J., where Capt. Carranza crashed and was killed on his attempted return, and try to make a nonstop return flight to Mexico City.

Pacheco is a wealthy young Mexican air enthusiast. McMillin, the pilot, has been flying for 13 years, of which six were spent in the United States Army. He was in the air mail service for four months and has done both army and navy test work.

The trip is entirely unofficial, a previous arrangement for the two to carry the greetings of President Portes Gil to Herbert Hoover, to be conveyed prior to the latter's inauguration, having been canceled.

CONGRESS NEARS CLOSE WITH MAJOR FIGHTS ENDED

GRAFT PROBE CASES OPEN MONDAY

Graft cases resulting from the county grand jury probe will have their days in court beginning Monday, with the Federal courts not in session and attorneys, defendants and witnesses free for the graft campaign on another front.

Stanley Orie, brother of Police Magistrate John Orie, will face trial Monday for selling liquor illegally and maintaining gambling devices. The same day Harry and Edward Paul will go on trial for maintaining gambling devices.

Police Lieut. John J. Lynch also is scheduled for trial Monday on charges of conspiracy and bribery. With him as co-defendants will be Patrolmen William Moore and Howard Rosensteel and J. J. Lyons and Martin Burke.

August Manfredo, henchman of Alderman John J. Verona, will be tried Monday on a lottery charge, along with John Robinson. Other lottery cases listed for that day are against Elmer Simmons, William Harris and Gaspary Posey, Merril Hawley, Jake Lerner and William A. Hawkins.

Indictments against 18 alleged liquor racketeers are listed for trial Monday. Pleas of guilty are expected in most of these cases.

Volstead Would Ban Home Brew Material

ST. PAUL, March 2.—(AP.)—Home brew, in the opinion of Andrew J. Volstead, is more poisonous and dangerous than moonshine. The father of the prohibition enforcement law, addressing a joint committee of the state legislature last night, urged favorable action on a bill to prohibit the manufacture, sale or possession of malt extracts flavored with hops and malt liquors known as unfermented wort. The committee took no action.

Davis Pays Tribute To Coolidge, Hoover

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP.)—James J. Davis, secretary of labor, is rounding out eight years of public service "with the man I believe to be the greatest public administrator that ever sat in the White House."

Speaking at the annual dinner of the St. David's Society last night, the Secretary added that he believed the incoming administration would continue to raise the standard of living.

ercise judicial functions as long as such conviction stands, even though application has been made for a new trial, or an appeal taken from such conviction."

Testimony at Orie's trial by government witnesses was to the effect that Orie had failed to make income tax returns on profits which government operatives testified he admitted were derived from operating a gambling house. He faces a maximum penalty of one year in prison, a $10,000 fine or both.

LIQUOR FOUND IN SCHOOL

BRIDGETON, N. J., March 2.—(AP.)—Stories of rum parties in hidden nooks of the Bridgeton High School building and of drinking by students between and after classes were under investigation today as a result of the alleged discovery of whisky and gin flasks in several of the students' locker rooms.

The bottles were said to have been found in both the boys' and the girls' locker rooms. Three found in the girls' room were empty, but some of those in the boys' rooms were partly filled.

The principal of the school and members of the faculty declined to state what action, if any, would be taken.

High School Class Elects at Dormont

Robert Lapham was selected president of the Senior B class of Dormont High School. This class will graduate in February of next year. Other successful candidates were Woods Stoner, vice president Jean Mingis, secretary, and Fred Stuckenberg, treasurer.

DAWES ABSENT IN COOLIDGE'S FAREWELLS

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(INS.)—When President Coolidge leaves his desk on the morning of March 4 it will be as "clean as a hound's tooth."

Calvin Coolidge, probably the most methodical president who has ever held the reins over the American people, came to his office early today, looked over his mail, read the newspapers and embarked on the final working day of his administration.

Numerous callers were on the list and one of the largest handshaking crowds that has appeared in some weeks engaged the President's attention during the morning hours. When he was not greeting officials who wanted to say goodby, the President was busily engaged in signing various state papers.

Tonight he and Mrs. Coolidge will entertain the members of his cabinet and their wives at dinner in the state dining room. On Sunday night, the President and Mrs. Coolidge will give a state dinner in honor of President-elect and Mrs. Hoover, Vice President-elect Curtis and his sister, Mrs. E. F. Gann. This will be the last social function before the Coolidges retire to private life.

There is a lot of tongue-wagging in Washington over the failure of Mr. Coolidge to include Vice President Dawes in either of these parting social functions.

Many of Gen. Dawes' friends interpret it as a parting mark of Mr. Coolidge's lack of cordiality for his vice president, which dates back to March 4 four years ago when Gen. Dawes made his slashing attack on the Senate rules and "ran away with the inaugural show."

Gen. Dawes' "blunder" in sleeping at a time when he could have broken a tie vote in the Senate and confirmed Charles B. Warren as Mr. Coolidge's attorney general did not add to the friendly feeling between the two men, nor did Gen. Dawes' refusal to sit in the Coolidge cabinet.

HYDE REAL FARMER

KANSAS CITY, March 2.—(AP.)—In naming former Gov. Arthur M. Hyde, of Missouri, to be Secretary of Agriculture, President-elect Hoover has assured his administration of the continued direction of the nation's agricultural affairs by a farmer-statesman.

Just as the retiring agriculture chief, William M. Jardine, of Kansas, had first-hand knowledge of the farmers' needs when he assumed the post, the incoming secretary of the department is familiar with the problems of the industry. He owns and operates three farms in Grundy County, Missouri. Like Jardine, too, Hyde is a businessman and administrator.

He is 51 years old and was born in Princeton, a little town in Mercer County, Mo.

MARRIED 66 YEARS

MR. AND MRS. ELIJAH N. HOUGH

When Hough married his wife he serenaded her with a fiddle, but today he does his serenading with a harmonica. They will celebrate their sixty-sixth anniversary at their home, 2769 Bergman street, Sheraden, Monday.

AT 89, MARRIED 66 YEARS, TELLS HOW TO LIVE HAPPILY

Don't both get angry at the same time. Work together and don't try to boss each other.

This is the philosophy of life of Elijah Newlin Hough, and his wife, Ella Elizabeth, parents of Mrs. Frank Dietrick, 2769 Bergman street, Sheraden, who will celebrate the 66th anniversary of their wedding Monday.

Hough, who is 89, attributes the success he has made of matrimony mainly to the fact that he has never had a serious argument with his wife during the 66 years of their living together. He is an ardent advocate of late marriages.

"In my opinion, boys should be 28 and girls 25 before they marry," he opined. "Such a plan would reduce the number of divorces and unhappy marriages, because it would give the young folks time to finish sowing their wild oats before they decide to settle down and take each other for better or for worse."

The Houghs were married at Port Royal, Pa., March 4, 1863. They have nine children, 18 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Music is his hobby. There was a time when he played the fiddle at many an old-fashioned dance. His latest preference for musical instruments is the harmonica. The tune he best likes to play is "Home, Sweet Home."

Pastor Under Bond As Drunken Driver

LONG BEACH, Cal., March 2.—(INS.)—The Rev. Thomas B. Morris, pastor of St. Matthew's Church, was held under $500 bond today on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. The minister was arrested after his car had collided with another machine. Mrs. Dan Daniels, passenger in the second car, was slightly injured.

Weather Conditions.

Low barometer is dominating the weather over most of the country. A ridge of relatively high pressure projects northward from the gulf over Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama to Kentucky. It is attended by clear skies, generally, and caused a slight drop in temperature over that section.

The disturbance that was centered over Wisconsin and Northern Illinois yesterday is now over Eastern Ontario and the gulf disturbance is over Virginia and North Carolina. They produced only light rains over their respective paths.

The Alberta disturbance is centered over North Dakota. This disturbance developed into a storm of unusual intensity. The lowest barometer is 29.06 inches, at Devils Lake. It covers the entire Plains and Rocky Mountain states section. There is considerable cloudiness throughout its area, but the precipitation was light. The temperatures are considerably above normal.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling rather slowly, due to continued light rains and melting snow in the mountains. Stage at Pittsburgh is 18.5 feet; Dam No. 2, 11.5; Dam No. 8, 10.1, and Dam No. 12, 22.5. There will be about 16.0 feet on the Pittsburgh gage Sunday morning.

MINER VANISHES, WIFE AND 3 CHILDREN IN WANT

Tyre, village of coal and iron police terror, grief and desolation, holds another family in misery and in want.

There lives a lonely little woman with her three children, from five months to five years, waiting—waiting for the husband who went down into the mines more than a week ago, disheartened and worried, and never came back.

She is Mrs. Mae Brooks, 32, a courageous little mother, frail and bent with drudgery. Her husband, John Louis Brooks, 29, Mrs. Brooks told social workers, has been missing since February 11.

"When they told me of finding his lunch pail hanging where he left it in the mine" she related a little wearily today, "I thought perhaps he might have been killed or hurt.

"My brothers and other miners searched for him high and low but could not find him. Terrible thoughts came to mind—perhaps someone had killed him and buried him in the mine.

"I realized then the worst—Louis had left us," was the story Mrs. Brooks told friends and neighbors.

There were no tears; no bitterness. This woman of the mines seemed to accept her fate philosophically. Already she plans for the future. Something must be done and done quickly.

Prosperity has been absent from the mines for these many months, and the Brooks family has felt want. When her husband left, Mrs. Brooks had barely enough to eat and to wear, and the children are about as badly off as they possibly would be.

"All I need is a job," she declared stoutly. "I worked before I was married and I can work again.

"I want a cook's job," she finished tersely.

Man Seriously Hurt In Fall Down Steps

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., March 2.—Joseph Mayer, president of the Mayer China Company, Beaver Falls, fell down the steps of his home, 1540 Third avenue, and sustained concussion of the brain and other injuries. He is reported in a serious condition.

Deserted by her husband, a miner at the Pittsburgh Coal Company Montour No. 9 mine, Mrs. Brooks and her three youngsters, aged 5 months to 5 years, face the future alone. Baby Pearl Louise is 5 months; Ellie, 2 years, and Anna Francis, 5. The mother wants a job as cook.

Senator Elopes To Escape Law He Supported

ADRIAN, Mich., March 2.—(AP.)—Consistency may be a jewel, but for State Senator Norman B. Horton, at least, it cannot do duty for a wedding ring.

Senator Horton voted four years ago for a bill compeling a five day interval between application for a marriage license and the wedding bells themselves.

It was announced yesterday that the Senator and Miss Klea Smith, of Adrian, eloped to an unnamed village a few miles across the state line in Ohio and were married there, where nuptial laws are less stringent. Senator Horton is 47 and his bride 21.

DA VINCI JURY DISAGREES

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP.)—Unable to decide whether the painting "La Belle Ferronniere," owned by Mrs. Andree Hahn, was the work of Leonardo Da Vinci or a copy, a Supreme Court jury that had been debating the question for 14 hours and 17 minutes reported a disagreement at 5:30 o'clock this morning and was released.

Mrs. Hahn sued Sir Joseph Duveen, British art expert, for $500,000, contending that he committed slander of title when in 1920 he said her painting was not a genuine Da Vinci. This statement, she alleged, prevented sale of the painting to the Kansas City Art Institute for $250,000.

The jury which for four weeks had been hearing testimony in the case returned several times for instruction. At 3:30 o'clock they reported inability to reach an agreement, but were asked by Justice Black to deliberate a while longer as the trial had cost the county more than $10,000.

James S. Bowdoin, foreman, said the ballots showed a vote of nine to three for Mrs. Hahn throughout the argument.

NOTES REVEAL BANDIT'S HATE OF 'GRINGOES'

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—(AP.)—Letters professing hatred of "Gringoes"—the Mexican term of derision for Americans—today offered an explanation of the slaying of J. M. Underwood and G. C. Aiesthorpe by Guanajuato bandits last week.

The letters were found on the body of Candilario Villegas, who with eight of his followers was killed yesterday. Federal troops had pursued them since the two Americans were kidnaped from their mining camp bunks last week.

One of the letters was addressed to a person in Trapuato, Guanajuato, and contained the announcement Villegas had "captured and executed two Gringoes." Another letter said, "The only means of ending our misfortunes is to strike against these accursed Gringoes."

The immediate cause of Villegas' downfall was described as treachery. One of his men captured in an encounter Thursday led Federal soldiers to his retreat.

Aiesthorpe and Underwood were kidnaped February 20, and killed apparently after a demand for $7,500 ransom money had been paid.

MEXICAN GUNS GUARD LINDY

he missed a large scale highway holdup by a very short time.

Maximiliano Vigueras, held responsible for those attacks, has since been captured and executed, but there have been reports that Benjamin Mendoza, who surrendered recently, was back in the field and operating in this district.

RANSOM WOULD BE SPEEDY

Motive for attack on Col. Lindbergh and the Morrows would be supplied in desire for ransom, which probably would be quickly paid in their cases, and enhanced prestige among other Mexican outlaw elements. On the other hand the certitude of quick reprisal by the government should be a deterrent. In view of personal popularity of Col. Lindbergh and the Morrows no physical harm to them would be expected.

Although sources close to the Morrow family have reiterated there is to be no secret wedding between Anne and Col. Lindbergh, a large contingent of newspaper men and photographers planned to follow the car carrying them as closely as the troop escort would permit.

It was said the couple desired only a week-end of solitude. However, between military guards who probably will not let any of the party out of their sight outside of the Morrow home during the visit and newspaper men who are guarding against possibility of a secret wedding they will not lack surveillance.

Lindy's Missing Plane Wheel Is Found

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—(AP.)—The newspaper La Prensa today said it had received advices locating the missing wheel which caused Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to upset in landing at the Valbuena flying field with his fiancee, Miss Anne Morrow.

The paper received letters from a village named Heuhuetoca, about 25 miles north of Mexico City, saying that the Colonel's missing wheel had been found in a field nearby. This was where the American airman and Miss Morrow landed for a picnic lunch. On taking off the wheel was lost, causing the plane to upset when the Colonel tried to land.

A local museum will be established with the wheel as sole exhibit.

CANAL SURVEY BILL PASSES

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A survey by War Department engineers of the proposed United States canal across Nicaragua was virtually assured last night. It now needs only the approval of President Coolidge to be authorized.

The House yesterday passed, with certain minor amendments, the Edge Senate resolution providing for such an investigation. The Senate last night concurred in the House amendments.

The second deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $150,000 for the expense of the survey, which had been deadlocked in conference, was agreed on late yesterday and the House last night approved the conference report. The Senate is yet to approve the conference report but is almost certain to do so today.

Thus only a last minute defeat of the deficiency bill can now defeat the canal survey.

Efforts of opponents of the resolution to have the measure returned to the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committees, with instructions to eliminate all references to the Nicaragua project and confine the survey to the needs for enlarging the Panama Canal, were defeated in the House.

As passed, the resolution directs the army engineers to investigate traffic facilities at the Panama Canal, looking to its expansion, as well as the proposed Nicaraguan Canal, its probable cost and route.

LIQUOR, RADIO MEASURES SETTLED

WASHINGTON, March 2.—(AP.)—Its principal worries over, as a result of last minute concessions and compromise on major legislation, the Seventieth Congress was almost ready to close its doors today and turn out to see the Hoover inaugural.

Of course much remained to be done, and the fall of the gavel on Monday threatens to kill many eleventh hour nominations and minor bills, but leaders were breathing easier for the first time in weeks after the Senate and House at the first twin night session of the winter reached an agreement on the controversial proposal for an increase in prohibition enforcement funds and broke the deadlock of the radio bill.

The first move toward relieving the clogged machinery was the compromise on the prohibition item. The amount finally agreed upon was $2,977,000, exclusive of an additional $250,000 for a survey of enforcement conditions by a commission to be appointed by President-elect Hoover. These funds were included in the two pending deficiency measures and the House last night gave approval of the conference report on one of these bills which carries more than $1,000,000 of the total.

After speaking more than six hours against the radio bill, Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, proposed an amendment to give the commission a new lease on life until December 31, 1929. The measure then was passed with the amendment and sent back to the House, which had passed a bill to extend the commission's tenure until March 16, 1930.

Airways Company Buys Bettis Field

Bettis Field has been sold to Aircraft and Airways of America, Inc., Pittsburgh, for $500,000 by H. C. Neel and S. J. Brendel. The deal was consummated yesterday. Brendel announced that the new owners would triple the size of the field and install new hangers, runways, administration offices and a building for Servair, Inc., a subsidiary of Aircraft and Airways, eastern distributor for the Wright Aeronautical Corporation.

Ingram Official's Wife Held in Raid

Mrs. Cora Thomas, wife of Street Commisssioner David Thomas, of Ingram Borough, was arrested on a charge of keeping gambling machines last night after constables from the office of Justice of the Peace George E. Bailey had raided her store in Berry street, Ingram.

Morris Somach, confectioner, of 3 Prospect avenue, Ingram, was arrested on the same charge. Both posted bond for hearings before Justice of the Peace Bailey.

Suspect in Holdup Caught After Fight

Attracted by cries of Carl Prough, 36, of Johnstown, who was attacked and robbed of $70 by two men at Washington street and Bedford avenue, last night, Patrolman Carl Lacher arrested Mickey Scarpino, 30, of 708 Wylie avenue. The patrolman subdued Scarpino after a struggle. Scarpino, suffering from a scalp laceration, was treated at Allegheny General Hospital and lodged in Central Police Station.

LANGLEY HIGH BAND GOES TO CAPITAL FOR INAUGURAL

The Langley High School boys band reached Washington today, to march in the inaugural parade. One of the proudest members of the band was Carl Weis, drummer. Weis was carrying a large, new base drum, the gift of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. The drum was presented to Weis at the student assembly in the school yesterday.

The drum, bearing the words, "Langley High School, Pittsburgh, Pa.," on one side and "Pittsburgh Promotes Progress," on the other, was presented to the band by H. H. Fris, of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. Fris was introduced by F. E. Fickinger, principal. Eight hundred students and teachers were at the assembly.

The Langley party numbered 60 and accompanying the boys were A. E. Cole, Langley vocational counselor, N. W. Rankin, director of the band and George Held, director of the school orchestra. They left here at 10:25 last night.

At the request of Will Earhart, director of music in the public schools, the band will play many melodies by Stephen Collins Foster, while in Washington. They also will call attention to the Foster Memorial Building project under way here.

Priest, Ex-Premier, First Vatican Envoy

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, March 2.—(AP.)—Father Anton Korosheta, former premier, has been confirmed as minister to the Vatican. The Pope had indicated that the choice was agreeable.

His nomination was of unusual interest, for he was not only the first man named to such a post since the reconciliation of the Holy See with Italy, but it was said to be the first time that any government has nominated a Roman Catholic prelate to represent it as a diplomatic envoy at the Vatican.

Ohio Valley Bank	14,189
Iron and Glass Dollar Savings Bank of Birmingham	24,922

The books designated must be presented before noon Saturday, March 9—a week from today.

Watch the Sunday Sun-Telegraph for more information of interest to savings bank depositors.

EVERYBODY knows that money begets money. It's an old and true proverb. It is just as true that it doesn't do any good just to think about it.

The man who gets ahead, who is in a position to seize opportunity by the forelock when it knocks at his door, is the man who works hard and saves hard.

He makes a deposit in his savings bank on pay day instead of waiting until the end of the week to deposit what money he has left over. He is the man who can boast that he has his first thousand dollars.

Remember how blue and disappointed you were last Summer when vacation time came and you didn't have money enough to take you anywhere worth while?

REMEMBER CHRISTMAS STRINGENCY?

Remember what hard sledding it was last Christmas to buy those gifts you had been thinking about for weeks and weeks? Now you know it wasn't any use just to think about them. You should have planned and saved for them.

Perhaps you have learned a lesson. Perhaps you are depositing something out of your salary every week in a savings account, or its equivalent, a Christmas Club or Vacation Club account at your neighborhood bank.

If you are doing that, you will know next Summer and next Christmas the glow of satisfaction that comes from the ability to have your pleasure and pay spot cash for it.

You will know the feeling of relief that comes from dancing without having to worry about the day when you must pay the piper.

SOME ORDINARY EMERGENCIES

Perhaps, if you are a girl clerk, stenographer, or secretary, you would like a new fur coat. It costs $250 or more.

Can you go right out and buy it now, when you want it? Or must you put it off until you have paid bothersome debts and bought a lot of other things you need?

Maybe you are thinking about your trousseau and hope chest, and all the pretty, dainty things that cost so much money, things which you simply must have.

You either can or cannot realize how much it will help to have a tidy sum in the bank, so that you may trot about the myriad shops that have just the lingerie, linen, hosiery, dresses and hats you want.

If you do not realize the importance of a bank account, you probably will be rushing around at the last minute, wishing you had been wise and far-seeing a long time ago.

If you do realize it, your bridal outfit will be all ready weeks before the wedding, and there will be nothing to mar your happiness in the last few days before you walk up the aisle.

SUN-TELEGRAPH MAKES 15 GIFTS

It is with these things in mind that the Sun-Telegraph, hoping to encourage thrift among its readers, has made outright gifts to the holders of the savings bank books whose numbers appear at the top of this column.

Yesterday the Sun-Telegraph deposited ten dollars to the accounts of each of ten other possessors of bank books. Today the Sun-Telegraph gives ten dollars apiece to five holders of savings bank books, and five dollars apiece to ten additional holders of bank books.

It means that $200 was given to twenty-five wise workers, just because they practiced the virtue of thrift. Perhaps if you had formed the saving habit, you would have been among them.

It is better to save now than to slave later. So stop slaving and striving. Start saving and thriving.

South Side Man Held in Robbery

Thomas McCann, 25, 801 Brownsville avenue, arrested by Patrolman G. Bowes at South Fourth and Bingham streets, on a charge of being a suspicious person, was held for court by Magistrate John J. Sweeney in South Side Police Court yesterday. It was testified that he robbed Bernard McGowan, 617 Carson street, of $55.

TAPLIN TRUNK LINE WINS SUPPORT

Plans of the Taplin interests to create a railroad trunk line from the Great Lakes to Baltimore, tapping the Pittsburgh district, in opposition to the plans of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and of the Van Swearingen brothers, had received support from two quarters today.

The Business Protective Association of Baltimore has filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition opposing the inclusion of the Western Maryland Railroad in the Baltimore and Ohio modification. The petition pointed out that the Pittsburgh and West Virginia, a Taplin road, already has asked for permission to take over the Western Maryland. The Taplin road now is building a line from Cochran's Mills to Connellsville, to connect with the Western Maryland and give it egress to tidewater.

COMPETITION DESIRED

The association, comprising business men operating in Maryland, West Virginia and Pittsburgh, contends that a route such as the Taplins propose is necessary. It pointed out, also, that the association has initiated action against the Baltimore and Ohio for acquiring control of the Western Maryland without the commission's consent, in alleged violation of the Clayton act.

The association contended that another Great Lakes-to-the-Sea route must be a competitive line to be of value, and insisted that control of the Western Maryland by the Baltimore and Ohio would result only in suppression of competition.

B. & O. PLANS ATTACKED

The Baltimore and Ohio's plans for consolidating its position in the Middle West were attacked by the Southern Railway Company and the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company. They asked that the commission dismiss the Baltimore and Ohio's request for permission to acquire the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville Railroad.

The two roads declared that they jointly hold control of the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville, and are unwilling to give it up, because it is their only connection with the Great Lakes region.

BANKER GETS PRISON TERM

Caesare Augusto Paolini, former assistant manager of the M. Berardini Bank, Sixth avenue, was fined $2,000 and sentenced to a year and a half in the workhouse by visiting Judge O. Claire Kent, of Crawford County, in Criminal Court yesterday. The court fixed $10,000 bail pending an appeal to the Superior Court.

Paolini was found guilty October 25 of making false entries. Arguments for a new trial, made December 12, were overruled.

AIRMEN INVITED TO DANCE

Aviators of national prominence are expected to attend the seventh annual ball of the Aero Club of Pittsburgh, March 15, in the William Penn Hotel, according to Raymond M. Marlier, chairman of the ball committee. Among those invited are Amelia Earhart, Clarence Chamberlain, Capts. William S. Brock, George F. Schlee and George Haldeman, Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover and William P. McCracken, Jr., assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics.

Col. Harry C. Fry, Jr., made the first purchase in connection with the aircraft show to be opened in Motor Square Garden March 9 when he purchased a glider from a shipment of three that had arrived for the exhibition.

The Lancaster Association of Pittsburgh, composed of former residents of Lancaster County, Pa., will hold its annual banquet Friday night in Webster Hall at 6:30 o'clock. Notices were sent out by George M. Swan, secretary of the association.

2 ERIE LIQUOR PLANTS SEIZED

A wildcat brewery and an alcohol distillery in Erie were seized by Federal prohibition agents, according to their reports yesterday. The brewery plant, in Brewster street, valued at $3,000 and the distillery, in West Eighteenth street, worth $4,000, were confiscated. Five raids were made in Pittsburgh.

Robert McClain, 55, of 2125 Penn avenue, was arrested after he is alleged to have entered a clubhouse at that address with eight pints of whisky, while a raid was being conducted. Another club at 1721 Mulberry way, yielded the raiders large quantities of wine, homebrew and whisky, they reported. William Woods, 46, was arrested.

A 150-gallon still found in the home of A. J. Globaker, 34, of 2845 Mt. Troy road, Reserve Township, led to his arrest, the agents said. Other persons reported arrested in raids follow: Tony Andolina, at 622 Braddock avenue; Patsy Deramo, at 22 Harlem street, Stowe Township and Chester A. Johnston, at 4210 Penn avenue.

GIRL RECOVERS FROM POISON

Mrs. Betty Dear, 18, of 1122 Fredonia street, was reported by Allegheny General Hospital physicians to be recovering today from the effects of poison which police say she took Thursday night amid a downtown theater crowd after she had seen her "boy friend" with another woman.

From her cot Mrs. Dear reported that she was recovering also from her infatuation for Jerry Howarth, 19, of Mifflin street, the "boy friend." The "other woman," hospital authorities said, visited Mrs. Dear yesterday. After a consultation Mrs. Dear announced they both had decided "not to be like that."

Gift to Foster Fund Made from Mid-Ocean

A donation to the Stephen C. Foster memorial fund was made by Edgar J. Kaufmann by radio Thursday while he was aboard the liner Olympic in mid-ocean, it was announced yesterday at a meeting of the executive committee of the fund. A pledge of $5,000 by the choral group of the Tuesday Musical Club, the organization which originated the plan of a Foster memorial, also was announced.

Swindlers Gets $850 With Empty Envelope

McKeesport police today were seeking two Negroes who robbed Sam Blunt, Negro coal miner, of Scott Haven, of $850 yesterday a few minutes after he had drawn it from a bank to purchase real estate. Blunt told police two men saw him counting the money and offered to put it in an envelope for him. He agreed and later found they had kept the money and put worthless paper in the envelope.

ESCAPE TUNNEL FOUND UNDER SING SING

OSSINING, N. Y., March 2.—(AP.)—Sing Sing prison officials discovered a tunnel four feet square and 40 feet long yesterday, which had been dug from a steam pipe conduit, connecting the prison bath house and mess hall, to within five feet of the outer wall.

The tunnel passed under the motor highway inside the prison walls and was well braced and shored. Where the prisoners who dug the tunnel obtained the lumber to brace the walls and how they carried out and disposed of the estimated 640 cubic feet of dirt was a mystery to prison officials. They estimated that the men had been at work on the tunnel for months.

The tunnel extended from the dead end of a steam pipe conduit, which runs into a vegetable cellar under the mess hall to within five feet of the wall. The only entrance to the conduit is through a barred gate in the vegetable cellar. No prisoners have access to the cellar and officials said they had to pick other locks or make keys for them even to reach their base of operations. A broken lock on the conduit gate led to the discovery of the tunnel.

Old officials around the prison said the scheme was the same as that used by George Carter in 1893, who escaped from the prison through a tunnel. He dug a tunnel and hid in it for several days escaping after the search had quieted down. His tunnel was discovered when a horse and heavily loaded wagon broke through its roof.

SAND CONTRACT HELD UP

Reconsideration of the award of a contract for sand for the County Public Works Department was ordered yesterday by county commissioners on the complaint of D. J. Jones, representing the Ellwood Stone Company, that his concern was the low bidder.

The sand contract, covering a year's supply, had been divided into five units and had been awarded to a company submitting a low bid on the total. Mr. Jones told the commissioners that his company had bid only on one unit, that for the Stoops Ferry Station, and that the bid was the lowest for that job.

The commissioners agreed that the contract called for a separate bid for each separate unit and that inasmuch as the Ellwood company's bid was the lowest on the Stoops Ferry work, the contract award should be reconsidered.

CONVICTED IN RUM PLOT, FIVE TO ASK NEW TRIALS

New trials will be asked for the Meyers brothers, "Mickey," Gus, Sam and Joe, and Jimmy Swift, convicted of conspiracy in connection with the alleged widespread traffic in booze on the South Side. The motions will defer disposition of the defendants.

Conviction of the five alleged concessionaires yesterday in United States Court brought to an end the trial of the second large group indicted after the Federal grand jury probe into organized and protected defiance of the prohibition law which the government charged existed in various sections of the city and county.

All prominent defendants were cleared by the action of Judge Nelson McVicar or by the verdict, which was reached after 21 hours' deliberation. The jury acquitted Police Inspector John J. McArdle and his brother, Patrick McArdle, the only two other defendants whose guilt or innocence was given to the jury for determination.

The verdict also embraced a finding of acquittal of nine defendants, including Police Magistrate John J. Sweeney, Francis Kirley, Sixteenth Ward Republican chairman and Police Lieuts. John Joyce and John M. Vandall, by direction of the court, because of insufficient evidence. The 35 defendants indicted last June as South Side conspirators dwindled to the 16 on trial, the chief reduction coming Monday, when the trial started upon the motion of the prosecution to dismiss the cases of 11 defendants, due to lack of evidence to establish the charges against them.

Two defendants, George Altmeyer and Cyril K. Schleicher, changed their plea to no defense before the trial opened. Two others, J. N. Maisey and Edward L. Smith, have not been apprehended. Other defendants not disposed of are Police Lieut. James Rogan, Peter J. McGann and William Parchman, who were reported ill and Police Lieut. James B. Early, indicted as John Early.

The bail of $5,000 for the Meyers brothers and Swift was continued pending disposition of the motion for new trials. "Mickey" Meyers is serving a sentence of three months in the county jail for income tax evasion.

WEDGEWOOD VASE ADDED TO COLLECTION AT PITT

One of the world's greatest collections of glassware has been enriched by a Portland vase, most famous of all glass pieces, designed from the 1900-year-old original by the greatest of all glass makers, Josiah Wedgewood.

And the collector of these pieces, Dr. Alex Silverman, head of the chemistry department of the University of Pittsburgh, has given it to his school.

Dug from the sub-strata, in a sepulchre near Rome several hundred years ago, fame of the Portland vase spread throughout the world. Carved on glass were beautiful figures, symbolical of life and death—the like of which the world had never before seen. From the original in the British Museum, Wedgewood made three copies, and it is one of these, purchased by Silverman when he was in Europe during the summer, that arrived in Pittsburgh several days ago.

Since he was a boy, Dr. Silverman who also specialized in the chemistry of glass, has gathered bits from nearly every country of the world.

The radiance of the rainbow hues are in many. Unbelievable colors, some secured by means of precious metals, others by heat treatment and secrets long dead, make many of the pieces distinctive.

Dr. Silverman intends to give the entire collection to his university at his death.

RUBY KEELER, JOLSON'S WIFE, LEAVES HOLLYWOOD FOR ZIEGFELD SHOW

HOLLYWOOD, March 4.

AL JOLSON tells the "gag" about the producer who always entertained with funny stories. At least he figured them funny and wise employes always laughed. Came a day, however, when the producer spilled a yarn and one man in the crowd failed to laugh. "Don't you think it's funny?" asked the producer. "No I don't," retorted the serious-faced one, "I'm quitting Saturday."

Speaking of Al, his wife, Ruby Keeler, is en route to New York at this paragraphing. Purpose: To start rehearsals in Ziegfeld's "Show Girl." She may return West ere its opening. As for Al, he begins "Little Pal" Pronto. Al saw Ruby off on the Chief and the two of 'em promenaded up and down with Al cautioning Ruby not to talk to any good-looking men on the train.

Marion, Dorothy Exchange Letters

WHY MARION DAVIES!

The following epistle, which completely floored me, arrived this noon from Marion Davies:

"My Dear Miss Herzog:

"Your story regarding the chauffeur mistaking my singing for a cry for help is a bit vicious. The trouble with you columnists is that you take advantage of your position. I never claimed to be a singer, but you have claimed to be a writer. Some people may differ with that opinion. I wouldn't be so unkind as to say that I do, but you can draw your own conclusion.

"MARION DAVIES."

Which, of course, deserves immediate answer:

"My Dear Miss Davies:

"I never have claimed to be a writer, but you have claimed to be an actress. Some people might differ with that opinion. I wouldn't be so unkind as to say I do, but you can draw your own conclusion.

"DOROTHY HERZOG."

Sophie Tucker rises to moan she went to Palm Springs for a rest. Palm Springs is a desert resort. "For days I looked for camels hoofing across the sands," laments Sophie. "I left mad when I never saw a single one!" Oh, Sophie, why didn't you go into a cigar store?

Espied Miss Tucker 'tother afternoon dashing into a shoe store to purchase umpty ump slippers. Seems Sophie wore out her assortment of soles making "Honky Tonk" for the Messrs. Warners. She needs a new leather wardrobe for her San Francisco vaudvil jaunt. March 16 sees the Hollywood return of this fem. The Victor Company is sending out special recording apparatus for her to make spring records—something a bit unheard of. Another week vaudvilling in Los Angeles and Sophie expects to begin work in her second outloud. Talk about pep and spice. You can spill it, Sophie Tucker.

Lois and Mother Open New Store

LOIS MORAN and her mother are financially interested in a sports shop just opened on Wilshire boulevard. The Morans cleaned up quite a bit of do-re-me in shrewd stock and real estate deals. Being one reason for the shop. Another. It'll pay its way. MR. and MRS. VICTOR VARCONI depart in a few days for London, via New York. Vic will make a flicker in John Bulls' territory, returning to the U. S. A. about June 1. They are keeping their Hollywood home . . . RICHARD BARTHELMESS and his better half are expected home Monday from a hey hey trek to Mexico City. . . Chancing to pass HAROLD LLOYD'S sumptuous estate in Beverly Hills, I espied that worthy and his leading fem making scenes beside the brook and bridge in his front yard. 'Twas on the up and up. A camera clicked. Harold had looked for just such a spot for days, ere thinking of the mansion. Hear tell the lad is going in for romance in his initial outloud. The canoe course, which will be used in the flicker, runs 800 feet through his gorgeous estate . . . AGNES CHRISTINE JOHNSON'S one act play, "The Old Maid's Baby," being presented with success by the Santa Monica Community Theater Guild at the Uplifter's Club. Zasu Pitts played the old maid, with Virginia Sales (Chic's sister) the hired help. Sarah Y. Mason, scenarist for "Broadway Melody," and Victor Hermann; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Borzage; Camilla Horn, Ann Rork, Forrest Halsey, and other flickerites glimpsed in the audience. EDDIE FOY, appearing here in voodvill, slipped away after last night's show to visit Bessie Love. Romance? No can say. An unknown Chinaman, by the by, mailed Eddie a check for five dollars. Not knowing for what or why, Eddie mailed it right back! . . . And—that's all.

Harold Lloyd.

FROM STAGE :-: MORE MOVIE ROMANCE :-: A COMPARISON

Helen Twelvetrees, ingenue, is among the many legitimate stage players who have made the trek to Hollywood and the movies since the advent of the talkies.

Gary Cooper and Lupe Velez found that their romantic roles in "Wolf Song" led to a real life romance and an engagement. However, they won't marry for a long time, they say.

Mary Brian takes time between camera scenes to explain that watches like skirts are suffering with extreme shrinkage in these modern days.

Organ Selections In Heinroth Lecture

Tonight, instead of the usual recital program, Dr. Charles Heinroth will deliver the third of a series of six lectures in the Carnegie Music Hall. The subject will be "The Hand of History in Music." The following compositions will be used to illustrate the lecture:

Chorale Prelude, Bach; Ballet of th Blessed Spirits, Gluck; Allegrio Con Brio, from Eroica Symphony, Beethoven, and Prelude and Love Death from "Tristan and Isolde," Wagner.

The organ recital program for tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock follows:

Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro," Mozart; Impromptu, Dethier; "L'Arlesienne" Suite, No. 2, Bizet; Adagio, from Moonlight Sonata, Beethoven; Sonata in D Minor, No. 6, Mendenssohn; Cantilena in A Minor, Grison, and Torchlight Dance in B Flat, No. 1, Meyerbeer.

Victim Badly Beaten By Thugs in Holdup

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., March 2.—Frank Herman, Brownsville, was slugged and robbed of $40, by two men who attacked him from the rear here early today. He was badly beaten. Officers sent him to a hospital.

STAGE, SCREEN PROVIDE VARIETY

Dorothy Gish, in "Young Love," a farce by Samson Raphaelson, will be presented in the Pitt for one week beginning next Monday night, with matinees Thursday and Saturday. In it Miss Gish returns to the stage for the first time since she was eight years old. The cast features Tom Douglas, Catherine Willard and Murray Kinnell.

Fritz Leiber, who comes to the Nixon next week in a repertoire of the plays of Shakespeare, is producing the plays in a manner in which the scenes follow each other quickly without long waits. For the opening performance "Hamlet" will be the offering, to be followed by "The Taming of the Shrew," in modern dress, "Macbeth," "Romeo and Juliet" and "Julius Caesar."

The fastest skating dance act is said to be presented by Mulroy, McNeese and Ridge, who are scheduled to appear in the Davis next week as part of the vaudeville bill.

"SCANDALS" IN ALVIN

George White's Scandals comes to the Alvin for an engagement of one week opening Monday night, with a cast headed by Ann Pennington, Willie and Eugene Howard, Tom Patricola and Frances Williams.

The production is in two acts with 23 scenes.

H. B. Warner and Robert Edeson, who have important roles in "The Doctor's Secret," in the Penn next week, began their motion picture careers together 14 years ago. Teddy Joyce will head the stage bill.

Jackie Coogan dances, recites and tells of his motion picture experiences in the act which he will present in person on the Stanley stage next week. The Stanley's photoplay will be Jean Hersholt in a talkie, "The Younger Generation."

Echoes of great names that have come down in the history of the West are revived in "Tide of Empire," Peter B. Kyne's vivid romance of the California gold rush, which is next week's screen feature in Loew's Aldine. Renee Adoree heads the large cast.

FILM IS HELD OVER

"Weary River," new Richard Barthelmess feature, made by First National, and now showing in the Grand, where it will be held for another week, was directed by Frank Lloyd, who made "The Sea Hawk" and "The Divine Lady." Betty Compson plays the feminine lead.

Harry Clexx is the comedian of "Ginger Girls," Mutual burlesque, which opens in the Academy with a midnight show Sunday night.

Stage vaudeville in the Harris next week includes Ted and Al Waldman, who will stage a harmonica contest. On the screen will be seen and heard "The Rainbow," with Dorothy Sebastian and Lawrence Grey, and "Silks and Saddles," starring Marion Nixon.

EAST LIBERTY BILLS

"Children of the Ritz," a First National-Vitaphone production, with music and sound effects, open in the Enright today, features Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall.

Baclanova, Russian actress, and Paul Lukas, suave villain of the screen, support George Bancroft in "The Wolf of Wall Street," opening in the Regent today.

Zimmy, who swims without legs and is known as a legless wonder is to be one of the attractions in the Sheridan Square next week. The two screen features are "The Last Warning," with Laura LaPlante, and "Silks and Saddles" featuring Marion Nixon.

To Play Here

Dorothy Gish will be seen in the Pitt next week, beginning Monday, in "Young Love," heralded as a sophisticated comedy of love.

Sharp Stock To Reopen April 1

The George Sharp Players will open their regular summer season of stock in the Pitt Easter Monday, April 1. The play selected for the first week of the engagement is "This Thing Called Love," which ran seven months in New York.

Mr. Sharp has engaged Kenneth Daigneau as leading man; Gus A. Forbes, character man, who is very popular with the Pittsburgh public; Mabel Kroman, who has been with the George Sharp Company here for three seasons; Johnnie Moore, Robert E. Lawrence, Robert Fiske, Alice Anne Baker, character woman; Carlton Young and B. W. Nichols.

Mr. Sharp is planning to have Madge Kennedy or Violet Hemming for leading woman. He will know definitely in a day or two whether it will be Miss Kennedy or Miss Hemming.

COUNTY DELAYS BUILDING BID

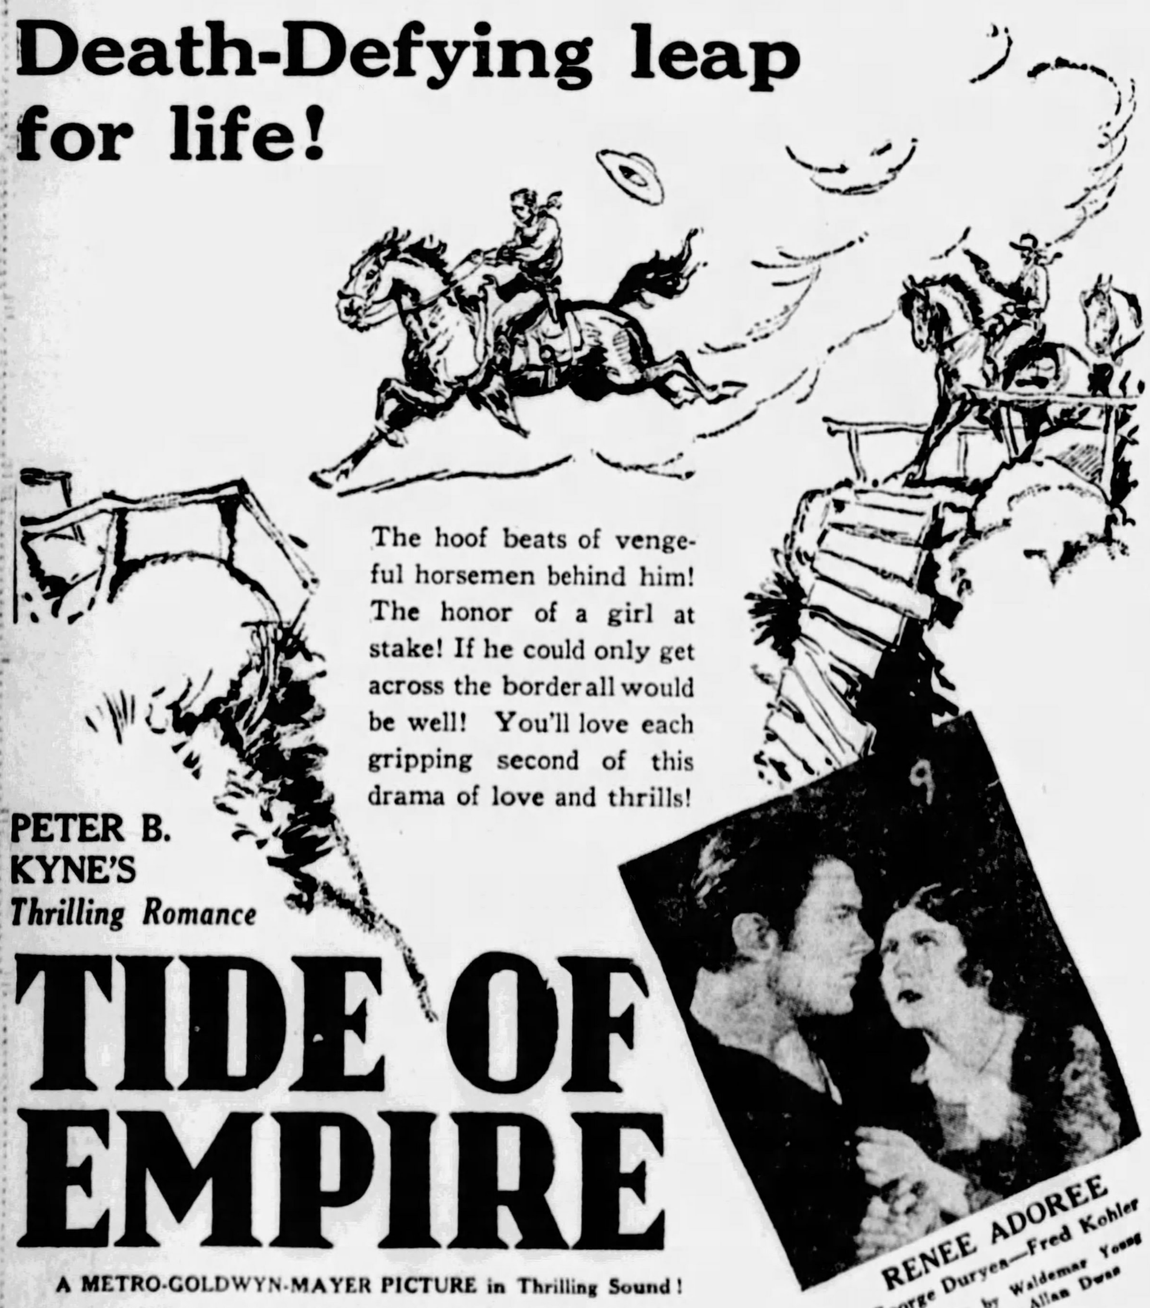
Awarding of the contract for the new county office building was delayed yesterday by the board of county commissioners owing to Commissioner C. C. McGovern's absence from the city.

The S. M. Siesel Company has submitted low bid for the work, $2,493,750. Mr. Siesel, appearing before the commissioners, informed them that although the headquarters of his company is in Milwaukee, he is a native of Pittsburgh and has maintained offices here since 1920.

Mme. Ganna Walska Sings Here Tonight

Mme. Ganna Walska (Mrs. Harold F. McCormick), opera singer, will appear at a concert, under the auspices of the Woman's City Club this evening in the ball room of the William Penn Hotel.

Death-Defying leap for life!



The hoof beats of vengeful horsemen behind him! The honor of a girl at stake! If he could only get across the border all would be well! You'll love each gripping second of this drama of love and thrills!

KDKA TO ATTEMPT COMMUNICATION WITH BYRD AGAIN

BORAH AND DAMROSCH HEAD RADIO PROGRAMS

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Radio Editor.

TONIGHT KDKA will again attempt to establish a two-way communication with Commander Byrd's expedition similar to the great achievement of last Saturday night, when millions of fans in all parts of the world heard direct conversation with the most distant points of earth.

It will be the first of a series of Antarctic broadcasts to be given every other Saturday night, G. Dare Fleck, program director, told the Sun-Telegraph. Due to the fact that the long Antarctic winter's night will soon fall upon the Byrd camp, the broadcasts sent out during the coming season will be far more important to the members of the expedition than those of the past season.

Mr. Fleck will be at the microphone at 11 p. m. when H. W. Irving, short wave operator, starts searching for Byrd—11,000 miles away—from the transmitting and receiving station on Murphy's Farm near Wilkinsburg.

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, will bring to the people the importance of Inauguration Day when he speaks over the Columbia System at 10 p. m. He will be heard in Pittsburgh through WJAS.

A program of a different type will be offered by WCAE at 5:30 when William Silk, violinist and Louis Defonso, piano-accordion, present a half hour's entertainment.

Hans Barth, pianist, will appear with the Gold Spot Pals, KDKA at 6:30.

Del Staigers, cornetist, will play "Princess Alice" on the Purol Band Concert at 8 p. m., through KDKA. Walter Damrosch himself will lead the Damrosch Symphony at 9 o'clock in the regular Saturday evening concert through WCAE.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel, made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

DR. JONES GIVES FAREWELL SERMON

The Rev. Dr. E. Stanley Jones, author and missionary, preached his final sermon in the interdenominational series in Trinity Cathedral last night and the largest congregation that ever crowded that historic edifice heard Dr. Jones give his farewell message on the eve of his return to his mission fields in India. The Rev. Dr. W. I. Wishart, chairman of the Pittsburgh interdenominational committee, presided and expressed regret that the evangelist could not be prevailed upon to remain longer in Pittsburgh. At the close of the services, Dr. Jones left for Columbus, O., from where he will leave for the Pacific Coast.

Commenting on the interest manifested in Dr. Jones' sermon and addresses, the Rev. Dr. Percy G. Kammerer, dean of Trinity, said:

"Such a phenomenon is illuminating as evidence of the religious attitude of a cross-section of the American public. There can be no doubt in our minds that men and women do not attend services of this kind without the conviction that they are being helped and carried forward. This is what they will seek when the opportunity presents itself. The vast congregation was led each evening by a representative of a different faith. Unfamiliar practices showed how much at home our brothers were. We of the cathedral are particularly happy at the way in which ministers of other communions made use of our church."

"Pilate's Question" To Be Sermon Topic

"Pilate's Question, the Question of the Ages, or What Shall I Do With Jesus, Who Is Called Christ?" will be the Rev. Homer C. Renton's subject tomorrow morning at the Oakland Methodist Episcopal Church, Forbes and Boquet streets. At 7:45 p. m. he will preach on "Modern Rejectors of Christ—Who Are They?"

Nevada Millionaire's Aid Sought in Kidnaping Of Felicia's Son

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Dick Stuyvesant and Felicia Brett, both in Reno for divorce, meet and fall in love with each other. Dick is staying at the hotel with an old friend, John Berkeley. Felicia is visiting at the home of Dr. Tom Hodge, his wife Ann, and their lively daughter, Peg. Felicia receives a wire from her mother, Mrs. Henley-Martin, saying that Brett is on his way to Reno. She goes East by airplane, gets her 6-year-old son, Alex, and returns to the Hodges just as her husband arrives. Felicia refuses to go back to him. He learns that she is going about with Dick and has her shadowed by detectives. He also engaged two men to kidnap little Alex. Dick and Felicia, returning to the Hodges from a party, find Tom and Ann bound and gagged and the child's crib empty. On a stretch of narrow mountain road about 17 miles out of Reno, the kidnapers' car is stopped by a large boulder which has slid down the mountain side and blocks the way. With the only rope they have, a short halter lead, they bind the now wakeful and frightened child and leave him on a ledge, with a dirty handkerchief tied over his mouth. As the sun gets higher, a rattlesnake crawls out from the broken rocks.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XII.

WITH the dawn, Felicia had become ominously calm, and Dick, watching her while they listened to Ann's story of the kidnaping, wished that she would return to her hysteria. Her face was drained of color; against its transparent pallor her eyes were dark like holes.

Dr. Tom was talking to two plainclothes men in the living room below; Peg was getting J. B. on the telephone.

"We'd better get hold of Alex first," It was Felicia's voice, devoid of all expression. She sat, still clutching the little pillow, still in her dance frock of green chiffon.

Mr. Brett, the hotel clerk told them, had checked out the evening before. No, he had left no forwarding address, but the clerk understood he was returning to the East.

Felicia received that news without comment.

J. B. arrived, subdued into amazing sobriety. There seemed nothing to do, yet they had to do something. Dick went out with J. B., to venture below the line, into Reno's "wide-open" quarters, to see if there they could trace the kidnapers.

"Darling, won't you sit down? Won't you—" Ann Hodge looked at Felicia sympathetically.

She shook her head.

Dr. Tom came in, the bruise on his cheek grotesquely brilliant with mercurochrome. "Better drink some coffee, Felicia—Peg's getting it ready."

Felicia only looked at him—with eyes that seemed blind.

It was a bright morning, golden sunlight poured warmly through the windows. Somewhere, in the mounting heat of this summer day, little Alex, in pajamas and bare feet, was crying for her . . .

A child shouted outside and Felicia screamed. Relief brightened Ann's face as the girl gave way to hysteria. Like a nurse attending a helpless baby, she undressed her and tucked her into bed.

What could they do? What was there to do?

Dick and J. B. returned, and Felicia seized a dressing gown and hurried down the stairs, her eyes beseeching them for news.

Dick shook his head.

"Look here, doctor," J. B addressed Tom Hodge suddenly. "Could Mr. Nevada help? Would he?"

Dr. Tom nodded. "God knows, if anyone can do anything he can." But there was little hope in his grave face. "You can't get him by telephone, so there's no use trying. Take Dick's car and run down there." And then, as if to himself, as J. B. hurried out, "His millions against Brett's, and back of it all—divorce . . . and the one person hurt—the boy."

Dick was sitting beside Felicia on the couch, his arm about her; looking straight ahead. She did not seem conscious that he even existed.

Mr. Nevada, the doctor told Dick, was the most powerful man in the state. He had a real name, but few people bothered to use it. Politician, financier, businessman, he was Nevada's wealthiest and most distinguished citizen. He owned most of the resorts, controlled a lion's share of the mines, knew everyone, in every rank of life. And he would be able to work through channels unknown even to the police.

"If only he'll do it!" Peg sighed.

Felicia looked at her with dulled eyes, and Dick, stroking her cold hand, realized for the first time the intensity of a woman's love for her child.

He had never hated Brett. He had even been a little sorry for him. But now he felt that there was nothing in life he would like so much as to sink his fingers into that flabby throat and press until the disdainful face grew black, the cruel eyes bulged.

With no proof, no clue of any sort, yet there was no doubt in anyone's mind that Brett was the instigator of this horfor:

The telephone bell jangled. It was J. B.

"Mr. Nevada's at Carson City. I'm driving there. I'll call again as soon as I get in touch with him."

The door bell. Two more plainclothesmen — there are no uniformed police in Reno—and a state policeman.

They questioned Felicia—had Brett ever threatened to take the child?

Like an automaton, she answered them, while across the mountainside, where little Alex lay an old man with streaming white hair, picked his way slowly to Virginia City.

Ragged and dirty though he was, intelligence gleamed in his clear eyes. Through the blurr of his white beard, his mouth was sensitive, well formed.

He was a Desert Rat, one of the dozens of half-mad or merely broken-hearted denizens of the barren spaces. His shoes were worn through although the pockets of his sagging coat bulged with several thousand dollars worth of precious and semi-precious stones picked up in the wastes.

A faint sound arrested him. His eyes strained ahead. Then, with amazing swiftness, he darted forward. There was a swish, a thud, as his heavy stick struck squarely upon the head of the sidewinder shifting to strike.

The Desert Rat had seen many strange things between the dawns and sunsets that had tolled the passing of his life, yet there was wonder in his face as he lifted the child in his arms and unbound the handkerchief that stilled the trembling lips. He did not see many children and he gazed upon this boy as though he were a curiosity.

"Where did you come from?" he asked.

Little Alex sobbed out his terror against the thin shoulder. Whoever this strange creature might be, his voice was gentle and his hands were kind.

Interrupted by gulps and choked sobbing, the child told his story as best he could.

"And what's your name, Sonny?"

"Alex."

"Alex? Alex what? What's your daddy's name?"

"My father's Alexander Brett."

With a sudden relaxation of his sinewy arms the Rat let Alex slide none too gently to the ground. A look of hatred distorted the sun-browned features.

"Good God, it can't be!" he muttered. "This boy's too young! Alexander Brett must be 70!"

The child whimpered, then was silent. The sound of a falling stone clattered ominously close.

A dark face appeared over the ledge of rock and the Desert Rat looked up into the glittering muzzle of an automatic.

Follow the thrilling fight for Felicia's son in "Reno" in this newspaper Monday.

I WONDER WHO EVER THOUGHT OF TAKING TEN BOOKS TO A DESERT ISLAND ?
IM SURE I DONT KNOW!
TERRIBLY SILLY IDEA ISN'T IT ?
YES! VERY!
I THINK IT WOULD BE MORE ROMANTIC TO TAKE YOUR FAVORITE MAN TO TEN DESERT ISLANDS!
DID YOU KNOW THAT YOUR HAIR HAD A FASCINATING WAY OF CURLING ROUND YOUR EARS ?
NO!

"Well, my dear, I was ACtually all-of-a-TWIT, no less, because THERE I WAS a perfectly LONE and unproTECted FEmale suddenly east aWAY on this cute desert ISland effect with BASil and his BOOKS, like I'd SUDdenly stepped FORTH from their pages as his FAV'rite CHARacter or something—can you COPE with it? HONestly, I was as NERVous as a BEE with the measles because I realized any MINute he might forGET himself and wax priMORdial or something and I ACtually couldn't WAIT, but my NATural hauTEUR and whatnot must have disCOURaged him or something, my dear, because he was a PERfect GENtleman the entire TIME and we just sat HEAVily discussing about what a riDIC idea it was for people to think about taking their TEN favorite BOOKS to a desert ISland and all, and I made the COY remark that I thought it would be HEAPS more romantic to take your favorite MAN to TEN desert ISlands whereupon I HONestly thought BASil would SWOON with emBARrassment, my dear, because he was THAT NERVous! Channing Escapes Death; Election Triumph for Law and Order

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

In one of America's largest cities graft and corruption are rampant with bootleg kings and gangsters holding vast power over the lives and welfare of the citizens. Gene Channing, a young crusader, is propelled into the political spotlight by his expose of inside secrets of the ring led by Nick (Gashface) Bruzzi. Molly Bain, a daughter of the West and Nick's sweetheart, has been Channing's informant, taking revenge for Nick's unfaithfulness. The gang leader, discovering Molly's treachery, sets a trap involving Channing's assassination. Frustrated in this attempt, Nick forces Molly to shoot Channing herself as part of an elaborate plot. Being in his confidence Molly enters Channing's home and fires point-blank as a bomb rocks the building.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VI.

ON the morning of Election Day comparatively few people in the "Big Burg" rose early enough to tune in on the radio for their daily setting-up exercises. But those who did were electrified at what they heard coming over the loud speakers.

"Good morning, ladies and gentleman! Instead of our usual exercises this morning we have a painful announcement to make and a duty to point out. At half-past three this morning the home of Gene Channing was bombed and Gene Channing himself was wounded.

"Fortunately for us all, Mr. Channing is not seriously wounded. The exact nature of his wound has not been given out nor the circumstances of the explosion. We only know that three other bombs were found in various parts of the house.

"The Citizens' League wishes us to tell you that in spite of his wound Mr. Channing will visit every ward this morning and this afternoon, as announced in his program yesterday.

"Ladies and gentlemen, the attempt to kill Gene Channing is a message to our citizens from the underworld. It is a challenge. Gene Channing will lead to battle all those who have the courage to follow him. You are invited to wake your neighbors who are not tuned in on this news for them in turn to spread the word among other voters. We went to war, as Gene Channing pointed out, for our country. Will we do as much for our city?"

The morning papers rushed extra editions to catch up with the story they would have otherwise missed. The afternoon papers came with extras earlier than usual. The radio stations put aside their scheduled programs to send out bulletins of the Channing story.

When the first polling place opened Gene Channing, his left shoulder and arm in bandages and splints, stood in a slowly rolling open cab that made its way through the main arteries of the First Ward. A sea of men and women surrounded the taxi, pressing in on it but not in its way.

There was no cheering on their part, no speeches from him. Indeed, for a crowd at high tension, as they were, the silence was remarkable. Simply it was a crowd on the march behind its leader.

Before the first election district polling place several hundred men and women detached themselves and formed in line. They remained there waiting to vote.

The district was ordinarily considered a pocket possession of the Sheedy organization. But the district leaders looked pop-eyed at the turnout of voters. They knew their dependables—and these hundreds on hand at the opening of the polls were not their dependables.

On to other polling places went Channing in his auto and new crowds surged about his car and were left in long queues before the polling places where they had registered to vote.

All over the city, as the morning and early afternoon wore on, the scene was repeated. Here and there alarmed Sheedy workers sent out distress calls for Nick Bruzzi's army of reinforcements.

But a new development followed. From all over the city came news of the epidemic of good citizens swarming out to vote. And Police Commissioner Huggins began to hear of clubbing going on all over the city—violence not by Nick Bruzzi's army, but against them.

For by the afternoon it became more than evident that Sam Sheedy's ship was being swamped by a tidal wave. Commissioner Huggins and Sheedy held hurried conferences and issued orders to their army of bluecoats.

The orders were obeyed—after a fashion. But City Hall saw a handwriting on the wall. And the rank and file of police, knowing that Commissioner Huggins and Sam Sheedy would not for long retain the power to discipline those who did not favor Nick Bruzzi's army, went gladly on the spree they had long harbored in their hearts—a clubbing spree that disturbed—though not unduly—even the leaders of the Citizens' League.

By three in the afternoon the newspapers came out with a new sensation. Nick Bruzzi and his chief lieutenants were under arrest. The charge was the bombing of Gene Channing's house and the attempted murder of Gene Channing himself.

And Molly Bain, "a member of Nick Bruzzi's 'mob,'" was under arrest for firing the shot that had wounded Gene Channing.

By late afternoon the voting machines had little to do. The vote—a staggering one for numbers—was practically all in. And newspapers did not wait for the actual count before setting up their election extras.

"Citizens' League Swamps Sheedy Machine!" "Citizens Pour Out in Tidal Wave to Vote for Dr. Brander for Mayor!" "Channing Crusade Responsible for Revolt of Citizens Against Corrupt Regime."

At police headquarters "Shep" Bauman was moving heaven and earth—"and raising hell," a reporter added—to get Nick Bruzzi released on bail. But such an array of legal talent had been summoned by the citizens against Bruzzi and his lieutenants that every one of "Shep's" brilliant devices and smoothly oiled machinations found insuperable difficulty.

Nick Bruzzi remained behind the bars.

But Molly Bain was released—on almost a nominal bail—furnished by the Citizens' League.

Every newspaper reporter that could be spared was sent out on a mad scramble to find Molly Bain and get her story. Nor were they the only ones anxious to interview her. Such of Nick Bruzzi's army as were still at large—there was an epidemic of arrests that day—were given orders to find her.

But she had vanished. Not even the Citizens' League who put up the bond for her knew where she was. Gene Channing might have been able to guess where she could be found. But he was too busy that day to talk about it.

For in the evening The Big Burg went stark staring mad with celebration. The city belonged to its citizens at last. In Tribune Square, on bridges, all over town, fireworks made a frenzied night sky. Great crowds cheered, slapped each other on the back, sang songs and in general made festival.

The new brooms of the Citizens' League began to sweep clean immediately they took office. They swept every vestige of the Sheedy machine out of office and practically every one of Bruzzi's army out of the city.

In record time, too, the courts brought Nick Bruzzi and his lieutenants to trial. Then it was that the big courtroom in Part IX of the Criminal Courthouse became the scene of a piquant drama.

For Molly Bain appeared on the witness stand, appeared as if by magic from her hiding place. A heavy guard was about her. And the new district attorney presented her as a witness for the prosecution. It was a foregone conclusion that her testimony would place Nick Bruzzi well in the shadow of the electric chair.

Then Gene Channing was called to describe what happened when Molly Bain shot him.

"It was Miss Bain who had furnished me with the confidential information I used during the campaign," Gene Channing testified. "So that when she came to my house on the morning of election I had no reason to distrust her.

"When we were alone in the living room she asked to be allowed to pull up the shades. She did so. Then she turned to me with an expression of fury on her face. But what she said was not in keeping with her expression.

"She told me that we were being watched from a house across the street; that Nick Bruzzi had placed four bombs in the house, which would go off if she was not seen to shoot me. She told me that our only chance of escape from them was to let her fire.

"'I am an excellent shot, Mr. Channing,' she said, but looked as if she would like to shoot me through the heart. 'I will drill you through the left shoulder. Clap your hand over your heart as if I had shot you there. Drop to the floor and lie still. It is our only hope for escape!'

"I had no choice but to accept her story. She could have shot me through the heart if she wanted to. I am convinced of that—if nothing else—by the fact that it was so perfectly the shot she said she would make."

Molly Bain vanished from the Big Burg the moment she was no longer needed at the trial; and the jury's verdict made her presence in the Big Burg no longer needed by the prosecution. For Nick Bruzzi and his chief lieutenants passed into the grim shadow of the death house and beyond.

But in Southern France the following spring Molly Bain, under the chaperonage of Gene Channing's mother and sister, waited for Geno Channing to join them.

Stuffed Pork Chops

Have pork chops cut from the thickest part of the spareribs, bone them, then with a sharp knife split them to half their tickness. Have ready a chestnut stuffing the same as is made for turkey. Spread the chops and press together sandwich fashion. Lay on a buttered baking pan, dust with pepper and salt, dot with little lumps of butter and squeeze on a little onion juice. Place in the pan a tablespoonful of lemon juice and a tablespoonful of hot water. Cover for the first 15 minutes in the oven, then uncover and baste frequently with the dish gravy. Serve on a hot dish garnished with parsley.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

A STYLISH AFTERNOON FROCK FOR THE LARGE WOMAN

New style features are shown in the charming model pictured here. Inverted tucks at the shoulder and a becoming V neck mark the waist, which blouses slightly on a fitted body lining. The two-piece skirt is embellished by an apron drapery on the front, cut circular below a yoke in curved outline. The sleeve is shaped in slight bell form and finished with a very attractive cuff. Printed silk in blue and beige tones is here depicted, with facings of beige crepe on the cuffs. Canton crepe or taffeta are also suggested for the development of this model.

The pattern is cut in eight sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 46-inch size will require 4¾ yards of 39-inch material. For facing of contrasting on the cuffs ¼ yard 40 inches wide is required, also 1¾ yard of lining 36 inches wide for the underbody. The width of the skirt at the lower edge is 60 inches.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Ganna Walska Concert Event for Society Folk Still Here

THERE are certain months in the year which might just as well not exist at all, so far as Pittsburgh society is concerned. And there is surely no need in my telling you that we are in the midst of one of those periods of total inactivity. Those of our social group who have clung to Pittsburgh in spite of cold winds and slippery sidewalks get together occasionally for bridge or they go to the theater—and that's about all. Lent can be blamed only partly for this dullness, since the folks down South seem to be having quite as gay a time as ever.

For a few days this week spring seemed to be just around the corner, but today's wintry weather has the effect of renewing our envy for the Pittsburghers who have sought gentler climates. And it certainly doesn't make us any more optimistic regarding an enlivened social season.

Events of social interest are few and far between, certainly, but tonight's recital by Mme. Ganna Walska in the ballroom of the William Penn Hotel takes on the appearance of a real occasion, with nearly all the stay-at-homes planning to attend. The Woman's City Club is presenting Mme. Walska, you know, and her advance notices call her an interpreter and singer, combining some of the attributes of both Raquel Meller and Mary Garden. She is being assisted by Giovanni Martino, baritone of the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company, with Walter Golde as accompanist.

The concert, I hear, is receiving the support of many out-of-town folks as well as local society people. A few among those planning to attend are Mrs. Wilson Ferguson, Mrs. Edwin Hodge, Mrs. George S. Baton, Mrs. Samuel Diescher, Mrs. W. F. Rust, Mrs. John R. McCune, Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, Miss Marian Jobson, Miss Mary Provost and Mrs. A. S. F. Kiester.

OUR gadding Pittsburghers continue to make their way from one interesting point to another. I understand that the Grant McCargos, of Woodland road, are spending some time at the Hotel Nautilus at Miami Beach just now. They left here to go to Bermuda, you know, and from there they went on to Florida.

At least one of our debutantes of the season is going to witness the inauguration, it seems. Mrs. John Joy Edson, Jr., of East drive, Sewickley, and her daughter, Jane, who came out last June, have already left for Washington and I hear they are going to remain there for an indefinite length of time.

Another Sewickleyan away from home at present is Forsyth Patterson, who is in New York in the interest of the Junior League. She plans to return to Sewickley about March 10 and will then go on to Duluth, Minn. Mrs. Charles A. Woods, of Thorn street, is in Atlantic City for several weeks, too. Mr. Woods went to the shore with his wife, but returned to the Valley this week.

Also at the seashore are Mrs. Frederick Crabtree and Mrs. Harry Austin Deuel. They are spending just a few days at the Hotel Dennis.

ANNOUNCEMENT is made of the marriage of Miss Georgiana E. Fawcett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fawcett, of the North Side, and Willard S. Morrow, of the North Side, which was solemnized Thursday in the First Presbyterian Church, North Side, by the Rev. Dr. Frank J. Bryson. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white chiffon with a close-fitting hat to match, and carried white roses, sweetpeas and snapdragon. Miss Mary Bernhardt was the only attendant, wearing tea rose chiffon with a small hat in a contrasting shade, and her flowers were pink roses and snapdragon. David Fawcett, brother of the bride, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Morrow have left for a motor trip in the Northeast.

THE four classes at the Pennsylvania College for Women presented four plays last night in the school auditorium as a play contest, and the performance is to be repeated tonight.

The seniors presented Rostand's "The Romancers," and taking part were Ethel Getty, Mary Louise Sucop, Mary Kolb, Katherine McClaren, Katherine Crawford, Ellen Conner and Betty Rial. Masefield's "The Locked Chest" was presented by the juniors, the roles being taken by Elizabeth Stadtlander, Nancy McIlwain, Dorothy Allen and Ruth Lupold. The sophomores gave Knobloch's "My Lady's Lace," with Anne Bateman, Adelaide Lasner, Hazel Snyder and LaVerda Dent in the cast, and the freshman play was Barrie's "The Well-Remembered Voice," the cast including Marian Stone, Sara Miller, Elizabeth Lupton, Margaret Iams, Barbara Fetterman and Dorothy Humphries.

Blue Law Change Opposed by Club

THE Woman's Club of Crafton at its meeting in Wood Hall yesterday went on record as opposing any change in the old Pennsylvania blue laws. The resolution was adopted following a talk on the blue laws by the Rev. Dr. James McQuilken. The club was celebrating Pennsylvania Day and a most interesting session was made of it. There was an exhibition of heirlooms, including quilts and coverlets, old china, a mirror more than 150 years old, a spinning wheel and a selection of candlesticks that probably drew more attention than anything else. Mrs. George K. Ferrall as Hannah Pitt and Mrs. Thomas Loring, also in colonial costume, conducted the guests through the exhibition. Mrs. E. V. Braden read Mrs. E. V. Carothers' paper on "Early Colonial Days," in which she depicted the customs of the times and said that William Penn's strongest hold on the Indians was the fact of his having outdanced them all. Mrs. John P. Loeber, in her paper on "Landmarks of Pennsylvania," began in the eastern part of the state and journeyed westward. Mrs. Edward P. Adams, a newcomer to the community, sang several old-fashioned songs, Mrs. N. D. Brandt accompanying her.

WEDNESDAY'S meeting of the Carnegie Tech Woman's Club is to be an open guest day and the program provided includes a talk on "The Modern Novel" by Mrs. Elizabeth Vermorcken and piano numbers by Mrs. Maurice Carroll. The tea, which will follow, will be "hostessed" by Mrs. William Pfouts, Mrs. Thomas D. Myl-rea, Mrs. John A. Davis, Mrs. Sumner B. Ely, Mrs. William Michener and Mrs. Fred Berquist.

TWO one-act plays, Alice Gerstenberg's "Overtones," and Christopher Morley's "Rehearsal," were presented yesterday afternoon at the Dormont New Century Club meeting in Dormont Masonic Hall. Members of the dramatic department gave the plays, the cast for "Overtones" including Mrs. Thomas Lehman, Mrs. S. A. Canaris, Mrs. Brice Owens and Mrs. Joseph N. Orbin; and for "Rehearsal" Mrs. R. C. Long, Mrs. W. L. Sheppard, Mrs. Margaret Bowlus, Mrs. C. G. Moore, Mrs. J. W. King, Jr., and Mrs. F. T. Harper. Mrs. Orbin and Mrs. Lehman supervised the plays. Mrs. Phil Franklin sang, her accompanist being Mrs. J. W. Young, Jr.

PROHIBITION HAS ADVERSE EFFECT ON DEATH RATES

"From 1910 to 1919, the per capita death rates in the United States decreased ten and one half times the average decrease of 21 foreign countries. This remarkably favorable showing was thereafter reversed.

"From 1919 to 1926 the average decrease in the same 21 foreign nations was three and one-quarter times the decrease in the United States."

This statement was made at New York yesterday to the Hearst newspapers by E. Clemens Horst, student of prohibition conditions and land owner of California, with reference to the results of prohibition as regards vital statistics.

Mr. Horst declared that from the tables compiled by American consuls general in foreign countries and reported to the State Department, compared with American figures attested under oath by insurance actuaries, showed an average excess of deaths of 211,000 for the year 1926 compared with the foreign countries.

Noting that the total of soldiers killed in action in the World War was 50,510 men, he added:

"These facts indicate that prohibition has had a decidedly adverse effect on American death rates. If the United States, with all its wealth and health advantages, had, for instance, only the same 1926 per capita death rate as overcrowded Holland (Holland's for that year was 9.8 per 1,000 as against 12.1 in this country) there would have been 270,000 fewer deaths in the United States in 1926."

Mr. Horst declared that automobile accidents alone, in a period of eight years, had increased proportionately under prohibition to near 12 times the concurrent increase in population. He went on to say:

"State penitentiary commitments in states which were 'wet' before Federal prohibition, have increased 4.1 times, and in states 'dry' before prohibition to 11.2 times the concurrent increase in population. On the same basis of comparison Federal penitentiary commitments have increased 8.8 times. Federal narcotic convictions have increased 43.1 times the concurrent increase in population meantime since prohibition was nailed to the statute books."

In this connection also, on the same relative basis of increase in population meantime, Mr. Horst declared that denatured alcohol released by the government had swollen to 46.4 times normal flow.

He summoned vital facts to show that in 1919 England's death rate was 8.5 per cent higher than that in America, whereas seven years later the United States death rate was 4.5 per cent higher than in wet England.

Interviews and opinionate comments on the $25,000 temperance prize contest and conditions under prohibition, received from various parts of the country are appended:

Charles C. Cole

Charles C. Cole, president of the Illinois-Pacific Glass Corporation, San Francisco:

"The most serious discussion we have, the sooner we will find a remedy for the impossible situation which now exists with regard to the liquor question.

"A patriotic purpose has prompted Mr. Hearst in the offering of a $25,000 prize for the best practical temperance plan which may become a substitute for prohibition.

"In doing so, he has chosen one of the ways best calculated to procure a feasible solution of the national dilemma."

We never get anywhere unless we start. Mr. Hearst has begun a discussion of temperance as opposed to prohibition that should eventually lead the American people to a saner attitude on the entire liquor question."

Dr. Burgess Johnson

Dr. Burgess Johnson, director of public relations, Syracuse University, former editor of Life, associate editor of Everybody's Magazine, member of faculty, Vassar College:

"I think the Hearst temperance contest is a fine step and should help us arrive nearer to a solution of the prohibition question.

"The worst feature of a legislative measure or governmental program is the indifference of the general public. Any stimulant to argument, discussion or disagreement should awaken the public and keep the matter before the eyes of the nation. In particular the contest should command the attention of non-politicians."

Roger D. Lapham

Roger D. Lapham, president of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, San Francisco, Cal.:

"I am thoroughly in sympathy with Mr. Hearst's proposal to find a temperance substitute for the present prohibition law. I quite agree with him that there would be likely to be much less drinking of hard liquor in the United States under a reasonable temperance law than under the present total prohibition law.

"The prohibition law breeds contempt for all law. There may be economic advantage in the present law, but such advantage does not offset the contempt for law in general which is growing throughout the country as a result of prohibition legislation, and the wholesale violation such legislation has invited.

"It does not matter so much whether an actual practical temperance plan results from this contest—the contest is valuable as a starting point for fair and reasonable discussion of the subject.

STAR MOTHERS' TRIP VOTED

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Gold Star Mothers bill, providing for a pilgrimage of mothe. and widows of all American World War dead buried in Europe, was passed by the House last night. It passed the Senate Thursday. It now goes to President Coolidge for signature.

The bill provides that the pilgrimage shall be made between 1930 and 1933, with all expanses, including transportation and subsistence, to be paid by the United States Government. Every mother or widow will be taken to the last resting place of her beloved one.

Representatives of the Government will look after their welfare and comfort on the journey.

Members of Ahepa Lodge Plan Banquet

The Pittsburgh Chapter of the Ahepa, an American fraternal organization with members of Greek extraction, will hold its third annual banquet Tuesday evening in the ballroom of the William Penn Hotel. The principal speaker will be Dean Alfange, New York banker and supreme president of the organization. Among the guests will be City Solicitor Charles A. Waldschmidt and Spyros Scouras, of New York.

Rules of $25,000 Temperance Contest

THE purpose of the contest is to obtain a practicable plan, as a substitute for prohibition, which will secure better actual temperance conditions, which will be more easily possible of enforcement by state and federal authorities, which will offer less encouragement to crime and tend less to debauch the public service, and which will not so outrage and violate the fundamental rights and personal liberties of American citizens.

The rules and conditions of the contest are simple and are as follows:

1—Every person is entitled to enter the contest, but no one person may submit more than one plan.

2—The practicable plan proposed as a substitute for prohibition must be set forth in an article containing not more than 1,000 words.

3—This contest will close on April 30, 1929, and no plan which has not been mailed and postmarked on or before that date will be considered.

4—The articles submitted in the contest will be judged by a committee of eminent Americans, the personnel of the committee to be announced at a later date.

5—The full prize of $25,000 will be awarded to the contestant submitting the best plan as a practical temperance substitute for prohibition.

6—If other plans not awarded the first prize shall still be considered worthy of some compensation by the committee, a second prize of $5,000 and other prizes of $1,000 each may be awarded.

7—Articles submitting a plan to be considered in this contest may be sent to the temperance contest committee, care of the editor of any one of the following Hearst newspapers: Albany Times-Union, Atlanta Georgian, Baltimore News, Boston Evening American, Chicago Herald and Examiner, Detroit Times, Los Angeles Examiner, New York American, Omaha Bee-News, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Rochester Journal, San Antonio Light, San Francisco Examiner, Syracuse Journal, Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Washington Herald, Wisconsin News (Milwaukee).

STUBBORN CONGRESSMAN DOOMS "DOPE" INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Stubbornly ignoring the pleas of his colleagues, Representative Snell (R.), of New York, chairman of the House Rules Committee, yesterday refused to permit a vote on the LaGuardia-Wheeler resolution for a narcotics investigation.

Refusing even to grant a request for a ten-minute hearing, the committee, under Snell's guidance, virtually sounded the death knell of the resolution by failing to submit either a report or a rule to the House.

Proponents of the inquiry on the committee argued strongly for a chance for a vote, pointing out that the House, like the senate previously, would pass the resolution with scarcely a dissenting voice.

SNELL REFUSES

Snell refused to budge. He dismissed the pleas without explaining in detail his opposition to the inquiry. Thus Snell alone assumes responsibility for blocking the will of congress. His also is the responsibility for thwarting immediate constructive steps to remedy the growing dope menace.

It was pointed out to Snell that three cardinal abuses, arising under present anti-narcotic laws, must be quickly corrected if the Federal Government is to be able to smash the drug traffic in America. These are:

1. The provision which permits narcotic violation to be compromised secretly for cash without bringing the violators into court. Disreputable physicians are the chief benefactors under this practice. Last year one out of every seven violators settled for cash and continued their nefarious practice.

SUPPLY UNLIMITED

2. The system which permits the total amount of drugs to be manufactured legitimately each year to be determined chiefly on the basis of manufacturers' sales for the previous year. No studied effort is made to ascertain from medical and scientific authorities whether the supply can be diminished without hampering the legitimate needs.

3. The provision which provides no stiffer penalty for the drug peddler than the addict, even after a second, third, or fourth offense. The average sentence for the drug peddler, many of whom are constant repeaters, is less than two years.

All of these and corollary problems were on the agenda of the investigating committee. It was felt by experts in every section of the country that only through a thorough-going, scientific survey by a congressional committee, such as proposed by the La Guardia-Wheeler resolution, could effective legislative recommendations be obtained to free America from the vice of dope.

Snell, temporarily at least, has prevented the accomplishment of this end.

INDIANA SENATE HEARS PROHIBITION DENOUNCED

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 2.—For the first time in many years prohibition was denounced yesterday in the chambers of the Indiana Legislature during discussion of a resolution asking Congress to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

After hearing a spirited assault upon dry laws by Senator Chester A. Perkins, of South Bend, the Senate voted to make further consideration of the resolution a special order of business on Monday afternoon.

CITES FAILURE

Senator Perkins said:

"Absolute prohibition is now failing and will continue to fail. Bad as was the situation before prohibition, since prohibition the situation, from a moral standpoint, and a civic standpoint, is infinitely worse.

"It is the violation of the law by the average citizen that makes bootlegging profitable and prosperous, willing servants will always be found if the price is paid. When prohibition was adopted I welcomed it as a symptom of moral reform, but my opinion has changed during the nine years of prohibition's existence."

PRAISES HEARST CONTEST

Senator Perkins said that the Eighteenth Amendment now was a stumbling block to intelligent solution of the liquor problem. He scored the prohibition forces in Washington as follows:

"The forces responsible for the present policy are still in the saddle and drunk with power, are rushing to their doom and defeat by antagonizing and estranging their would-be beneficiaries by the addition of more laws and more restrictions instead of taking stock of the effect thus far produced."

Senator Perkins said afterwards that he welcomed the Hearst $25,000 prize offer as concrete evidence that the people of the United States would be stimulated to greater interest in solving the problem of liquor. He said he had little hope that perfect solution would be reached, but added that there was a chance for much improvement in the situation through an intelligent attempt to arrive at definite remedies such as was being made by Mr. Hearst.

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

Playing Managers Pass. Soon to Be Memory.
Conacher's Ice Record.
Autry Hailed as Comer. Brave Strategy Board.
Dehnert's Floor Class.

ALL 1929 PILOTS MAY BE ON BENCH

JUDGING from the present trend of things in the major baseball leagues, it won't be long until the playing manager is extinct. Indeed, the present year may find the big circuits without an active pilot. One by one, the leaders of that type have dropped out and have been supplanted by bench generals, and unless there is a change in the prevailing fashion the day may not be far distant when the playing chief will be only a memory.

Billy Southworth

The announcement made by Bucky Harris that he intends to direct the Detroit club from the dugout draws attention again to the passing of the playing skipper. It means that if Billy Southworth decides to put himself in right field for the St. Louis Nationals, the former Pirate will hold the distinction of being the only manager under the big top who appears in his team's lineup. It has been rumored that Walter Johnson may do some pitching for Washington, but even if he does attempt a comeback in that department he will be seen on the mound only occasionally, so that if Southworth should eventually make up his mind to stay out in favor of Walter Roettger, Ernest Orsatti or Watty Holm, every one of the 16 major league clubs will be bossed from the sidelines.

THE National League elsewhere is already set with a solid array of bench managers—Donie Bush in Pittsburgh, John McGraw in New York, Joe McCarthy in Chicago, Jack Hendricks in Cincinnati, Wilbert Robinson in Brooklyn, the Fuchs-Evers combination in Boston and Burt Shotton in Philadelphia. Apart from Harris and Johnson, the American League will have Miller Huggins in New York, Connie Mack in Philadelphia, Dan Howley in St. Louis, Russell Blackburne in Chicago, Bill Carrigan in Boston and Roger Peckinpaugh in Cleveland.

How quickly the styles have shifted is shown by the fact that only five years ago the American League alone had as many as five playing managers. Ty Cobb held the reins in Detroit, Tris Speaker in Cleveland, Eddie Collins in Chicago, Bucky Harris in Washington and George Sisler in St. Louis. Now there isn't one in the whole circuit. The impression appears to be growing that in baseball's present complicated state no man can play and manage successfully at the same time.

WHEN Lionel Conacher, former Pittsburgh hockey player, failed to appear in the lineup of the New York Americans, even as a spare, against Les Canadiens Thursday night, one of the most remarkable records in the ice sport was interrupted.

It was the first game played by his club this season in which Conacher failed to take part, and in only two other contests during the campaign was he even relieved. Both of those date back to the early stages of the season. An injured hand forced him to withdraw from a tilt with Les Canadiens in Montreal after the second period, and he missed eight minutes of a later game in New York. That was all the time he lost until Thursday night.

Lionel Conacher.

FIGURES compiled on Conacher's playing activities show that he has spent more time on the ice this season than any other player ever spent in the course of a single league campaign. It is also true that he has put in more time in the penalty box this season than any other skater in the National League, but his defenders argue that that may have been due partly to the fact that he saw more action than any teammate or rival. Last season, Ching Johnson's feat of playing a total of 1,800 minutes, or 30 hours, was the talk of the circuit, but the statistics covering Connie's activities this winter show that the former Buccaneer has beaten that performance all hollow.

UP TO date the Americans have engaged in 39 league games, or a total of 2,340 minutes of play, not counting the overtime periods, and in all that time Conacher has been out of action only 88 minutes. Prior to Thursday night he missed only 28 minutes out of 2,250 played by his club.

Summed up, the figures show that Connie, exclusive of overtime, has been in action a total of 2,252 minutes, or a shade more than 37½ hours, against the 30 hours placed to the credit of Johnson a year ago. And with his team scheduled to play five more games

CLEGHORNMEN READY FOR INVADERS

GAMES TONIGHT.
Detroit vs. Pirates at Duquesne Garden (8:30).
Ottawa at Toronto.
Montreal at Chicago.
Boston at Les Canadiens.

By CARL W. SHATTO.

The Detroit Cougars, who unloaded more grief on Benny Leonard's hockey Pirates this season than any other club in the National League, will attempt to give local ice fans a final pain at Duquesne Garden this evening when they wind up their season series with the Bucs. The most important reason why Manager Odie Cleghorn and his skaters have come to despise the Cougars whole-heartedly and in a big way is because the Michiganders threw up a wall between the Pirates and the ice world series, and because the invaders handed the locals decisive drubbings in four of five games in erecting the barrier.

In their last appearance here the Bucs tripped up the Cougars by the very sufficient score of 3 to 0, and it would occasion no heartaches locally were they to repeat that performance tonight. The Bucs aren't going anywhere in particular at this late stage of the race, but the Detroiters are, and minimizing Cougar chances to improve their third-place ranking would salve Pittsburgh wounds.

BOTH CLUBS CRIPPLED

Both the Cougars and the Pirates are somewhat crippled. Harold Darragh, sterling right wing, is nursing a bad hip injury sustained in the Les Canadiens game Tuesday and may not be able to start, and Herbie Lewis, Detroit wingman, is out for the remainder of the season with a fractured shoulder. Lewis, one of the fastest skaters in the sport, was put out of commission last Saturday when he collided with Ralph Taylor, Chicago defense man, but he has a very capable understudy in dangerous George Hay, who has made a habit of turning in his best performances on Duquesne Garden ice.

In the event that Darragh is not able to start, Eddie Bouchard will supplant him at right wing in the starting from line, Manager Cleghorn said today, and either Johnny McKinnon or Duke McCurry will get the spare wing assignment. Bouchard has given a fine exhibition since he came here from the New York Americans about a fortnight ago, and he paired up well with Frederickson and Milks when Darragh was forced from the lineup Tuesday. Drury is to be kept at center and Lowrey at left wing regardless of who teams up with them on the spare line.

ABOUT DUE TO SCORE

Neither the Bucs nor the Cougars have been scoring with any great

FIFTH DOWNS SOUTH HILLS

Unless South Hills High School's basketball team devises an offense better able to penetrate the defense of Chester Briggs' Fifth Avenue passers, than was the case yesterday, the annual series for the City League title will end with the playing of the second game next Tuesday. Yesterday, Fifth defeated South Hills, 20-to-13.

The Fifth passers, beating their men into the hole, when on the defensive completely outplayed the Tunnelites and, at that, didn't look near as good as they did in their victory over Stowe Township in W. P. I. A. L. tourney game Wednesday. South Hills held a 1-0 lead at the end of the first period, but trailed from then on. Fifth led 7-to-5 at the half, 14-to-9 at the end of the third period and increased this margin two points in the final quarter.

Marty Reiter, Fifth's stellar guard, led in the scoring with seven points and missed enough from out around the foul line to win a dozen ball games. The lineup:

Fifth Avenue—20.		South Hills—13.
Skeegan	F	Garfham
Brenner	F	Miller
Runner	C	Ladley
Seigal	G	Hassenfritz
Reiter	G	Jones

Score by periods:

Fifth	0	7	7	6	—20
South Hills	1	4	4	4	—13

Substitutions—Fifth, Moll, Aflesberg; South Hills, Rigg.

Field goals—Fifth, Skeegan, Brenner, Runner, Reiter 3; South Hills, Miller, Ladley, Hassenfritz 2.

Fouls—Fifth, Skeegan, 2 out of 4; Brenner, none out of 4; Runner, 1 out of 2; Seigal, 4 out of 5; Reiter, 1 out 1; South Hills, Miller, 1 out of 2; Ladley, none out of 2; Hassenfritz, 2 out of 6; Jones, 2 out of 4.

Team fouls—Fifth, 8 out of 16; South Hills, 5 out of 14.

Leading scorer—Reiter, Fifth, 7 points.

West Captures Dixie Golf Title

MIAMI, Fla., March 2.—The Dixie amateur golf championship was saved to the South when James West, of Atlanta, Ga., defeated George O'Connor, of Southampton, L. I., medalist, in the 36-hole final by 5 and 7, over the Country Club course here.

W. J. Kappell, of Pittsburgh, was a competitor in this tournament He was eliminated in the second round.

W. & J. TO GET NEW STADIUM

An ambitious building program, which will include the erection of a stadium and a field house, was announced by President S. S. Baker, of Washington and Jefferson College at a dinner tendered him by the W. & J. alumni of Western Pennsylvania at the William Penn Hotel last night.

The proposed athletic field is to cost in the neighborhood of $250,000, of which more than half already has been pledged. President Baker asked the members of the alumni to assist in the raising of the additional $100,000, and stated that the present administrative force of the college will see to it that all present indebtedness is wiped out.

An option has been obtained on a tract of several acres, adjoining the present athletic field at Wash-Jeff, upon which the proposed field house and stadium will be erected. March, 1930, has been set as the time for the beginning of building operations.

The dinner was attended by about 100 W. & J. men. The 1928 varsity football squad, the college band, faculty members and the heads of the athletic department, including Graduate Manager W. G. Theurer, Head Coach Andy Kerr and assistant coaches Ray Ride and Bill Amos also were present.

PITT TEAMS MEET W. VA. TONIGHT

By JESS CARVER.

Pitt's varsity and freshmen track and basketball teams departed early today for Morgantown, W. Va., where they will engage West Virginia's Mountaineer teams in track and court contests this afternoon and evening.

The basketball encounter between the two varsity fives is the most important tri-state district battle of the season, with the championship of the section the prize for the victor. Pitt, by winning tonight, and by taking Wash-Jeff and Penn State next week, will finish a few percentage points ahead of the gallant Mountaineers.

PITT SEEKS REVENGE

West Virginia served Pitt its only defeat of the season here at home and in the district by topping the Panthers, 40 to 35, in the Stadium Pavilion early in the campaign. Pitt is in a vengeful mood today, and will make the evening long and ardorous for the Mountaineer warriors.

The probable starting lineups:

Zehfuss	F	Glenn
Hyatt	F	Lepera
L. Cohen	C	Hagbers
Wunderlich (C.)	G	Black
Baker	G	Plaster

Referee—Cal Bolster. Umpire—Dan Brickley.

The trackers, both frosh and varsity, will clash in a dual indoor meet this afternoon in West Virginia's fine new field house. Graduate Manager Stansbury has made arrangements for handling the largest basketball and track meet crowd in West Virginia's history. Some 7,000 are expected to witness the clash of the floormen with the Hyatt-Glenn duel as a big added attraction.

Carnegie Tech winds up its cage campaign by meeting Niagara University at Niagara Falls tonight. Thiel tackles St. Francis at Loretto and Waynesburg and St. Vincents meet at Beatty. Penn State and Syracuse hook up in a return game at Syracuse.

DUKES TAKE THIEL

The astoundingly inconsistent Dukes won another Conference game last night, this time from Mike Loeb's Thiel College Lutherans on the Bluff. The score of the contest (?) was 31 to 28.

It was one of the most uninteresting games of the season. Duquesne, rapidly getting the name of being a great first and a terrible second half outfit passed and passed and passed, until the officials should have stopped the affair and awarded the verdict to the spectators, who were taking unnecessary punishment. The only times the game became interesting was when the Lutherans staged a rally and pressed the locals.

At the half, Duquesne held a 12 to 5 lead, but stumbled about in the second 20 minutes as has been the case in the last four games and were outscored by the visitors. Only by virtue of the fact that they were able to successfully freeze the ball in the closing two minutes did the Bluffites escape an extra period job.

Brud Stephens accounted for five field goals and one foul to lead the scoring. Myers and Sliker starred for Thiel, this pair doing their level best to put their club out in front in the second half. Morris, Thiel forward, dropped in three buckets and four out of four fouls to lead his team in scoring. The lineup:

Duquesne—31.		Thiel—28.
Luble	F	Morris
Benedict	F	Schilling
Vernon	C	Frampton
Rosenberg (C.)	G	McCoy
Stephens	G	Myers

Score by periods:

Duquesne	12	19—31
Thiel	5	23—28

Substitutions—Dukes, Colicdi, Thiel, Sliker, Bell.

Field goals—Dukes, Stephens 5, Rosenberg 2, Vernon 3, Benedict, Thiel, Morris 3, Frampton, Myers 3, Sliker 2, Bell.

Fouls—Dukes, Benedict 2 out of 2; Luble, 2 out of 4, Vernon, 2 out of 3; Rosenberg, 1 out of 2; Stephens, 1 out of 1. Thiel, Morris, 4 out of 4; Schilling, 1 out of 1; Frampton, 0 out of 1; Myers, 1 out of 3; Sliker, 2 out of 3.

Team fouls—Dukes, 9 out of 13; Thiel, 8 out of 12.

Leading scorer—Stephens, Dukes, 11 points.

Time of periods—20 minutes.

Referee—Dan Brickley.

Umpire—Kennedy.

Buc Yans May Battle Regulars Thursday

PASO ROBLES, March 2.—Manager Bush expects to continue the long batting drills far into next week. Bush seems to think that the hitting sessions are more important than squad games at this time.

The first battle of the Yans and Regulars was set for next Thursday, but this program might be changed. The first team will play the San Francisco Seals at the local ball park one week from tomorrow.

ROSIES BOW TO LOCALS

The Cleveland Rosenblums of the American Pro League fell before Nate Lippe's Allegheny County League All-Stars, 33-32, last night on the Harding High School floor at Aliquippa. The locals led the Clevelanders, 22-21, at half time. The lineup:

County Stars—35.		Rosies—32.
Minnick	F	Beckman
Lippe	F	Skurnick
Ramsay	C	Lapchick
Miller	G	Dehnert
Loeman	G	Husta

Substitution—Barry for Beckman, Fiel goals—Minnick 3, Lippe 2, Ramsay 3, Miller 4, Loeman 2, Beckman, Skurnick, Lapchick 2, Dehert 2, Husta 5, Barry, Fouls Stars, 7 out of 13; Rosies, 8 out of 15. Referee—Westlake.

LORETTA, Pa., March 2.—St. Francis College basketball team swamped the Slippery Rock Teachers here last night, 52 to 35.

SHEELY, ADAMS IMPRESSIVE IN DRILL

By CHARLES J. DOYLE, Staff Correspondent.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 2.—The Pirates are supposed to be uncertain or weak in the infield, yet Manager Donie Bush today realized he had two impressive foursomes on the ground. The regular quartet is composed of Sheely, Adams, Traynor and Stroner with the Yanigans featuring Windle, Bartell, Jones and Riconda.

The first defense of the second team made a big hit yesterday and this morning they were keen for more action. Windle played first for Columbia last year while Riconda was a utility player for the Dodgers.

RICONDA GOOD AT THIRD

"I'm not sure just how I will place those boys in the infield," said Bush today in commenting on his reservists. "Riconda seems to be able to play two or three positions and Bartell and Jones also can switch around, but I think I will keep Riconda at third."

The former Dodger is overweight. As a rule he plays basketball in the off-season, but he stayed from the game the past winter. He expects to take off 10 or 15 pounds before he reaches his best stride. Riconda hits the ball very hard.

Pilot Donie lost no time in placing Sparky Adams at his old post. There was some talk of Bartell taking the middle station, but Daredevil Dick apparently will have to bide his time. Adams did not have a batting year at the keystone sack in the last campaign, but after all he is a corking performer, and Donie is not unmindful of the yeomen service he performed when switched to the shortfield after Glenn Wright went out with an injury.

The play of Adams for something like a month after replacing Wright was one of the big spots of the National League race. As a rule a shortstop-second sacker can play either position better than the shortfield, but Sparky seems to be an exception to the rule. Forbes Field fans will attest to his cleverness in the Wagnerian role.

SHEELY PLEASES DONIE

Bush is highly pleased over the work of Earl Sheely, erstwhile Whit Sox first sacker, whose one-year absence from the big show is hard to understand. Over a long span of years Sheely was one of the best first basemen in the game, both in the field and at the bat.

Bush played many a ball game against Sheely and therefore knows his worth. In the daily practice here, the Paso Robles farmer has won the admiration of every player

DUNN DEFEATS O'LEARY IN MOOSE RING

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Practice makes perfect, and sometimes even a little practice overshoots the mark. At least, so it seemed in the main bout in the Moose Temple last night, when Johnny Dunn, of New Kensington, and Dick O'Leary, of Cleveland, who have been fighting each other since back in their kid days in Wilkes-Barre, when O'Leary was known as Jackie Britton, did their stuff before a house that had many empty seats, in contrast with last week's Rudy Ceder-Cuddy DeMarco show, which turned the fans away.

Dunn and Britton—beg pardon, O'Leary—know each other's every move from having fought each other six or seven times, and you know how it is when things are that way. Every time Dunn would duck down, O'Leary would go down with him, and vice versa. And every time one would shoot a left lead or a right uppercut the other would, too. They have each other's footwork and timing of punches down pat, and this state of affairs takes all of the interest out of their fight.

INFIGHTING IS FEATURE

Both boxed and fought earnestly, yet the fans didn't think their stuff was so hot, for the reasons aforesaid. It looked more like a rehearsal than a fight, although no two boxers ever tried harder to please. Throughout, it was a case of fiddle and feint and lead and clinch and blaze away inside. Three-quarters of the fighting was done in the clinches, and anyone will tell you that there are many more spectacular ways than that to fight.

Dunn won the decision with plenty to spare. He was the aggressor all of the way with the exception of the fifth round, in which this Britton-O'Leary fellow cut out trying to outbox him and turned in and swung both fists to the head and body. He fought off Johnny and connected solidly. He couldn't stand prosperity, however, and, in the next round, went back to boxing and remained so to the finish, and at this style of going Dunn easily was his master. Dunn lathered him plenty at close range, sending home his blows in straight, cutting fashion and tying up O'Leary.

O'Leary's left eye was cut in the second round and bled freely, but was reopened only once after that, late in the bout. He was seconded by Jimmy Dunn, of Cleveland, his new manager, and had an edge of four and one-half pounds over Dunn, who scaled 129 pounds. O'Leary took the fight on a few days' notice, subbing for Jackie Rodgers, who was ill.

UNGLO LOSES TO SALA

Jack Unglo, of Etna, who can fight only when he is piling into his opponent, decided to give a retreating exhibition against pounding Leo Sala, of Donora, in the six-round semi-final, and took quite a twisted cuffing. He weighed 154 pounds against Sala's 157½.

Johnny Haggerty, of Lawrenceville, 123 pounds, outboxed Bobby Burns, of Swissvale, 121½ pounds, throughout the six-round second bout, but the judges disagreed and the referee's vote ruled the bout a draw. Burns was guilty of considerable roughing and other fouling, and, besides, was left-handed to death by Haggerty.

Andy Radd, of Donora, 133½ pounds, won by a technical knockout over Frankie Salvatore, of New Kensington, 130, in the opening bout of six rounds.

Eddie Kennedy refereed all of the bouts and the judges were Jock Simco and Frank Brown.

Dominick Proffo, of Cecil, will box the best opponent obtainable in the main bout next Friday night.

Bill Jolly, the New Castle promoter, and Ed Fritz, New Castle sports scribe, were among the interested spectators.

NOTES OF THE RING

Frankie Genaro and Spider Pladner, the French flyweight sensation, clash in a 15-round battle in Paris tonight. Midget Mike O'Dowd boxes Ward Sparks at Cincinnati.

The Dominick Proffo-California Joe Gans bout at McKeesport Thursday night drew a gate in excess of $3,200 at prices of $1 and $2, setting a record for attendance at that arena. Only the Kid Williams-Tommy Ryan bout of years ago has exceeded it in money. Cuddy DeMarco and Larry Brignolla meet in the same ring next Thursday night.

CARNEGIE TECH VICTOR OVER

BUFFALO, March 2.—Long distance shooting of the most sensational order brought Carnegie Tech a 33-23 victory over the University of Buffalo basketball team here last night.

Capt. Harvey White, leader of the Tartans, was the principal cause of the Buffalo defeat. The blond guard caged no less than five midcourt attempts, besides playing a brilliant all around game. Nease, White's companion guard, likewise was a thorn in the side of the locals throughout the contest, accounting for nine points. The lineup:

Tech—33.		Buffalo—23.
Birch	F	Seigle
Crum	F	Schrag
Merton	C	Cabbri
Nease	G	Farrow
White	G	Jetter

Substitutions—Carnegie, Fox, Weiss; Buffalo, Rudin, Puschback, Hoffman.

Field goals—Carnegie, Brown 3, Crum 2, Nease 4, White 5; Buffalo: Seigle 4, Schrag, Jetter, Puschback.

Foul goals—Carnegie, Crum 2, Nease, Fox, Weiss; Buffalo: Seigle 3, Schrag, Farrow 4, Jetter.

Umpire—Swanzie. Referee—Hewie.

O'Brien Likely To Succeed Toole

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 2.—(INS.)—A special meeting of the International League executives is scheduled to be held here Tuesday afternoon to elect a new president to succeed the late John Conway Toole. Indications were today that Joseph O'Brien, former head of the American Association and also of the Toledo Club, will get the position. Reports have it that O'Brien has the backing of practically all the club owners and will be swung into the presidency without much opposition.

Burial services for Toole were held today at Livonia, N. Y.

Mrs. Riley Wins Third Flight Match

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., March 2.—Mrs. L. G. Riley, of Pittsburgh, a member of the Edgewood Country Club, won her final match in the third flight in the annual South Atlantic championship golf tournament over the Ormond Beach Golf Club course yesterday. She trounced Mrs. O. F. Burnett, of Ormond, by 5 and 4.

Miss Helen (Billie) Hicks, Long Island high school girl, winner of the qualifying medal, is opposing Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, the defending titleholder, in the final for the championship today.

Al Friedman Wins Over Emmett Rocco

CLEVELAND, March 2.—Al Friedman, fast-climbing light-heavyweight, of Boston, shaded Emmett Rocco, of Ellwood City, Pa., in a torrid six-round feature bout last night.

After an even first session, Friedman gained an edge in the second, but Rocco knocked him all over the ring in the third. They mixed like a pair of wildcats in the fourth, with Rocco having an edge.

During the final two stanzas Friedman rallied, carrying the fight to Rocco and earning the decision.

LEAGUE GAME TODAY

Shady Side Academy will meet University School of Cleveland in a Tri-State Prep School League game in the Carnegie Tech gymnasium at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A victory for the Ohioans will enable them to clinch the title, having defeated Nichols School of Buffalo earlier in the season.

RECORDS FALL IN SWIM MEETS

CHICAGO, March 2.—(AP.)—Martha Norelius, of New York, shattered her own world record in successfully defending her National 220-yard senior free style swimming record at the National women's meet last night. She was clocked in 2:35 4-5. Her old mark, established in 1926, was 2:40 3-5.

Miss Norelius took an early lead and gradually widened her margin, winning by 10 yards at the finish. Al Bina Osopowitch, of Worcester, Mass., was second, and Isabelle Smith, Chicago, was third.

HOMESTEAD THIRD

The New York Women's Swimming Club team gained another lap in its race to defend its National team championship by winning the 300-yard Medley relay in 3:46 2-5. The Illinois Women's Athletic Club was second and the Homestead, Pa., team finished third.

Lisa Lindstrom, Eleanor Holm and Miss Norelius composed the New York team.

The victory gave the New York club a point total of 38. Its closest and only team rival, the I. W. A. C. has 26 points.

COLLEGE RECORDS FALL

CHICAGO, March 2.—(AP.)—Northwestern University swimmers broke three National intercollegiate records and equalled a world mark last night as they routed Minnesota, 45 to 22, in a dual conference meet.

The Wildcat relay team, composed of Peterson, Hinch, Covodt, and Al Schwartz, equalled the world mark and established a new National intercollegiate record in the 160-yard relay, skimming the distance in 1:14 2-5. The former intercollegiate record was established by Minnesota in 1927. The Illinois Athletic Club, of Chicago, held the world mark.

Al Schwartz broke the 440-yard swim mark with the time of 4:57 2-5. The former record was established by Ault, of Michigan, last year.

Dick Hinch broke his own National intercollegiate record in the 150-yard backstroke with the time of 1:40 3-5 or two-fifths of a second faster than the previous record.

McLarnin Knocks Out Joe Glick

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP.)—Jimmy McLarnin, sensational puncher from the Pacific coast, knocked out Joe Glick, the Williamsburg tailor, in the second round of their battle at Madison Square Garden last night.

Glick was knocked down twice for counts of nine before a straight right floored him for the count.

The end came after one minute and 37 seconds of the second round. Glick, blood streaming down his face from a badly cut eye, was no match for the two-fisted slugger from the coast. After the third knockdown, Glick gamely sought to rise, but he fell flat on his back as the fatal count of 10 was tolled.

Navy to Play Notre Dame at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, March 2.—(AP.)—Football teams of the United States Naval Academy and Notre Dame will meet in Baltimore Stadium October 12, George W. Cameron, president of the park board, has announced.

Commander Jonas Ingram, director of athletics at the Naval Academy, approved the selection of the Baltimore field.

WESTMINSTER 50-8 VICTOR

NEW WILMINGTON, March 2.—Westminster's crack college cage team handed Grove City one of the worst lickings in Tri-state Conference history here last night, the final count being 50 to 8.

The Grovers were completely smothered by the local lads, who kept their foemen to a single field goal. The visitors scored their eight points in the first half, while in the last chukker they never had a chance at the basket.

Delehunty led the attack for the locals, garnering 14 points, among them five field goals.

The victory was the thirteenth in 15 starts for Westminster. The lineup:

Westminster—50.		Grove City—8.
Delehunty	F	Angelo
O'Donovan	F	Waleski
Crowell	C	Burke
Rice	G	Reeves
Cleninger	G	Ryan

Substitutions—Kocheran for O'Donovan, W. Lewis for Brownlee, Halas, Fisher, Ayers, Caulfield, Brown, Falcerach. Field goals—O'Donovan 2, Delehunty 5, Crowell 5, Rice 4, Kocherer 4, Burke. Fouls—Westminster, 16 out of 16; Grove City, 6 out of 9. Referee—Cal Bolster.

ALLEGHENY WINS

MEADVILLE, Pa., March 2.—(AP.)—Allegheny's basketball five easily defeated Waynesburg College here last night by the score of 38 to 23. Blair, Barback and Berger starred for the Methodists. Allegheny was in the lead 16 to 9 at half time. The lineup:

Allegheny—38.		Waynesburg—23.
Blair	F	Allison
Deantaon	F	Porter
Corbett	G	Ullon
Garback	G	Smith
Berger	G	Patsch

Score by halves:

Allegheny	16	22—38
Waynesburg	9	14—23

Field goals—Blair 5, Dennison 3, Berger 2, Garback 2, Moon, Porter, Ullon, White 2, Hathaway, Patsch 2. Fouls—Allegheny 12 out of 18, Waynesburg 9 out of 16. Substitutions—Massing for Berger, Heffrin for Garback, Moon for Conn, Hathaway for White, Sichi for Smith, Patsch for Porter. Referee—Hart.

Three Suits Filed Against C. C. Pyle

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 2.—(INS.)—The monetary difficulties of C. C. Pyle, promoter of the classic bunion derby last year, were further heightened yesterday when three suits were filed against him in connection with his Los Angeles-to-New York corn canter.

Richard Lang brought action in Municipal Court to collect $155.50 which he insists Cross Country Pyle owes him for work as advance agent and publicity man when the groggy athletes were hot-footing it across a nation. Pyle's former partner, Freeman P. Gunn, also is named as a defendant, although he has entered a general denial that he was a party to the transaction affecting Lang.

The two other suits against Pyle were filed by James E. Sheehan, seeking to recover $246 on a note, and by L. W. Greene, whose complaint recites that he holds Pyle's note for $395.

MALONEY HANDS BEATING TO HEENEY

BOSTON, March 2.—(AP.)—A left hand jab, the same blow that helped Gene Tunney to retain his title last July, again proved troublesome to Tom Heeney, the New Zealand heavyweight and he was decisively outpointed by Jimmy Maloney, of Boston, here last night in a bruising 10-round contest at the Boston Garden.

Heeney entered the ring after being inactive eight months and this idleness took its toll. He was heavier and more sluggish than he was against Tunney, but he bored in from the first bell to the last, never escaping from the left jabs which Maloney fed him with monotonous regularity.

Eight months ago, Heeney was known to fistiana as the "hard rock," but tonight Maloney had him well softened long before the contest reached the half-way mark. Tom tried vainly to land a hard righthand punch, the blow he used to knock out Maloney in a single round 18 months ago and he missed most of the attempts.

He was swinging his rights much too late and Maloney was always quick enough to find him with a left jab and, off-times, a hard left hook. These stinging punches cut Heeney's face and he was bleeding from a dozen facial cuts at the end, which found his opponent unmarked and fairly strong.

The score card showed that Maloney won eight rounds, Heeney one, the second and one session, the third, was even.

PITT SWIMMERS WHIP TECH

Pitt varsity and freshmen swimming teams carried victories over Carnegie Tech mermen in dual meets at the Tartan pool yesterday.

The Panther varsity defeated the Skibos, 49 to 12, while the Pitt Cubs upset the Plebes, 47 to 15.

The summary for the varsity meet:

200-yard relay—Won by Pitt—Mango, Stoffan, Swensen and Woolridge; Tech—Hornstagle, Hope, Redding and Wray. Time, 1:48 2-5.

Diving—Won by Tech—Basler, Tech, first; Meech, Tech, second; Wood, Pitt, third.

50-yard free style—Stoffan, Pitt, first; Woolridge, Pitt, second; Redding, Tech, third. Time, :26.

200-yard breast stroke—Swensen, Pitt, first; Underwood, Pitt, second; Sengpfeher, Tech, third. Time, 2:55 4-5.

220-yard free style—Woolridge, Pitt, first; Machwinney, Pitt, second; Hope, Tech, third. Time, 2:39 2-5.

150-yard back stroke—Mango, Pitt, first; Harper, Pitt, second; Burr, Tech, third. Time, 1:53 2-5.

100-yard free style—Stoffan, Pitt, first; Mango, Pitt, second; Wray, Tech, third. Time, 1:02.

NEW BRIGHTON, UNIONTOWN TO TILT TONIGHT

The boys from Section X and from Section III will fly at each other in tonight's W. P. I. A. L. elimination tournament contest in the Stadium Pavilion. Uniontown, almost a perennial representative of the tenth division and New Brighton, the team that is replacing New Castle, last year's runner-up, and regarded as another of those well known dark-horses, will entertain the cash and otherwise customers this evening.

Capt. Woods.

The mere mention of the name "Uniontown" in connection with basketball is enough to insure the success of a project. Uniontown is a hot-bed of basketball, always has been in fact, and they are supporting another strong team there this year. Capt. Woods, leader of the quintet is regarded as one of the neatest players in the district.

NEW BRIGHTON STRONG

New Brighton came through in tough Section III, knocking aside the opposition furnished by Beaver Falls, Butler, Mars, Ellwood City and Evans City. Beaver Falls and Butler both had strong teams, and the fact that New Brighton took both of 'em twice indicates that the Red and Gold has something. But then, Uniontown, under the very capable and veteran direction of Wizard Eberhart, likes to take these tough ones.

Last night, Larry Danver's Bellevue team, Section II champions, and undefeated at that, eliminated Dunbar Township, survivors of the newly organized Section XII by a 25-12 score. Bellevue will face Nate Lippe's Aliquippa club, which Thursday evening eliminated Braddock. This game will be played next Tuesday.

Bellevue got off to a 7-1 lead in the first period against Dunbar when Smith tallied three field goals and a foul for the North Boroughs quintet. Dunbar rallied strongly in the second period and held Bellevue scoreless, ringing up four points the while.

DUNBAR WILTS

The boys played about even in the third period, with Bellevue maintaining a slight edge in all-around play, but in the final quarter, Dunbar found the pace too strenuous, and with Updegraff and Birch flinging a long one from midcourt each, cracked wide open and permitted Bellevue to score 14 points and sew up the game.

Tully of Dunbar was the high scorer for his team with 7 points. He had two baskets and three fouls.

Bellevue, with a little improvement in passing and ball handling, looks like a team capable of giving Aliquippa as tough an evening as did Braddock. The lineup:

Bellevue—25.		Dunbar—12.
Smith	F	Honjosky
Sigal	F	Tully
Brown	C	Zeka
Birch	G	Palovchak
Updegraff	G	Dailey

Score by quarters:

Bellevue	7	0	4	14—25
Dunbar	1	4	3	4—12

Field goals—Smith 3, Sigal, Brown 2, Birch 2, Updegraff 2, Honjosky, Tully 2, Palovchak, Team fouls—Bellevue 9 out of 8, Dunbar 4 out of 10. Individual fouls—Bellevue, Smith 1 out of 2, Birch none out of 1, Updegraff 3 out of 4, Stankey 1 out of 1; Dunbar, Honjosky 1 out of 3, Tully 3 out of 4, Palovchak none out of 2. Substitutions—Stankey for Sigal, Sigal for Stankey, Cooley for Birch, Day for Sigal, Kiley for Zeka. Referee—Dan Daugherty. Umpire—Walter Waite. Time of periods—Eight minutes.

PIRATE INFIELD SHINES

in the squad by his cleverness around the bag and his nice disposition. Pie Traynor can cut loose with almost any kind of a toss and Sheely will come up with it.

It is still much too early to get any real slant on Jim Stroner, who has been hand-picked for Pie Traynor's old job. One can see that Jim is working under wraps on account of his recent operation for appendicitis Bush and the medical men on the squad watch the recruit closely, and they have warned him to refrain from extending himself at this time.

On the whole, however, the infield situation appears to be looking up. Bush does not appear to be worried about his first defense. Evidently he likes the actions of Stroner, despite the latter's handicaps. In the batting session, Jim has been clicking the ball like a real slugger.

The morning workout of today featured batting just as did the two sessions of yesterday. Another long hitting drill is on the books for this afternoon.

Brame is a left-handed batter with plenty of power in his punch. In yesterday's session he snapped a long liner to right that hit the fence on the carry. The barrier is something like 400 feet from the plate.

Bush keeps the other pitchers away from the plate. Apparently he thinks they have enough to do to get their arms and legs in shape. So when they are not serving balls to the hitters, the sharpshooters are engaged in "shagging" the long drives that dent the fences; also they must take a certain amount of fly-chasing from the bat of Chic Fraser and other fungo hitters.

Lee Meadows' arm is responding to the training treatment. Lee has loosened up well in the past few days, so much so that he will get a chance to throw to the hitters today.

Several members of the squad have received cards from Lloyd Waner, who is still in Ada, Okla., the old home town. The officials of the club in Paso Robles have nothing new to report on the little stars, but there is no immediate cause for worry. Give Paul and Lloyd about three weeks of preparation and they will be doing their stuff prettily.

Carl Frey walked up to the plate and slapped the ball on the nose like a real batsman. The Pittsburgh boy swings from the left side and when he leaves the batter's box for the sprint to first he shows some nice speed.

Waynesburg Refuses To Register Matmen

WAYNESBURG, March 2.—Following in the path of Washington and Jefferson and several Big Ten Conference colleges in their dispute with officials of the A. A. U. in regard to registration of athletes for intercollegiate and college amateur club athletic contests, Faculty Manager of Athletics James M. Miller, of Waynesburg College, has refused to register members of the Waynesburg College wrestling team for a match scheduled here for tonight with the mat team of the Wheeling Y. M. C. A.

Miller has received word, however, that the Wheeling athletes will be here for the match.

Mayor of Berlin Welcomes Max Back Home

BERLIN, March 2.—(AP.)—Germany's capital officially welcomed Max Schmeling, leading heavyweight of the country, through a speech by Lord Mayor Boess at a reception tendered to the boxer by the German Boxing Federation.

The Lord Mayor placed Schmeling's services to his country "on a par with any political or diplomatic successes that may be achieved at Geneva." He also requested American correspondents especially "to convey my thanks to my New York colleague, Mayor Walker, for the royal way he treated our Max."

Chillysauce

Ervin Brame, tall Kentuckian who pitched fine ball for the Pirates at intervals last season, seems to be one of the surest hitters in the big squad of players here, and Manager Bush pays him a deserved compliment in allowing him to bat with the regulars.

WHEELING WINS IN FIRST TITLE DEFENSE

WELLSBURG, W. Va., March 2.—Two upsets resulted in the first round play held here yesterday in the Bethany sectional basketball tournament. One of the biggest features of the preliminary games was the impressive victory of Wheeling High School, 1928 champions. Middlebourne and Follansbee went into the second round with impressive victories. Wellsburg showed up well against Williamstown. The most impressive victory staged by a dark horse was the 34-17 decision gained by Warwood over Union, one of the four seeded teams.

Wheeling took things easy in beating West Liberty, 55-10. And Bethany was an easier victim, 65-19, in its second test.

Substitutions—Marquis for Myers, Field goals—Cowan, Hewitt, McCracken 3, Mancuso, Thompson, Barkstrom, Reid, Goals from fouls—Waynesburg 8 out of 11; East Washington 10 out of 15. Referee—Richman.

TECH CO-EDS IN SHOOT

The Carnegie Tech Co-Eds will meet the women's rifle teams representing George Washington University of Washington, D. C., in a shoulder-to-shoulder match on the Carnegie Tech range this afternoon. Shooting will begin at 2 o'clock.

LONG'S SPORT COMMENT

before the close of the regular season, Lionel has a chance to pull even farther ahead of Johnson's mark.

THE management of the Chicago White Sox believes that it has put over a smart deal and one that will help its club greatly by trading Outfielder Bib Falk to Cleveland for Catcher Martin Autry. It develops that the Pale Hose bosses, in sore need of a catcher, had been trying to swing that swap since last fall, though they did not succeed until this week.

"Autry has never had a chance in Cleveland," said Manager Russell Blackburne, "because Luke Sewell is a glutton for work behind the plate. I contend that Autry, given regular employment, will develop into one of the star catchers of the American League." Blackburne hints that he may make another trade within the next week or two.

Johnny Evers.

IT WAS thought last year that Connie Mack was setting a record in surrounding himself with former ex-managers, as he had a board of strategy that included such former major league pilots as Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Eddie Collins and Harry Davis. But the Boston National League club has outstripped him in its managerial cabinet for 1929. President Emil Fuchs, who has assumed the duties of manager, is without previous experience, but behind him there is a flock of five former major league skippers and one who was a general in the minors. So, in number of strategists, at least, the Braves are a step ahead of the Athletics of 1928.

FIRST assistant to Fuchs is Johnny Evers. Johnny, though labeled only a lieutenant, probably has forgotten more baseball than Fuchs will ever know, but that is neither here nor there. Only previous managerial engagements are being considered, and Evers formerly managed the Cubs and White Sox. The business chief is Fred Mitchell, once skipper of the Cubs and Braves, and his aide is Jack Slattery, who was pilot of the Braves last year until Rogers Hornsby supplanted him.

In the playing ranks of the club there are George Sisler, ex-skipper of the Browns, and Rabbit Maranville, who for a time held the title of manager of the Cubs. And in addition to these, there is Hank Gowdy, now a coach, who formerly managed the Columbus club of the American Association. Though it has been said that the Braves have no manager, developments before the season is very far advanced may indicate that they have entirely too many.

WHILE the relative merits of the leading professional basketball players of the last decade are being discussed, some followers of the present American League rise to remark that Henry (Dutch) Dehnert, formerly of the Celtics and now of the Cleveland Rosenblums, must not be overlooked.

Not a few express the opinion that Dehnert is entitled to at least an equal ranking with the greatest players the game has known in 10 years. Though quiet and self effacing, and seldom getting into the headlines, it is held by close observers that Dehnert is the class of the present-day floor stars.

Dutch Dehnert

"THERE is not a player in basketball today who can do as much with a basketball as Dehnert," asserts one veteran of the sport. "There is not a player who has a better basketball head than the famous ex-Celtic star, and from a player who has been at his side for more than 10 years I learn that it was Dehnert who was the real leader, captain and adviser of the great Celtic machine. During all the great career of the Celtics, Dehnert was

PROFIT TAKING TURNS STOCKS IRREGULAR

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP.)—The stock market opened irregular today on profit-taking inspired by the rapidity of yesterday's advance. American Water Works opened 2 points higher at 94, and advance Rumely common moved up 5 points to 75, both new high records. Northern Pacific, Chrysler and Consolidated Gas each opened a point higher. Union Pacific yielded a point on the first sale and Westinghouse Electric, Montgomery-Ward and Anaconda Copper fell back fractionally.

Raising of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank rate to the 5 per cent level prevailing in the majority of other central institutions, and the annual report of the Federal Reserve Board, repeating its warning against credit inflation, had a restraining effect on bullish enthusiasm. Fears also were expressed in some quarters that the recent advances in the price of red metal might, if carried further, result in a marked lightening of consumer demands.

Adams Express, which jumped 25 points yesterday and 60½ the day before, broke 15 points. Loew's fell back 2½ on unconfirmed reports that the Fox interests had bought control, and Kolster Radio yielded 2¾. Radio (old) dropped 3 points, Anaconda 2 and early declines of a point or more were registered by U. S. Steel common, International Combustion, National Cash Register, American and Foreign Power and Baltimore and Ohio.

Midland Steel Products preferred quickly ran up 7 points to a new high record at 264. Case Threshing Machine advanced 4 points, and Packard, Safeway Stores and International Telephone sold 2 or more points higher. Missouri Pacific common and preferred moved into new high ground.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with sterling cables 1-32 of a cent lower at $4.85¼.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, March 2.—With foreign buying a factor wheat prices averaged higher today in the early dealings. Many traders gave special attention to current talk about possible bullish effects of the presidential inaugural address and of chances of crop reversals, notably in Canada. Opening unchanged to ⅝c higher, Chicago wheat held near to initial figures. Corn, oats and provisions displayed firmness also with corn starting unchanged to ¼c up, but subsequently easing somewhat.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 2.—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 4 points to a decline of 1 point, generally 3 to 4 points higher in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and continued favorable reports from the cotton goods trade.

The advance met a renewal of week-end realizing, however. There also seemed to be some southern selling. While buying continued in moderate volume, prices eased back to about yesterday's closing quotations by the end of the first half hour.

Private cables reported continental buying and trade calling in Liverpool and said there were fair cloth sales for shipment to Egypt and South America in the Manchester market.

Cotton on ship board awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 149,000 bales, against 102,000 last year.

How Big Bank Heads Began; Are Bank Stocks Too High

By B. C. FORBES

THE four men who will take the leading part in guiding America's one-and-only two-billion-dollar bank are college-bred, but only one made his start in the banking business.

Thomas W. Lamont, the Morgan partner who will preside over the executive committee, started as a reporter, switched to the mercantile field, made a mark there, and then stepped into banking.

William C. Potter, the president, graduated as a bachelor of science in mining engineering from Boston Tech, joined the Guggenheim forces in Mexico and the Southwest, later became a rubber company president. He first became identified with the Guaranty Trust Company as a vice president in 1912, resumed his affiliations with the Guggenheims, but returned to the Guaranty eight years ago as chairman of the board, an office formerly held by Alexander J. Hemphill, who died.

Charles H. Sabin, who becomes chairman of the Guaranty Company, the important investment adjunct, was a produce clerk in Albany, but he was such a brilliant baseball player that a bank team induced him to change to banking. He proved even more successful as a banker than as a ball player, was drafted to New York and built up the Guaranty Trust Company to first place among all America's trust companies.

James R. Swan, president of the Guaranty Company, was a star football player at Yale before his graduation. Like Sabin, he migrated from banking in Albany to New York, became a Guaranty vice president, and fully a year ago became president of the Guaranty Company in succession to Harold Stanley, who was taken into the Morgan firm.

The average of the four is 55. James S. Alexander, who was chairman of the National Bank of Commerce, and who has been given the title of chairman of the board of the combined institutions, is 64.

Incidentally, while the National City Bank is not a "two-billion-dollar" institution, its net deposits exceed those of the new amalgamation. So do its capital, surplus and undivided profits. Wall street's sporting blood is aroused over the prospect of a battle for leadership by the Guaranty-Commerce, the National City and the Chase National Bank. Charles E. Mitchell, head of the National City, and Albert H. Wiggin, head of the Chase, are extremely dynamic go-getters.

BANKS are declared to have become unusually fussy about collateral. It would be interesting to test out the banks as to how much they would lend on bank stock collateral. In my humble opinion some of the most ridiculously-inflated stocks in the country are many bank stocks.

It was John J. Raskob who memorably declared that 15 times earnings constituted a more reasonable basis than 10 times earnings in figuring the value of stock. Even applying Raskob's yardstick, which represents an increase of 50 per cent over the old yardstick, it would be found that lots of bank stocks are grossly out of line. How to earn enough money to warrant current prices is a problem some bank presidents haven't yet solved.

The prospect has not been improved by the prices paid in many instances to take over smaller institutions owning branches. Conservative bankers state that in some cases deposits have been "purchased" at several times their reasonable worth.

THE Federal Reserve Board, as was to have been expected, tells Congress that no change in the existing banking legislation is desired by it. The boa I apparently feels that it already has sufficient power to compel, or at least induce, member banks to behave halfway circumspectly.

It is not so much what banks themselves have done that has excited protest; it is the abnormal lending of money on call in Wall street by non-banks, especially business corporations. The reserve authorities have not yet discovered how to control this new and dangerous phenomenon. Should this "bootleg" lending culminate in disaster, then we are likely to see an insistent attempt to enact legislation to curb it.

Meanwhile, every responsible citizen hopes that doings in Wall Street will lose front-page interest and gravitate return to normalcy.

KENNETH R. KINGSBURY, presiden. of the Standard Oil of California, who has been frequently mentioned in the newspapers as the possible successor of Col. Robert M. Stewart should John D. Rockefeller, Jr., succeed in ousting him from the presidency of Standard Oil of Indiana, enjoys the fullest confidence of both John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and Junior. He has risen from the very bottom of the Standard Oil ladder—at one time he had a back-wracking job firing a hungry furnace. He is xtremely capable and, in addition, is enormously liked by all classes of workers.

But I greatly doubt whether he could be induced to leave the sunshine of California and all his friends there to fill any job elsewhere. Ken Kingsbury is a 100 per cent California rooter.

AIR PROPELLER MAKERS PLAN EXPANSION

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

THE Standard Steel Propeller Corporation is being refinanced to permit the expansion of its capacity 2½ times. The plant is working day and night and demand is in excess of the present output. Additions to buildings are to be made to provide for the ultimate growth of production to five times its present rate.

A new Pennsylvania corporation has been formed to take over the assets of the original Delaware corporation which was organized eight years ago. The patents have been strengthened by the purchase of patents covering similar types of propellers during the past year.

The new corporation is to have a funded debt of $500,000 of 10-year 6 per cent sinking fund debentures which will be purchased by the J. H. Hillman, Jr., interests and other bankers. An issue of 12,000 shares of $7 cumulative convertible preference stock without par value of an authorized issue 20,000 shares is being privately offered. In addition to this 100,000 shares of no par common stock out of an authorized issue of 350,000 shares will be outstanding.

EACH share of the preference stock will be convertible into four shares of common stock at any time prior to March 1, 1934, and into three shares of common stock at any time prior to March 1, 1934, and March 1, 1939.

The preference and common stock are being issued for the purpose of acquiring the assets of the original company and the debentures will provide the new capital necessary for expansion.

The present output of the Standard Steel Propeller Company is four times that of any other maker of airplane propellers and its production is equal to that of all other makers combined. Virtually all of the United States Army and Navy planes are equipped with the company's propellers and the export business is growing rapidly. The propeller has been adopted as standard by the Japanese government.

THE propeller consists of a vanadium steel alloy hub with removable aluminum alloy blades. The propeller can be adjusted for distance flights, quick ascent and other special requirements. The removable blades make changes possible in case of damage. Minor damage to the blades can be repaired without serious difficulty.

The company works in close cooperation with the engineers of the Aluminum Company of America which supplies the blanks for the product.

Standard Steel propellers have been on many of the planes in record breaking air feats during the past few years. Lindbergh made his famous flight to Paris and the 40,000 miles of subsequent air travel in the "Spirit of St. Louis" with a Standard Steel propeller. Since then planes with this equipment down to the "Question Mark" have been performing outstanding accomplishments.

IN 1928 the company reported net profit before bond interest and federal taxes of $287,000. After interest and taxes net available for dividends was $226,100 or the equivalent of 1.69 times the dividend requirements on the preference stock. On the capitalization of the new company earnings after deducting preference dividends would have been equivalent to $1.42 a share on the common stock.

The management of the company will continue in the hands of the men who have brought the organization to its present stage of development. Harry A. Kraeling is president; John M. Haverty is vice president, and Thomas J. Ingram is treasurer. The directors consist of the three officers, Samuel E. Diescher and Howard S. Evans.

FAME AND RICHES IN STORE FOR 'TYPICAL AMERICAN GIRL'

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP.)—Profit taking today carried the speculative leaders in the bond market off slightly from their record figures of yesterday. Trading in the general list was dull, with sales running around $5,000,000 for the short session.

Anaconda Copper 7's sold down to 228, after getting up to 237 yesterday, and International Telephone convertible 4½'s were selling around 117, off about a point under Friday's closing.

Some weakness was shown by the oils, Sinclair 6's yielding fractionally. Dodge Brothers 6½s featured the industrials, with a small gain in the rails, Frisco 4½'s sold down fractionally to 86.

NEW YORK, March 2.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

MAN RESCUED IN STORE FIRE

BRADFORD, Pa., March 2.—(AP.)—One man narrowly escaped death in a fire here last night which destroyed a two-story building in the business district of Bradford with estimated damages of $40,000.

Max Keiffer, manager of the J. J. Newberry store, which owned the building, was overcome by smoke but was rescued and carried to safety by Bud Johnson, Negro truck driver.

The building also housed a drug store and a doctor's office.

Deafness Nearing, Musician Ends Life

CHICAGO, March 2.—(AP.)—Harrison Major Wild, 67, one of Chicago's best-known musicians, preferring death to deafness, killed himself last night. His body was found in the basement beside that of a pet dog which also had been killed by a bullet from a pistol.

Mrs. Wild said her husband, who for more than 30 years was a conductor of the Apollo Club and the Mendelssohn Maennerchor, had been despondent since deafness began restricting his musical usefulness. He often told her, she said, that life had become a burden because of his failing hearing.

Swallowing Peanut Is Fatal to Baby

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., March 2.—Richard Hixson, 2¼-year-old son of Morris D. Hixson, of this place, died yesterday in a Cleveland Hospital from the effects of swallowing a peanut last November. The peanut lodged in the child's lung and a short time later he developed pneumonia.

HUNT FOR PRIZE YOUNG WOMAN NATION-WIDE

A prize of $5,000 is on her head.

The most glamorous quest of modern times has started—the quest for the Typical American Girl.

Who is she? Where is she? The Sun-Telegraph, co-operating with other newspapers and Smart Set magazine is determined to find out.

Perhaps she is an efficient young business woman, or a charming member of her city's social set, or a girl who, by her interest in those things that make home real and beautiful, combines old-fashioned qualities with the smartness of today.

SEARCH JUST BEGINNING

No one knows exactly who she is, for the search for the Typical American Girl has just begun. The quest will continue until midnight, March 31, and it is expected that thousands will express their opinion of who the Typical American Girl is and where she can be found.

A few things we do know about her that will aid us in our quest. She has a fair education at least. She is intelligent.

ENTIRE FLAG CONTEST QUESTION LIST NOW AVAILABLE

NORTH SIDE, SOUTH HILLS And EAST END NEWS

ED SYKES, chief of Sidewalks' Mediterranean staff, and a reporter on the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph who is making a Mediterranean cruise, submits an interesting report on what he is seeing on his cruise. Writes Mr. Sykes on the letter head of the S. S. Laurentic:

"Mrs. Sykes and I were in Constantinople yesterday (Friday, February 8) that day being the Turks' Sunday. We arrived in a blizzard, but that did not deter the Mohammedans from washing their feet in the snow in front of the Mosques before going in to pray.

"Our guide told us there was a rush for second-hand hats when the President of Turkey ordered all persons wearing a fez or a veil to be shot—even before sunrise. The veils were banned because many men used to disguise themselves as women with a veil and commit all kinds of crimes, with a good chance to escape detection. The Sultan's treasury house with its $300,000,000 worth of jewels is protected by American fire engines.

"The first sign that greeted us when we arrived was a sign saying: 'Welcome to Turkey,' and taking the hint we had some for dinner that evening.

"Have been to Maderia, Gibraltar, Algiers, Naples and Athens and we are now headed for Jerusalem and the Palestine country; from there we will go to Cairo.

"At Gibraltar I wanted a glass of milk and to make myself understood was forced to draw a picture of a cow. The waiter in question shook his head knowingly and presently returned with two tickets for a bull fight.

"At Monte Carlo we visited the Casino. They gamble quietly there and lose their money painlessly, apparently. I saw one lady cry, but softly, and after she had had a good cry she returned to the gaming table to try her luck again. An American minister visited the Casino one night in knickers and was told he'd have to 'dress up' before he would be allowed in.

"In Naples I ran into a young fellow named Tony Angello, who used to live in Youngstown. He is helping to interest the followers of Mussolini in the game of baseball.

"I know some of my newspaper friends will be interested in hearing the ship we're on is as wet as the ocean. You can get a bottle of beer or ale for 17 cents. In Nice, however, at one of the hotels they charge Americans 80 cents for a ginger ale high-ball. It was remaked that bootleggers have nothing on these so-called Nice people.

"OUR visit to Athens was worth the cost of the entire trip. The Acropolis and the Parthenon give you a real thrill. In Athens there is a new stadium which will seat 60,000 persons and can accommodate all told 80,000 persons.

"At Algiers the women still wear the veil. Here you see more beggars in a day than you'd see in a year in America. And I shouldn't like to visit the Arab section's back alleys at night as the boys don't look at all pleasant. Before boarding our boat one enterprising young gentleman attempted to get my stickpin by the expedient of sticking a newspaper under my chin. The silly boy didn't know I had a safety clasp on the pin. If you ever visit Algiers watch out for boys with newspapers, especially if by that time you have bought a stickpin.

"I never saw such a place for thievery. Even the small boys think nothing of trying to put their hands in your pockets—and not for the purpose of keeping their hands warm, either."

IN SO FAR as the records show, Mr. Sykes is the only reporter on record who ever took a Mediterranean cruise for pleasure. I believe Mr. Max Henrici, another reporter, and Mr. Cy Hungerford, the cartoonist, went on some such junket once, but that was in the line of duty. Their paper demanded that they go and, of course, like good soldiers they took orders.

Ancient Greek Drama Set to Music Here, First Time in America

TECH STUDENTS IN GREEK PLAY

Students at Carnegie Institute of Technology's school of drama are writing another noteworthy chapter into the annals of the institution's histrionic achievement by presenting Euripides' "Trojan Women."

It is the first time in America that the great Greek drama has been presented with a musical score. The play closes Wednesday night.

The odes which hitherto have been read by the women in the chorus will be sung for the first time. Mary B. McNair, head of the school's eurythmic department, composed the score.

E. Martin Browne is directing the production.

Students who sing the parts of Trojan women led into captivity after the fall of Troy are Frieda Cazen, Esther Teitelbaum, Arrimenta Gully, Margaret Heckert, Ruth Bell and Annabel Kempton.

Irene Tedrow plays the lead as Hecuba.

"Trojan Women" is the first Greek drama to be staged at "Tech" in four years, according to Director Browne.

"Gay White Way" Boasted by Brookline

Brookline boulevard, the main thoroughfare of Brookline, is now Pittsburgh's "Gay White Way" with the completion of its new lighting system, which was completed yesterday. Alex Gray, superintendent of the Bureau of Lights, reported that 32 lamps on the boulevard were equipped with 600-candlepower lights. Nineteen of those lights are newly installed.

FLAG CONTEST QUERIES READY

Tomorrow, in the Sunday Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, the entire set of 75 questions of the Flag Contest of the United States Flag Association, being sponsored by the Sun-Telegraph and other Hearst newspapers, will be published.

Schools, clubs, organizations conducting local contest units, desiring additional copies of these questions can obtain any number upon application to the Flag Contest Editor of the Sun-Telegraph.

Applications to conduct local contest units can not be accepted after Friday, March 8. Those contemplating forming contest units therefore, must mail their applications at once.

The Flag Contest has exceeded all expectations. Thousands upon thousands of boys and girls throughout the country are competing for the unusual awards offered, and especially for the trip around the world offered the four winners of the National contest.

Trolley Crashes Auto, Woman Asks $25,000

Mrs. Marietta E. Clarke, 17-year-old wife of C. J. Clarke, of Ellwood City, Pa., has filed suit for $25,000 damage against the Pittsburgh Railways Company because of injuries she received last December 16. She w s riding with her husband in an automobile in Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, when, she says, a street car split a switch at Freemont street, and crashed into their automobile. Her knee and jaw were badly injured, she claims.

SCHOOL PLANS OPERETTA

"The Lass of Limerick Town," a romantic comic opera, will be presented by students of the Mt. Lebanon Junior and Senior High School in the Washington School auditorium, Washington road, Thursday and Friday evenings of next week. The production is in two acts, and will consist of a cast of 125 pupils.

The opera is under the general direction of Miss Jeannette Blair, who also has personal charge of the dramatic parts. The chorus and solo work is under the direction of Miss Orma Whitlach and Miss Marie Neumarker. The dances are directed by Miss Rosamond Van de Water.

All scenery and costuming will be the work of the school. The sets for scenery have been constructed in the school shop, under the direction of John D. Rogers. The painting of the scenery is being done by the art department under the direction of Miss Mary Stubler, and assisted by Miss Ruth Eickleay. The costumes represent the work of the art and household departments, under the personal supervision of Miss Stubler, Miss Dorothy Miller and Miss Jean Morrison.

Next Wednesday there will be a special matinee for the school children, Thursday and Friday evenings at 8 o'clock the operetta will be produced for the general public.

Lil Rogers Says

NEW YORK, March 2.

Mr. Coolidge, you are leaving us. This is only a comedian's eulogy. But I will never forget what your bosom friend, Dwight Morrow, told me that you said to him on being suddenly sworn into an office that wasn't yours.

"Dwight, I am not going to try and be a great President."

That's all you said. That will stand in my memory as the greatest remark any office holder ever made.

For no man is great if he thinks he is.

You should be leaving without a single regret. I have told many jokes about you, and this don't mean I am going to quit, for we love jokes about those we like.

And Mrs. Coolidge, any one who ever heard me mention your name on a public stage knows what I think of you.

I am only sorry I was too masculine to contribute to the beautiful gift of the ladies of Washington.

So, good luck, Cal, to you and Grace.

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

Men Are Like That!

MANY a young wife's love has been diluted by too much dishwater, and many a bridegroom's glamorous passion has been weakened by the struggle with the furnace.

A gentleman is one who always assumes that he is the only man you ever kissed—voluntarily.

Love is the strange, new emotion, which makes you shudder at the memory of all the foolish things you've done and all the little imitation romances that once seemed so glamorous.

Care may have killed a lot of people, but "Don't care!" is exterminating most of them, these merry gin-and-gasoline days.

The average man hands over his poker winnings to his wife with all the alacrity of a small boy giving up his lollypop to teacher.

When a man actually admits that he "thinks he is falling in love," he is already going down for the third time, and no lifeguard can drag him out.

The woman who is wedded to a profession and to a man at the same time, pays the full penalty for that sort of bigamy.

* * *

What a woman can't understand is why, in these days of intensive Prohibition, her husband still chews peppermints and carries cloves in his pocket.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Food Must Supply Fifteen Minerals.

PROPER feeding is essential to good health. The term "proper feeding" includes several factors. First, of course, is proper food. But after you have a supply of good food, it must be well prepared and taken in correct amounts.

DR. COPELAND

If foods, animal or vegetable, or both are placed in a furnace and burned, ashes will be left, just as ashes are left after burning wood or coal. The scientist uses this word in the singular, referring always to the indestructible remnant as the "ash."

Sometimes the ash is given another name, the "salts" of the food. As a matter of fact, the mineral elements in foods are usually found in combinations and not singly. The salts of fruits and vegetables are just as necessary to the welfare of the body as are the heat-producing and energy-producing foods.

The minerals most commonly found in the ash of vegetable and animal foods are phosphorous and potash. Not all foods carry these and other minerals in the same proportion.

See the importance of this statement? You cannot get your full supply of all the required minerals without eating a variety of food. The particular elements the infant demands can be had from milk. But in adult life you must have the salts that other foods supply in larger and more appropriate quantities than milk does.

In the ash of the human body are found 15 or 16 different mineral substances. This means that a well-nourished body must have an unfailing supply of 15 or 16 minerals.

How do we get these salts? What are their sources?

It may be interesting to go a bit into detail in this discussion. For instance, what could you hope to have in the way of hair if you could not get sulphur? This mineral is an essential ingredient of hair and the hair could not grow or thrive without it.

Sulphur is found in combination with certain protein foods. It is in the gluten of wheat. Likewise, it is one of the ingredients of peas. Of course there are other sources, but these are examples.

Potash is essential to overcome avidity. Meat and potatoes, wheat and peas, contain it.

Soda and chlorine are found in animal flesh. Likewise the ordinary table salt supplies them. The vegetables have small amounts.

The green vegetables, particularly the leafy vegetables, carry iron. Spinach, oatmeal and potatoes contain iron. This is a mineral the blood must have if health is to be maintained.

Fortunately, some of the common foods have iron. Apples, beef and the yolks of eggs carry it.

Iodine is in the carrots. Lime is in the milk, cereals, eggs and vegetables.

The fruits and all the vegetables possess valuable mineral salts. You cannot get on without these. Health depends on taking some of every salt.

Answers to Health Queries

MRS. D. D. D. Q.—What causes a bad breath?

2.—How can I reduce?

A.—A disagreeable breath may be due to nasal catarrh, diseased tonsils, decayed teeth, a furred or food carrying tongue, indigestion or constipation.

2.—Weight reduction is merely a matter of self-control as regards the diet. Exercise is, of course, essential.

L. E. F. Q.—What is good for enlarged pores on the nose?

A.—Hot and cold applications used alternately for 5 or 10 minutes twice daily should help this condition. Avoid the excessive use of cold cream and powder, which tends to clog the pores and coarsen the grain of the skin.

* * *

Mrs. X. Q.—What would cause a weak, hungry feeling all the time? My appetite is good, but right after eating I feel weak and in the morning I awaken more tired than when I went to bed.

A.—Auto-intoxication and hyperacidity would be apt to cause the feeling you describe. Watch your diet, drink copiously of water between meals and keep the system clear.

H. M. T. Q.—What causes a pain in the center of the back?

A.—There are a number of causes for this ailment. An examination by your doctor is necessary to locate the exact cause.

Z. M. Q.—How should yeast cakes be eaten and how often?

2.—How can I gain weight?

A.—Try taking one cake in water twice a day.

2.—Proper dieting and deep breathing is the secret. You should eat nourishing foods and have plenty of sleep and rest.

2.—Fresh air and deep breathing are essential. A tonic is beneficial.

H. K. Q.—How can flat feet be overcome?

2.—What causes night sweats

A.—This condition can be remedied by wearing the correct kind of supports.

2.—Sometimes this condition is due to serious trouble with the lungs. It would be advisable to have your lungs examined for absence or presence of tuberculosis.

3.—This condition may be due to Vincent's angina or canker sores.

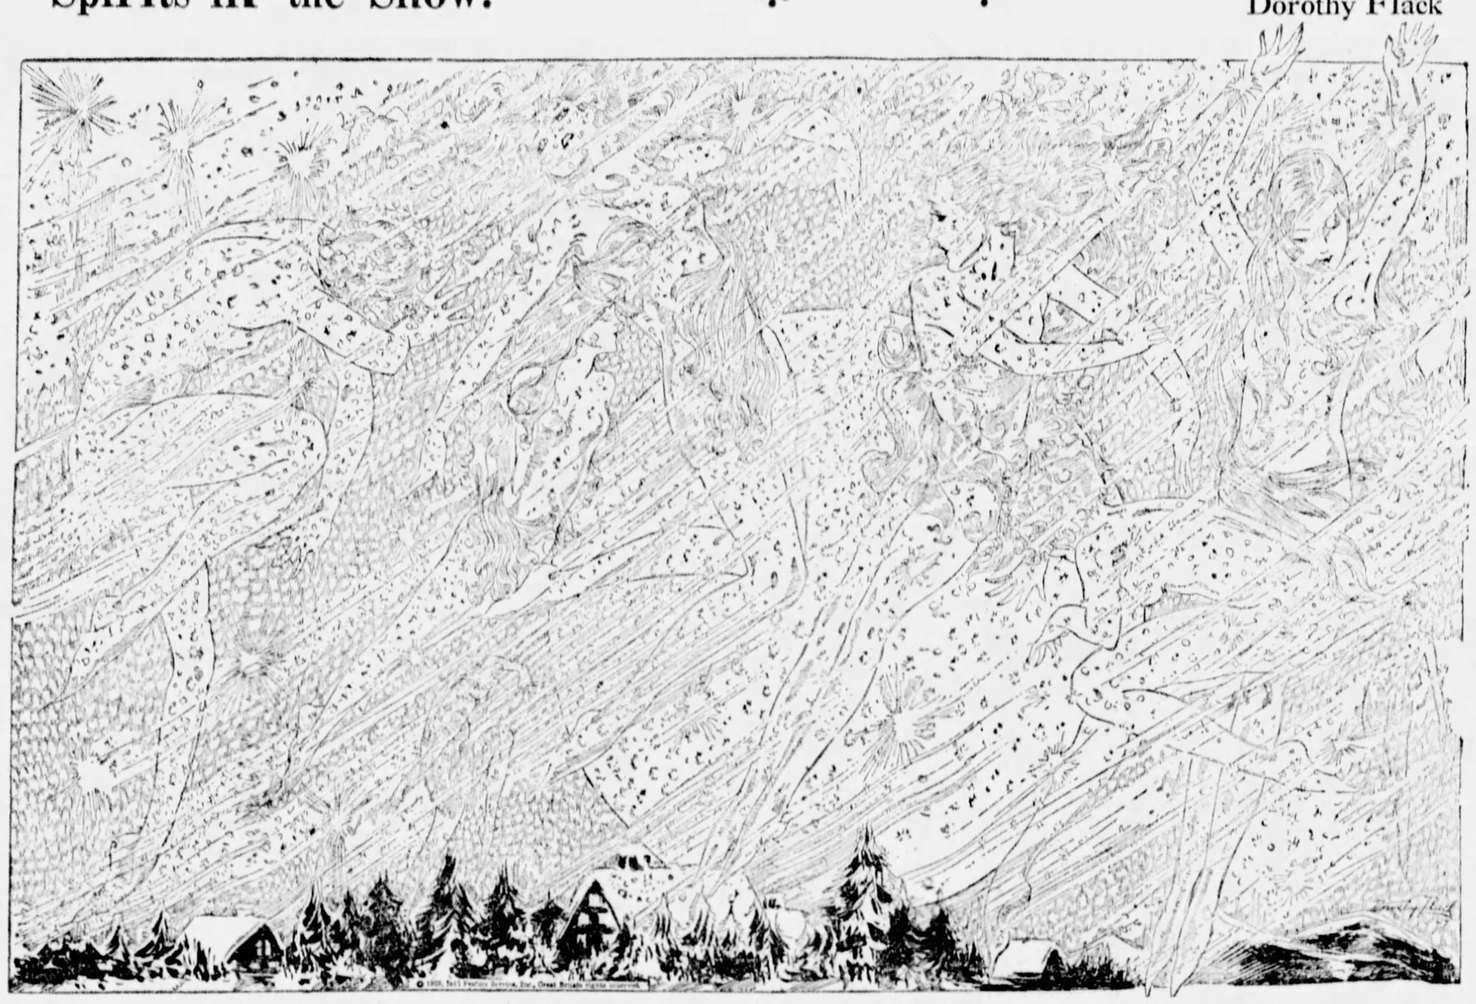
Spirits in the Snow:

Drawn by Dorothy Flack



DID you ever think when you see the tiny snowflakes softly falling and covering the earth with a rich ermine mantle that the Snow Spirits are guiding them? I've often watched the snow falling and thought that I could see shadowy shapes playing through their whiteness, dancing with the snowflakes and gleefully patting the snowy mantle snugly over the earth; telling the flowers and the grass and the trees not to worry, that they were simply covering them warmly for their Winter sleep so they would waken refreshed and lovelier than ever in the Spring days.

The flowers and the trees listen and nod their heads and nestle close to Mother Earth and take their long nap like the good children they are, and dream of the dancing spirits that watch over them and protect them.

The spirits of the snow! What wonderful things they are! Sometimes I think they must be the souls of those who have loved the glistening snow and the crispy cold when they were here on the earth which they so lovingly tend now. The snow lures them from their quiet places and brings them dancing back to earth for a short time. And who can deny that the care and love which they spread over the earth isn't prompted by the love which they have for those who are still her. It must be so! At any rate, that's what makes a snowstorm the most wonderful thing in the world to me—that and the Love which brings happiness to the snow spirits.

Horoscopes

Sunday, March 3

SUNDAY'S horoscope is a fairly interesting one excepting for those in the employment of others, who are enjoined to safeguard their positions. It is a good day for correspondence or literary pursuits, but otherwise is a day of rest.

Those whose birthday it is may find a year in which business may move along in a fairly satisfactory way, but those in employment are under a condition enjoining the utmost devotion to their positions and to the interests of their superiors. Let no friction or pettiness jeopardize positions.

A child born on this day may be fairly clever and versatile, but it may find it difficult to keep in employment. It may have some tendencies to friction and petty insubordination and irritabilities.

The very stars tremble above, as though the Voice Divine reverberated through the great expanse.—Anna Katherine Green.

Monday, March 4

"EXPECT not much from the hands of Fate," adjures a certain astrological adviser, yet the chart for this day points to several outstanding events of a personal as well as business nature. In the realm of social, domestic and romantic affiliatons there may be important developments, to bring much advantage and pleasure. In business new ventures are in order, but nevertheless there may be delays and obstructions, and the entire situation may be complicated by rashness, turbulence and ill-temper.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of some pleasant personal experiences. In business there may be new ventures, but these may be thwarted, postponed or nullified by turbulence and lack of restraint and good management. With care things may be made to progress.

A child born on this day may be endowed with many contradictory qualities. It may have many social qualities and talents, but also may be impetuous and turbulent. Its career will not be monotonous.

Fate is unpenetrated causes.—Emerson.

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge's Story of Flaw in Car Diverts Mother Graham's Wrath.

I FOUND Harry Underwood with Dicky and Mother Graham upon the front veranda. My mother-in-law was sitting stiffly in her chair and I knew that something had offended her, for her foot was tapping the floor, sure sign that she has had her feelings ruffled. Then my eyes followed hers to the driveway in which stood the new car Mr. Underwood had bought, and the riddle was clear. She had not been asked to take a drive in the car, or—rather she had not been given the first invitation, and she was highly incensed at the slight as she considered it. My doughty mother-in-law jealously cherishes her dignity as the senior member of the family, and counts as a direct affront any attention offered to any other member before her.

I knew that I must placate her if any of us were to take any pleasure in the car, and as Dicky and Harry rose, I slipped past them, ignoring the chairs they pulled forward and took a seat behind Mother Graham and facing them. From that vantage point I signaled them violently to follow my lead, and gave what appeared to be a worried warning:

"By the way, don't forget to have the cushion of that rear seat fixed at Riverhead. I can't let Mother Graham go for a drive with you until that seat is fixed."

Mother Graham turned to me truculently.

"How often have I told you, Margaret, that I do not permit that phraseology to be used concerning me?" she demanded. "I want you to understand once and for all that I am not a child to be 'let go for a drive.' What is the matter with the seat?"

She turned back to Mr. Underwood, and I triumphantly noted that I had transferred part of her wrath at least to my diction. And I took care to answer her question before Mr. Underwood could frame one.

"We think it is some little piece of the spring. It doesn't amount to much, but it's right on the right side where you always sit, and I know you'd be most uncomfortable if you ride in it before it's fixed. I warned Harry this morning when he was looking for you to go for a drive that he mustn't ask you until that seat was fixed. But there's a good place at Riverhead—you ought to be able to get it fixed there this morning, Harry, and then this afternoon you can issue the invitation I stopped this morning."

I managed a gay little laugh at the end of my sentence, and saw to my glee that Mother Graham's foot had stopped its tapping.

Mr. Underwood took my cue and elaborated upon it artistically.

"Just wait till I see the bird that sold me that boat," he said. "The seat looked all right, and of course I was paying most of my attention to the engine. If Madge and Lil hadn't told me about it, I'd have had you out in it this morning, and then you'd have been uncomfortable and I never would have forgiven myself. But I'll have it fixed by this afternoon. Where did you say that place was, Madge?"

I rose precipitately, faced with the dilemma of naming a place I just had invented.

"I have the address in the library," I said. "I'll get it for you."

"Don't bother," Mr. Underwood said, to my great relief, walking with me down the veranda, "I'll just come with you."

Safely in the library, he grinned diabolically.

"Well, Sapphira!" he said. "how do you feel? You ought to be smacked, libeling my perfectly good car. But I guess you saved the day, at that."

"It simply had to be done," I said. "I haven't any address, of course."

"Well, Jones is a good innocuous name, if she ever asks about it, which I doubt."

"There's something else," I said hurriedly. "Mary just received her weekly letter from the Braithwaites which I suppose contains her allowance. She is now writing a letter, which I fancy she means to post at Riverhead. If you can, will you get a look at it?"

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

These Informal Days

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. I am in doubt as to whether a response should be made to "Thank you." I have been told it is not correct to say, "You are welcome," and then again I have been told that it is very impolite not to say, "You are welcome." Please help me out.

2. Is it permissible to ask a boy, whom you barely know and who has not shown any attention to you, to a party? A. R. T.

"YOU are welcome," or "You're very welcome" or "You're quite welcome" is correct as a reply to "Thank you." Sometimes, "It is a pleasure," or "I am happy to be able to do it," or something of this kind is appropriate for special occasions. "Thank you very much" is also often appropriate. Sometimes only a bow and a smile are necessary. But some courteous acknowledgment must be made to a polite "Thank you."

2. This does seem to me, as of course it seems to you, rather far-fetched, but in these informal days this certainly is done. Mainly it depends on the amount of grace with which it is done.

What Name to Use

DEAR MRS. BEECHMANN:

When I marry, will it be proper to use my first name, middle initial and married name, or should I use my first name, initial of the last name of my maiden name, and my married name?

INTERESTED READER.

THE form of the name you choose to use depends finally on your own preference, and the fact that you choose it makes it correct. The two forms oftenest used are: the first and last names of the maiden name and the last name of the married name, Sarah, Brown Robson; or the first name of the maiden name and the last name of your married name, Sarah Robson. Initials are not very good form, and so most married women do not use the forms that you suggest. However, they are correct, if you prefer them.

Selecting the Ring

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. What should a married woman's signature be on her social letters? (say that my maiden name was Mary Smith).

2. What is the form for her visiting cards? Is Mrs. B. H. Jones correct?

3. Is it customary for a girl to select her engagement ring?

B. H. J.

FOR those letters to very close friends.

Devotedly yours,

MARY

Is correct. If the full name is to be written, it is either MARY SMITH JONES, or MARY JONES.

2. On her visiting cards, MRS. BENJAMIN HENRY JONES is correct. There should be no abbreviations.

3. This is customary now. And wise too, I think. The designs may be sent, by her fiance, to the girl's home. Or several rings may be taken to her home by the jeweler or his assistant. Or the girl may go to the jeweler's with her fiance. The first form is the best.

Tablecloths

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. Will you kindly tell me what kind of a tablecloth should be used on a dining room table for an after-theater supper or light lunch for four people?

2. Should the electric percolator coffee set with tray be placed on the table and the coffee poured there or not?

CONSTANT READER.

ANY kind of informal cloth that is of the correct size is proper. And now there are such attractive cloths for just this kind of party. Cloths of interesting and unusual weaves, of delightful tints (as well as white) and from all countries. Now there is a tendency toward the very fine cloth—of handkerchief linen, for instance. Or you may, if it is more convenient, use runners and doilies.

2. That is correct and usually the more convenient method.

To Clean Black Coats

A soiled black coat can be quickly cleaned by applying to it with a sponge strong coffee to which a few drops of ammonia have been added. Finish the process by rubbing the coat with a piece of colored woolen cloth.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

In over 25 years of practice, we have made thousands of persons better looking, happier and more successful in life, by freeing them of skin disorders, growths and disfigurements. There are still thousands who require our services, but keep putting it off. For some reason or other. If it's proof of our work you desire, call in person or let us send you our booklet of results. Read these letters of gratitude and then determine WHO IS TO BLAME.

Public Sale
Of Real Estate

In the Orphans' Court of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, No. 230, February Term, 1929.

In the matter of EMMANUEL NINOS, AMELIA NINOS and SOPHIA NINOS, MINORS.

The undersigned, guardian of the estates of EMMANUEL NINOS, AMELIA NINOS and SOPHIA NINOS, minors, pursuant to an order of the Orphans' Court of Allegheny County, made on February 14, 1929, at the above number and term, will offer at

to the highest and best bidder, in the Rotunda of the first floor of the City-County Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., on Monday the 11th day of March, 1929, at 10 o'clock a. m.,

the undivided interest of said minors, being the undivided one-third interest of, in and to the following described real estate, to-wit:

All those certain lots of pieces of ground situate in the Borough of McKees Rocks, County of Allegheny and State of Pennsylvania, and being the whole of lots numbered 10 and 11 in the John A. McKee Plan of Lots as recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book Vol. 6, pages 22 and 23, and more particularly bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Binding on Chartiers avenue at the corner of lots numbered 9 and 10 in said plan; thence southeastwardly by said dividing line 137.44 feet to the southern boundary line of said plan of lots along Chartiers Creek; thence by said southern boundary line of said plan, southwestwardly 48 feet to the dividing line between lots numbered 11 and 12 in said plan; thence northwestwardly, and in a northerly direction 131.20 feet, more or less, to Chartiers avenue, and thence along said Chartiers avenue northeastwardly 48 feet to the place of beginning.

Having thereon erected two two-story frame buildings known as numbers 121 and 123 Chartiers avenue.

The title to said premises is in fee simple and free and clear of all liens and encumbrances and the purchaser will be expected to pay the borough, school and county taxes for the year 1929.

The successful bidder shall have the option to purchase the remaining outstanding two-thirds interest at the same pro rata price and terms, provided such option be exercised at the same time as the bid is made.

TERMS OF SALE

Twenty-five per cent of bid when the property is struck down and the balance upon confirmation of sale by the court and delivery of deed.

The right to reject all bids and to adjourn the sale from time to time is reserved.

AN ORDINANCE—Widening portions of Baldwin road in the Twenty-eighth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, between a point 37.14 feet west of the westerly line of Steen street and the easterly line of the T. C. Perrine Plan and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That portions of Baldwin road in the Twenty-eighth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, between a point 37.14 feet west of the westerly line of Steen street and the easterly line of the T. C. Perrine Plan be and the same are hereby widened to variable widths by taking for the public use for highway purposes all the property hereinafter described as Portion "A," "B," "C," "D," "E" and "F" respectively, to-wit:

PORTION "A"

Beginning at the intersection of the southerly line of Baldwin road and the westerly line of Steen street; thence extending along the westerly line of Steen street south 35° 46' 00" west 1.27 feet to a point, thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 558.0 feet, a central angle of 3° 50' 35" and a chord bearing north 40° 54' 40" west for an arc distance of 37.43 feet to the southerly line of Baldwin road; thence along the southerly line of Baldwin road north 81° 33' 20" west 46.96 feet to the place of beginning.

PORTION "B"

Beginning at the intersection of the westerly line of the T. C. Perrine Plan of record in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book, Volume 11, pages 160-161, and the northerly line of Lyndale street (formerly Louisa avenue) as laid out in the said Plan; thence extending along the westerly line of the said Plan north 35° 46' 10" east 5.50 feet to a point; thence south 42° 59' 00" east 7.75 feet to the northerly line of Lyndale street; thence along the northerly line of Lyndale street north 81° 48' 20" west 8.57 feet to the place of beginning.

PORTION "C"

Beginning at the intersection of the northerly line of Baldwin road and the southerly line of Lyndale street as laid out in the above mentioned T. C. Perrine Plan; thence extending along the southerly line of Lyndale street south 81° 48' 20" east 5.09 feet to a point; thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 500.0 feet, a central angle of 10° 39' 25" and a chord bearing south 42° 22' 20" east for an arc distance of 130.20 feet to the northerly line of Baldwin road; thence along the northerly line of Baldwin road north 56° 15' 20" west 53.04 feet to an angle in the same; thence continuing along the same north 35° 48' 20" west 83.02 feet to the place of beginning.

PORTION "D"

Beginning at the first angle in the northerly line of Baldwin road east of Grimes street as laid out in the above-mentioned T. C. Perrine Plan; thence extending along the northerly line of Baldwin road as laid out in the said Plan north 56° 15' 20" west 54.06 feet to a point; thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 500.0 feet, a central angle of 11° 18' 50" and a chord bearing south 68° 00' 05" east for an arc distance of 98.73 feet to the northerly line of Baldwin road; thence along the northerly line of Baldwin road north 81° 33' 20" west 46.96 feet to the place of beginning.

PORTION "E"

Beginning at the first angle in the northerly line of Baldwin road west of Emblem street as laid out in the above-mentioned T. C. Perrine Plan; thence extending along the northerly line of Baldwin road north 81° 33' 20" west 35.83 feet to a point; thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 700.0 feet, a central angle of 4° 47' 45" and a chord bearing south 89° 22' 45" east for an arc distance of 58.59 feet to the northerly line of Baldwin road; thence along the northerly line of Baldwin road south 87° 46' 30" east 23.59 feet to the place of beginning.

PORTION "F"

Beginning on the easterly line of the above-mentioned T. C. Perrine Plan at a point distant south 12° 58' 20" east 25.01 feet along the easterly line of the said Plan from the northerly line of Baldwin road as laid out in the said Plan; thence extending along the easterly line of the said Plan produced south 12° 58' 20" east 30.32 feet to a point; thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 350.0 feet and a central angle of 15° 28' 20" and a chord bearing south 84° 41' 50" west for an arc distance of 94.51 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 76° 57' 40" west 76.09 feet to the intersection of the northerly line of Baldwin road as laid out in the Woodlawn Terrace Plan of record in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book, Volume 29, pages 110-111 and the easterly line of the said Woodlawn Terrace Plan; thence extending along the easterly line of the said Woodlawn Terrace Plan produced north 8° 32' 40" east 24.19 feet to a point; thence parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 25.0 feet south of the northerly line of Baldwin road as laid out in the above-mentioned T. C. Perrine Plan north 78° 41' 40" east 160.67 feet to the place of beginning.

SECTION 2. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said portions of Baldwin road in the Twenty-eighth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, between a point 37.14 feet west of the westerly line of Steen street and the easterly line of the T. C. Perrine Plan to be widened in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of this Ordinance.

SECTION 3. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby and the benefits to pay the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

SECTION 4. That any Ordinance or part of Ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this Ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

NO. 130.

AN ORDINANCE—Widening Wind Gap avenue in the Twenty-eighth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Youghiogheny avenue to Berry street and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Wind Gap avenue in the Twenty-eighth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Youghiogheny avenue to Berry street be and the same is hereby widened to a variable width so that the street as widened shall lie between the following described lines, to-wit:

The easterly and northerly line shall begin at a point on the southerly line of Youghiogheny avenue, said point being distant 5.0 feet eastwardly along the southerly line of Youghiogheny avenue from the intersection of the present easterly line of Wind Gap avenue and the southerly line of Youghiogheny avenue as laid out in the Johnston Place Plan of lots of record in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book, Volume 18, page 15; thence extending parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet east of the present easterly line of Wind Gap avenue south 26° 28' 10" west 706.65 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 430.0 feet, a central angle of 6° 43' 35" and a chord bearing south 29° 50' 00" west for an arc distance of 50.48 feet to the northerly line of Clarkton street; thence south 31° 43' 00" west 40.0 feet to the intersection of the southerly line of Clarkton street and the present easterly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence along the present easterly line of Wind Gap avenue south 49° 28' 10" west 17.0 feet to a point; thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 430.0 feet and a central angle of 8° 44' 45" and a chord bearing south 45° 05' 50" west for an arc distance of 65.64 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet east of the present easterly line of Wind Gap avenue south 49° 28' 10" west 351.53 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 2030.0 feet and a central angle of 2° 06' 00" for a distance of 74.46 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 51° 37' 20" west 462.32 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southerly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 2170.0 feet and a central angle of 49° 56' 30" for a distance of 235.34 feet to an intersection with the present easterly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence along the same south 39° 19' 20" east 272.73 feet to an angle in the same; thence continuing along the same south 23° 56' 40" east 163.64 feet to a point; thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 1970.0 feet, a central angle of 2° 49' 00" and a chord bearing south 36° 22' 40" east for an arc distance of 96.85 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 37° 57' 10" east 883.47 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southeasterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 970.0 feet and a central angle of 10° 24' 30" for a distance of 179.03 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 48° 31' 40" east 312.17 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southeasterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 2030.0 feet and a central angle of 7° 05' 00" for a distance of 250.96 feet to a point of tangent; thence by a tangent south 41° 26' 40" east 432.21 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southeasterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius 830.00 feet and a central angle of 13° 43' 30" for a distance of 198.82 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 27° 43' 10" east 139.71 feet to an intersection with the present easterly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence along the same south 21° 35' 40" east 78.92 feet to a point; thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 220.0 feet, a central angle of 22° 21' 45" and a chord bearing south 51° 37' 20" east for an arc distance of 86.51 feet to an intersection with the present northerly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence along the same south 88° 53' 20" east 128.10 feet to an angle in the same; thence continuing along the same south 67° 53' 20" east 137.37 feet to a point; thence by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 630.0 feet, a central angle of 6° 05' 00" and a chord bearing south 74° 21' 20" east for an arc distance of 110.87 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 69° 18' 40" east 307.67 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southeasterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 430.0 feet and a central angle of 11° 10' 30" for a distance of 83.87 feet to an intersection with the present northerly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence along the same south 72° 24' 00" east 21.13 feet to an angle in the same; thence continuing along the same south 38° 56' 00" east 21.82 feet to a point; thence in a southeasterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 430.0 feet and a central angle of 8° 44' 45" for a distance of 65.64 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 21° 50' 10" west 462.32 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southerly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 330.0 feet and a central angle of 13° 43' 30" for a distance of 101.19 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 39° 10' 10" east 413.97 feet to an intersection with the present northerly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence by the same south 42° 26' 40" east 28.35 feet to a point; thence north 89° 55' 40" east 29.40 feet to the westerly line of Berry street at a point distant north 43° 25' 00" east 25.48 feet along the westerly line of Berry street from the present northerly line of Wind Gap avenue and north 43° 25' 00" east 20.07 feet from the intersection of the westerly line of Berry street and the dividing line between the City of Pittsburgh and the Borough of Ingram.

The westerly and southerly line shall begin at a point on the southerly line of Youghiogheny avenue, said point being distant 5.04 feet westwardly along the southerly line of Youghiogheny avenue from the intersection of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue, said point being distant 5.0 feet westwardly along the southerly line of Youghiogheny avenue from the intersection of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence extending parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet west of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue south 26° 28' 10" west 710.39 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 270.0 feet and a central angle of 23° 00' 00" for a distance of 148.53 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet west of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue south 49° 28' 10" west 351.53 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 2030.0 feet and a central angle of 2° 06' 00" for a distance of 74.46 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet west of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue south 45° 22' 10" west 52.78 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 2,030.0 feet and a central angle of 3° 05' 00" for a distance of 109.18 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet west of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue south 40° 17' 10" west 145.57 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 430.0 feet and a central angle of 8° 44' 45" for a distance of 65.64 feet to an intersection with the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence along the same south 40° 17' 10" west 3.53 feet to an angle in the same; thence continuing along the same south 21° 50' 10" west 462.32 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southerly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 330.0 feet and a central angle of 13° 43' 30" for a distance of 79.06 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 39° 10' 10" east 413.97 feet to an intersection with the present northerly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence by the same south 42° 26' 40" east 28.35 feet to a point; thence north 89° 55' 40" east 29.40 feet to the westerly line of Berry street at a point distant north 43° 25' 00" east 25.48 feet along the westerly line of Berry street from the present northerly line of Wind Gap avenue and north 43° 25' 00" east 20.07 feet from the intersection of the westerly line of Berry street and the dividing line between the City of Pittsburgh and the Borough of Ingram.

The westerly and southerly line shall begin at a point on the southerly line of Youghiogheny avenue, said point being distant 5.04 feet westwardly along the southerly line of Youghiogheny avenue from the intersection of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue, said point being distant 5.0 feet westwardly along the southerly line of Youghiogheny avenue from the intersection of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence extending parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet west of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue south 26° 28' 10" west 710.39 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the right with a radius of 270.0 feet and a central angle of 23° 00' 00" for a distance of 148.53 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet west of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue south 49° 28' 10" west 351.53 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 2030.0 feet and a central angle of 2° 06' 00" for a distance of 74.46 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet west of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue south 45° 22' 10" west 52.78 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 2,030.0 feet and a central angle of 3° 05' 00" for a distance of 109.18 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 5.0 feet west of the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue south 40° 17' 10" west 145.57 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southwesterly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 430.0 feet and a central angle of 8° 44' 45" for a distance of 65.64 feet to an intersection with the present westerly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence along the same south 40° 17' 10" west 3.53 feet to an angle in the same; thence continuing along the same south 21° 50' 10" west 462.32 feet to a point of curve; thence in a southerly direction by the arc of a circle deflecting to the left with a radius of 330.0 feet and a central angle of 13° 43' 30" for a distance of 79.06 feet to a point of tangent; thence by the tangent south 39° 10' 10" east 413.97 feet to an intersection with the present northerly line of Wind Gap avenue; thence by the same south 42° 26' 40" east 28.35 feet to a point; thence north 89° 55' 40" east 29.40 feet to the westerly line of Berry street at a point distant north 43° 25' 00" east 25.48 feet along the westerly line of Berry street from the present northerly line of Wind Gap avenue and north 43° 25' 00" east 20.07 feet from the intersection of the westerly line of Berry street and the dividing line between the City of Pittsburgh and the Borough of Ingram.

BUGS BAER Says

THE INAUGURAL DERBY.

WASHINGTON is all set and hatched for the circus diplomacy of March the Fourth.

Two Presidents will be crowned. One with the bay leaf and the other with forget-me-nots.

"Bugs" Baer

Mr. Hoover will be wearing the wreath of victory around his otherwise silky hat.

In the hand of Mr. Coolidge will be clutched a small bouquet of the post cripts of the floral kingdom.

These two prominent cigaret indorsers are going for a ride.

Fortunately its in Washington.

And not in Chicago.

They will parade up Pennsylvania avenue, for all the world like two modest husbands of Lady Godiva.

The inaugural ceremonies will be established on the Capitol step

A guard has been stationed to prevent a Democrat from soaping 'em.

Mr. Hoover will make a temporary speech of 15,000 words.

After every hem is hawed, and all the applause is bracketed, this speech could be boiled down to one word, "Yes."

And that's boiling down the peec' without scalding it.

The most important section of the parade will be the hat-tipping. Mr. Hoover will bow and scrape to the right. Mr. Hoover will bend and fidget to the left.

In order to promote safety and preserve traffic, the chauffeur will wear blinkers.

Out of deference to certain details of the last eight years, Andy Mellon has requested Mr. Coolidge not to tip his hat while passing the Treasury.

It's a beautiful dash up Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the White House. The track is wide and sweeping, the homestretch has been rolled and the bookies are betting 6 to 1 that the boys will finish one, two.

Somewhere in the parade will be the new Vice-President. Only a file-closer in the pageant of victory.

He does not tip his hat to the cheers.

Only to the echoes.

Starting at noon on Monday, Mr. Coolidge's spokesman will be the train announcer in Union Station.

BARNEY GOOGLE AND SPARK PLUG — A Familiar Voice

BARNEY GOOGLE LAY IN HIS BED AT THE HOTEL PERUSING OVER THE OCCURRENCES OF THE PAST WEEK AND REGRETTING THAT HE HAD TO LEAVE THE LITTLE BUNGALOW THAT KLOTZ HAD FITTED OUT FOR HIMSELF AND HIS BRIDE -
HE WAS WONDERING WHEN THEY WOULD ARRIVE, AND WHAT THE BLUSHING BRIDE WOULD BE LIKE, WHEN THE TELEPHONE BELL RANG AND HORSEFACE KLOTZ'S VOICE CAME OVER THE WIRE INVITING BARNEY TO HASTEN OVER AND MEET THE NEW MRS. KLOTZ
NEEDLESS TO SAY — BARNEY WASTED NO TIME IN GETTING OUT TO NEW ROCHELLE HORSEFACE, OL BOY. CONGRATS. WHERE'S THE LITTLE BRIDE?
I'M SO GLAD TO SEE YOU, MR. GOOGLE - COME RIGHT IN - MRS. KLOTZ WILL BE RIGHT DOWN
DID YOU CALL ME, HORACE?
YES MRS KLOTZ I HAVE A SURPRISE FOR YOU - WON'T YOU COME DOWN?
OH, THAT VOICE!! I'VE HEARD IT BEFORE!!
WHY, MR GOOGLE WHAT IS THE MATTER ??
OH, MY!! OH, MY!! OH, OH, OH! CAN I BE DREAMING?

THE BUNGLE FAMILY — Pessimists

A FEW PERSONS WHO HEAR COLONEL BUNGLE'S DESCRIPTION OF SHORT HOURS AND BIG PAY IN RAISING FUR FOR PROFIT, SHARE HIS LONG RANGE VISION, AND EVEN FRIENDS WHO SAW THE COLONEL FIGHT HIS WAY BACK FROM OTHER ATTACKS ON MILLIONAIRE'S ROW CONSIDER THIS WATERLOO.
MARMADUKE, I PHONED JOSEPHINE AGAIN TODAY. GEORGE IS JUST ABOUT THE SAME, BUT I KNOW SHE STILL CLINGS TO HOPE BECAUSE SHE ACTED VERY COOLLY WHEN I HINTED THAT NO DOUBT GEORGE OWES HIS PRESENT CONDITION TO THE FACT THAT HE ALWAYS WORE SUCH TIGHT HATS.
SUGAR, WHY THEORIZE ABOUT SUCH A SERIOUS MATTER? AS I'VE POINTED OUT SO OFTEN, EVERYTHING IS EXPLAINED WHEN YOU LOOK AT GEORGE AND NOTICE HOW MUCH HIS SKULL IS SHAPED LIKE A PINE-APPLE.
POOR JOSEPHINE! YOU OUGHT TO HAVE ANOTHER TALK WITH GEORGE. TOMASSO, AND HUMOR HIM TO GO SOMEPLACE WHERE HE CAN BE THOROUGHLY EXAMINED.
POOR GEORGE! WHAT A TERRIBLE PRICE TO PAY FOR HIS HABIT OF RUNNING OUT IN THE HALL AND TRADING WALLOPS WITH NEIGHBORS WHO HIT HIM ON THE DOME ONCE TOO OFTEN.
I SAW POOR GEORGE BUNGLE TODAY, AND I'M WORRIED, TOO. EVER SINCE I TALKED WITH HIM I CAN'T THINK OF ANYTHING BUT BIG DOUGH AND FUR. I WONDER IF A CONDITION LIKE GEORGE'S IS CATCHING, HON?
OH YOU'RE ALWAYS EXPOSING YOURSELF TO SOMETHING. HOW LONG DID YOU TALK TO GEORGE? HOW CLOSE DID YOU STAND TO HIM?

WEDDING BELLS

JOHN, I'VE GOT SOME WONDERFUL NEWS FOR YOU
NO NEWS IS GOOD NEWS
YOU KNOW MY RICH UNCLE HENRY I WAS TELLING YOU ABOUT?
YEAH?
WELL, HE LEFT US A 100 GRAND

In this, a Democratic state,
It seems we must inaugurate;
So let us be impassive in
The face of all this massive din,
And shed but few remorseful tears
Throughout the next quartet of years,
Although, of course, the peepuls' choice
Will never hear the peepuls' voice.

OF COURSE, Stop-That-Noise-Week should be extended indefinitely. Can't there be a permanent Bureau for the Suppression of Annoying and Unnecessary Noises in Cities of the First Class? Yes, there can. In fact, such a bureau is established here and now. Prof. Lutzie (above) is in charge night and day. He is a conscientious acoustician. It will be the duty of all public-spirited citizens when they hear a disagreeable noise to get in touch with the professor by telephone—or, in desperate cases, by postal card. Dr. Lutzie will rush to the scene of irritation with a stethoscope and make a diagnosis.

However, it is very difficult to do away with disagreeable noises one at a time, for, as Dr. Lutzie explains, "How can I tell whether a noise is unpleasant or not until after I have listened? And after a noise strikes the ear-drum, very little can be done about it."

Taxing Intelligence and Life

"Depletion" Allowed for an Oil Well, None for a Doctor's Brain.

If a man owns an oil well, coal mine, copper or gold mine, or if he owns a sand bank, from which sand and gravel are taken, the government does not compel him to pay the full income tax.

He is allowed to say to the government:

"Kind government, you know that my income makes it necessary for me each year to diminish the amount of oil in my well, gravel in my bank, coal in my mine. Every year as I take out the oil, gravel or coal, I am poorer, for there is less left to take out. Therefore you should allow me because of 'DEPLETION' to pay less than the full amount of income tax."

"Quite true. I tax on INCOMES, not CAPITAL. I do not want to tax you in such a way as to CONFISCATE your mine, your oil or your sand bank. Therefore in taxing income that you get from such properties, I take into consideration the fact that year by year your properties are less valuable and I allow you on the ground of depletion to pay less than the full amount of your income tax."

That is the law, as it stands.

This newspaper does not suggest that the above arrangement as to mines and oil wells is unjust.

On the contrary, while the government proposes to tax incomes, and NOT to confiscate property, it is just that government should take into consideration DEPLETION, the diminishing value of the mine or oil well.

BUT WHAT ABOUT HUMAN BEINGS THAT WORK FOR THEIR INCOMES?

Are they not entitled to some allowance for DEPLETION also?

What about the doctor going his rounds at night, running greater risks than others, of disease?

Does he not suffer depletion in physical strength, in mental energy and life itself?

An oil well or the mine may last indefinitely. But there is a DEFINITE LIMIT TO HUMAN LIFE, ENERGY AND INTELLIGENCE.

Should not the fact that a man can work only so many more years entitle him to consideration based on DEPLETION?

Is he not wearing out, as a mine wears out?

THAT is a point which this newspaper and others under the same ownership intends to call to the attention of lawmakers, as often as may be necessary.

EVERY worker is simply a "mine" of energy and intelligence, which is used up as he works.

If a coal mine is worth less at the end of a year than it was at the beginning, so is the body and brain of a man worth less, year by year, as his life, energy and intelligence go into his work.

IF a man who owns a coal mine is allowed to pay a lesser income tax because of "depletion," then the man that owns a money producing BRAIN should be allowed to charge for similar depletion.

* * *

OUR income system compels a man earning income with brain and vital energy to pay as high a tax on his income as the man who receives his income from the inheritance of accumulated wealth, simply taking his money as it comes, he himself doing no work at all.

THAT the government should take from the worker as high a percentage of EARNED income as it takes from the man who inherits money is unjust. It is AGAINST PUBLIC POLICY. The worker is BUILDING, CREATING, ADDING TO THE WEALTH OF THE NATION.

He is rendering a public service, contributing intelligence and energy to the national prosperity.

To tax him on his income as heavily as you tax a man that sits back doing nothing, merely receiving for his use the income of accumulated wealth, is rank injustice, and against that injustice the people protest.

Mellon and Davis Stay In Cabinet Positions

A distinct honor, in which Pittsburgh can take pride, is paid to two of its citizens, in the continuance in office of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and James J. Davis, secretary of labor. Beginning Monday, they will have served their country so well under two national executives, Presidents Harding and Coolidge, that they will begin another term under Mr. Hoover, announcement from Washington states.

This is an unusual record of reward for devotion to the affairs of the country. It is gratifying to friends and neighbors of these men to know that the head of their government considers their work to have been so meritorious and consistuous that he felt he could do the country no better service than to continue them at their posts.

It is acknowledged throughout the land that Secretary Mellon has performed the duties of his office so capably that he is rated among the few "great" secretaries of the treasury. Secretary Davis, likewise, has made an enviable record. Yet we know that there are thousands of office seekers. We know that there are hundreds of men of outstanding prominence who look longingly at the positions held by members of the cabinet. We can imagine that in behalf of the claims of some of them for preferment it would be stated that honor enough had been given to Mr. Mellon and Mr. Davis.

To such importunities, were they indeed made, the answer, the situation indicates, must have been "Our country needs these men whose records justify retaining them in office."

THIS IS NOT A PRETTY PICTURE

IN THIS vivid picture Mr. McCay illustrates one of the most revolting phases of social and political life in this country, a condition that should make certain public officials blush with shame.

You see the unfortunate drug addict, writhing and raving on the floor. She should be in a hospital, receiving treatment under the Federal Government's direction, so that she could be cured.

The man who is labeled "Drug Prescriber" is directly to blame. He makes a foul living selling narcotics to children, women and men, slipping through loopholes in the law, enslaving victims and developing new human material for his traffic.

HE SHOULD BE IN JAIL, SERVING A LONG SENTENCE, for engaging in the lowest form of crime.

But will the criminal go to jail? You know better. So does he!

Instead of facing prosecution and punishment, the criminal will COMPROMISE the case by paying $1,500, probably a slight fraction of his profits for a month. He will do more than compromise the case. HE WILL COMPROMISE JUSTICE, DECENCY AND THE FAITH OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

And the Government Prosecutor who permits the case to be compromised, what shall be said of him?

No wonder the starved Petty Thief at the window looks on with envy and amazement. He cannot compromise anything with cash—because he has not got enough cash.

Tales That Are Told

A Suggested Choice

CLARKESON was waiting in the hall for his wife. He had read the story in the evening paper, but still she delayed somewhere up above.

The weary man took of his hat and untied his white silk muffler.

"Darling," he called up the stairs presently, "are you going to be much longer? The show begins early, you know."

"I won't be a minute now," replied the woman cheerfully.

This is what she had said half an hour ago.

"All right," returned her husband, "but please choose a minute that's not more than sixty minutes away."

Not What She Meant

A PIOUS woman who had married a seafaring man dreamt that on his next trip he would meet with disaster. So when the day of his sailing drew near she took him to the village church, much against his inclinations. During the sermon she handed a note up to the preacher which read:

"Mr. Mariner is going to sea. His wife desires the prayers of the congregation."

The woman was quite illiterate, and the light over the pulpit very dim, and the minister read the following to his congregation from the hastily-scrawled slip handed to him:

"Mr. Mariner, who is going to see his wife, desires the prayers of the congregation."

Taking It Literally

THEY had departed to a warmer clime for the winter months and the master was watching his servant unpack the various bags, whilst he checked their contents with an eagle eye.

"You are sure we've got everything we want?" he asked, when the operation was almost complete.

"Yes, sir," answered the valet.

"What about that medicine chest? Is everything in it? Bandages, safety pins, lint, iodine—"

"There's no iodine, sir," interrupted the valet hastily.

"Why not, indeed?"

"Because you'd written on the bottle that it was not to be taken, sir," replied the other meekly.

Not Guilty

A MAN was charged with kissing a girl against her will, and during the proceedings the girl went into the box.

"You say," said counsel for the defense, "that my client took you by surprise, and that you gave him no encouragement?"

"I do," replied the girl.

"Doesn't it strike you as strange that he should have managed to kiss you as you were unwilling?" added counsel. "Look at my client, and then consider your own height. Why you must be nearly a foot taller than he is."

"Well, what of it?" retorted the girl. "I can stoop, can't I?"

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

THERE was a sad looking woman at a bridge party, and she was whispering among some of the other women, and finally she takes Mrs. Jones aside into the cloakroom and says, "Mrs. Jones, we hate to tell you, but the other girls thought it best, and they got me to do it. We have positive information that your husband kisses your maid every day before dinner."

"Is that so?" says Mrs. Jones. "Ain't he an old dear! I told him he had to do it every day, or the maid wouldn't stay, and I been accusing him of shirking!"

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

I HAVE a friend who does noble things with words.

His name is Louis Burgess and he writes editorials on the San Francisco Examiner.

Recently he wrote this tribute to a man's courage. It is so great and beautiful that it should not perish with the issue of one paper. It should bring comfort and strength to many others who lie "pinned beneath the wreckage" of life—and in that hope I am reprinting it here.

"A BRAVE MAN DIES.

"Fred Hoffman of Redding, the driver who was burned to death in the automobile stage accident Sunday, died magnificently. As the flames neared the point where he lay pinned under the wreckage he waved away his rescuers, warning them of their own danger. Then he drew his watch from his pocket and asked that it be sent to his bride, with his love. A little later the gasoline tank blew up and Hoffman died.

"Confronted by death, this man was victorious: he faced away from death and turned toward love. Like a proud grandee he ignored the vulgar enemy and serenely went on with the business of his soul, which was a final tribute to the person in the world dearest to him. One moment was left to him, and he lived that moment supremely. That is all anyone can ever do—live out his moment well.

"We may be sure that in the dreadful flame the figure of his beloved shone with that same lovely and immortal light manifested in the burning bush hard by the Mount of Horeb long ago. It was, in fact, the same light of the spirit, the illumination of love and worship, of God blessing afflicted man."

Louis Burgess.

"ONE MOMENT WAS LEFT TO HIM AND HE LIVED THAT MOMENT SUPREMELY. THAT IS ALL ANYONE CAN DO—LIVE OUT HIS MOMENT WELL."

That is a very great sentence.

LIVE OUT YOUR MOMENT WELL—there is enough religion for any man in those five words. Indeed, there is all the religion any man can use.

We know so little, you and I. We do not know what life is all about.

We are tiny, ignorant creatures, adrift in a great uncertainty.

But there are a few certainties to which we may cling.

We know that we all, even the worst of us, long to be better than we are. We know that in each one of us, however stupid we may be, there is a real hunger for beauty and courage and truth and justice.

AND WE KNOW THAT WE HAVE AT LEAST A MOMENT IN WHICH TO ACHIEVE THAT DREAM.

There may not be more than a moment.

There was hardly more than a moment for Fred Hoffman, between the time the stage overturned and he was shot into eternity.

But he "lived that moment supremely."

He lived that moment supremely because all his life he had been getting ready to live it supremely.

I did not know Fred Hoffman. Perhaps he had his weak and foolish times, like the rest of us. Perhaps he often did things for which he was sorry. But I am sure he did many, many things of which any man might be proud. All through his life he made countless small decisions which seemed very unimportant at the time, but which nevertheless built up that nobility which was to be armor to him at the end.

Live your moment — THIS MOMENT—supremely and you will not need to worry about what may happen to you when your test comes—or in eternity.

WAVES IN ETHER

By Garrett P. Serviss

"In this day of radio wonders I am certain that there are many people who have no very clear conception of the Hertzian wave theory. I freely confess that it is too deep for me.—C. S., Syracuse, N. Y."

THE "depth" is deceptive, like that of a tree-shaded pool of water, which may look bottomless, although in reality but a few inches deep. Nothing is incomprehensible in science, if you keep metaphysics away. The greatest of all deceptions is that of the metaphysician who thinks anybody understands what he is talking about. There may be the sublimest truth on the hook of his speculations, but it is a trout that he cannot land on this side of Jordan.

Physical science itself has to make many assumptions which it cannot verify, except that the key seems to fit the lock. At the bottom of the universal radiation theory, now holding science in its hug, is a conception that lately has taken two opposed shapes. In one, the oldest, it pictures the universe as containing a medium called the ether of space, which is filled with undulations producing effects on our senses known as light, heat, etc.

It is no more difficult to understand such undulations, or waves, than it is to understand waves of sound in the air. The question of the means by which they are originated may be more puzzling. Investigation is still busy upon the details of that problem. But we need not now bother ourselves with it. We may simply assume that the waves arise in and are transmitted through the ether. Like sound waves, they are of various lengths, or frequencies of vibration. Their great source in our solar system is the sun. But they may be set going by other means. We may create ether-waves by turning on a lamp, or by causing a shock in the ether by interrupting an electric current, or making an electric spark. The light-waves in general come from the sun. The Hertzian waves come from such shocks as those just mentioned. Lightning is akin to the Hertz waves.

The characteristic difference that distinguishes the various forms of ether waves is their frequency, or its correlative, their wave-length. It is the same with sound-waves, although they are produced in material mediums like air, water or a solid, instead of being conveyed by the ether. The idea of octaves is applicable to both. In sound the range of vibration from a given frequency to a frequency twice as great is called an octave. So with ether waves, as illustrated by those which produce the effect of light. The slowest vibrations that the eye perceives are those of red light—say 375 trillions in a second. The fastest are those of violet light—say 750 trillions in a second. That covers one octave. The ear has a wider range, since several octaves of sound-waves are perceptible to it. (But do not forget the essential difference between sound waves and ether waves).

Now Hertzian waves only vary from light waves by an enormous difference in frequency. They are many times slower and, therefore, longer. They also cover about 28 octaves instead of only one. The longest light-waves measure about the fifty-thousandth part of an inch; the longest wireless (Hertzian) waves are many miles in length, and the shortest many feet, although there are shorter Hertzian waves not used in wireless, less than an inch in length.

On the other side of the light-waves the frequency increases and the wave-length decreases until in the recently discovered cosmic rays we come to undulations reaching a thousand billion billions per second! Between these and the light gamut lie the X-rays, which are of immense frequency, but still much slower than the cosmic rays.

Bible Passages

Solomon Granted Wisdom

(I. Kings 3; 1-12.)

AND Solomon made affinity with Pharoah king of Egypt, and took Pharaoh's daughter, and brought her into the city of David, until he had made an end of building his own house, and the house of the Lord, and the wall of Jerusalem round about.

Only the people sacrificed in high places, because there was no house built unto the name of the Lord, until those days.

And Solomon loved the Lord, walking in the statutes of David his father: only he sacrificed and burnt incense in high places.

And the king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there; for that was the great high place: a thousand burnt offerings did Solomon offer upon that altar.

In Gibeon the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream by night: and God said, Ask what I shall give thee.

And Solomon said, Thou hast showed unto thy servant David my father great mercy, according as he walked before thee in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with thee; and thou hast kept for him this great kindness, that thou hast given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day.

And now, O Lord my God, thou hast made thy servant king instead of David my father: and I am but a little child: I know not how to go out or come in.

And thy servant is in the midst of thy people which thou hast chosen, a great people, that cannot be numbered nor counted for multitude.

Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and bad: for who is able to judge this thy so great a people?

And the speech pleased the Lord, that Solomon had asked this thing.

And God said unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself long life; neither hast asked riches for thyself, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thyself understanding to discern judgment;

Behold, I have done according to thy words: lo, I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart; so that there was none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall any arise like unto thee.

If You Have Failed

If you have failed, have found life's lures are lies,
If, after ardors, struggles, hopes and tears,
The promised haven never greets your eyes
That ache with barren vistas of dead years,
Remembering, then, the caravan that went
Before you down the Highway of Defeat;
Wan Hagar, stumbling blindly from her tent,
And Socrates, who found the hemlock
sweet,
See chained Columbus, with his torch of truth
That could not light life's somber galleries,
And Joan the Maid, who gave her stainless youth
To banish immemorial tyrannies,
Sad soul, if you have failed, remembering
All these, march on with step unfaltering!

Isn't It So?

In social life diplomacy merely consists of knowing just the right kind of people to snub.

When love is analyzed it will be found that at least 51 per cent of it consists of curiosity.

When a man is known to be as stubborn as a mule it is just as well not to talk behind his back.

The Thief Catchers

By Herbert Kaufman

TOTAL cash deposits in the United States exceed $53,000,000,000. Most of us wonder where all the money comes from. America's fabulous wealth is so recent, so widely spread, that lay minds wander in bewilderment through fiscal statistics.

But analysis thoroughly understands why the Twentieth Century is ten times richer than the Nineteenth: Today is simply putting to work what yesterday threw away.

We've started to check the leaks in nature's dikes.

We've begun to conserve the wealths that other generations dissipated. We're "breaking down" materials to build up industries.

We're turning rubbish piles into bank accounts. We're practicing efficiency; which is merely a perfected digestive system that obtains every penny of profit from the stuffs which the body economic consumes.

The balance sheet has organized a detective force to watch factory exits and smokestacks, and make sure that no company property is carried away in dump carts or up thieving chimneys.

We're gathering dividends and plucking melons from the by-product patch. We haven't yet squeezed any blood out of turnips; but we are getting turnips out of blood—not to mention a hundred other crops fertilized with the tankage that packers formerly ran into the river or the glue vat.

Pharmacy annually abstracts millions worth of medical preparations from offal, that other decades fed to maggots. Crude oil weekly tattles some new secret to the test tube.

Wall Street isn't aware of it, but speculation is gambling on scientific progress—betting that analytical and synthetic chemistry will furnish the funds to vindicate its frenetic optimism.

The stock market may be temporarily overplaying its hand; but every soundly managed concern listed on Exchange can indefinitely expand its earning power by eliminating pick-pocket negligence from administration—by adopting and adapting discoveries as they peck the shell.

That's Henry Ford's method for making billions—and adding to 'em.

The chips and shavings of his automobile plants are yielding coal tar, ammonium sulphate, gas, coke, motor fuel, briquettes, wood alcohol, ethyl acetate, calcium, cement, road toppings, paper and pitch—by the million gallons and thousand tons.

And these pickups of one institution are but anthill quantities to the aggregates saved by the rest of commerce, as it gleans every field for secondary harvests.

Where does all the money come from? It comes from thrift, from economies, from better processes, from shrewder thinking—from EFFICIENCY.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, March 2.—The subtlest of Manhattan self-exploiters, it strikes me, are the ambitious batoniers who lead jazz orchestras. No one ever knew an orchestra leader outside of symphony conductors, in the old days. Today they are nation-wide celebrities.

Not one is exactly a great musician, but they do not permit a forgetful public to forget them. The most successful have personality with a big plus and are so highly commercialized they operate a number of bands, maintaining elaborate offices with well paid promoters.

There is, for instance, nothing of the long-haired, wishful-eyed and soulful manner about Paul Whiteman. He is more the rather corpulent good fellow, but when he mounts the rostrum there is something incredibly eloquent about his broad back and stamping foot. Paul is an actor.

Ben Bernie, flourishing his fiddle like a fan, is not so much the symphonic marvel as the suave and polished wise cracker. He has an engaging way of taking his audience into his confidence and holding himself up to ridicule. Then he confounds them with some euphonic heaviness.

Vincent Lopez is a model of tailored elegance with lacquered black hair, long eye-lashes and a boyishly shy manner. He conducts quietly, with only a jiggly movement of his right arm. He has a trick of apparently losing himself in a dreamy manner. And do the ladies love it? His mash mail is the answer, my dears!

Art Hickman conducts from his battery of drums—sitting down—and looks out over dancers to bestow a friendly smile on an acquaintance. He is the dean of the guild. Eddie Peapody interpolates baton-wielding by twanging a banjo. Paul Ash features a mop of wild red hair.

There are a dozen others with pronounced subtleties that score. With their various activities, including recording, they are paid astounding sums, far more than our President. And despite talk jazz is declining, they are now, as the song has it, on the crest of the wave.

A little coffee pot place on Seventh avenue heralds this indigestible pleasantry: "Heaviest sinkers in town—10 cents a sink."

And in a hair-dressing parlor those who desire to see the head man are greeted with a sign: "Consultation by appointment only."

There is a figure in the black-and-tan haunts of Harlem known as Choo-Choo, with orange frizzed hair and a light sepia complexion. Even to regulars she is a mystery. She speaks with a Parisian accent, is the constant companion of an extremely black sheik who wears a checkered suit and red tie. They visit the Black Belt faubourg in a limousine and have nothing to do with hoi polloi. And if she is featured in one of those colored revues next week, it makes a sucker of me again, as usual.

Broadway, too, has seasonal figures who come, create an air of mystery among night owls, and disappear like a magician's evanishment. A few weeks ago there was a gentleman who resembled an evil depraved marquis from pages of an Oppenheim, with spade-shaped beard and red ribbon across his shirt front. He looked ripe for one of those international intrigues that send Scotland Yard off the deep end. He escorted an aged and slightly limping dowager, known as "The Comtesse," bedecked with diamonds and supported by a shepherd's crook like Lillian Russell used to carry in the Weberfield extravaganzas. After a few nights of wild spending, including $100 bill tips, they vanished.

A New York authoress tells in a interview how she lost all admiration for her husband because he showed up so badly in company. He had in public none of the charming qualities of polite attentiveness she saw in other men toward their wives. The lady may some day learn all married couples are pretty much alike when you shut the door on them.

In Kansas there is a young hog with only one eye located in the center of its forehead and a snout that looks like an elephant's trunk. That's the Sunflower State's idea of a "blind pig."

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

MOST parents are too sympathetic when their boys and girls come home from college and tell of the hard lessons assigned them.

Instructors have general programs that they follow.

These are established to provide work for the average brain.

They are not for the exceptionally bright student.

Therefore, the boy or girl who complains about too much to do in certain classes acknowledges that he or she does not want to work hard enough.

To be sure, in some cases there are branches which are difficult for the ordinary student to master.

But, taking a fair curriculum as made up in each course, the general average is easy of mastery, and extra work in one subject and less to be done where the lines are easy make up the day in and day out course.

Too many think they know things that they do not know well enough.

To have heard a thing many times before does not signify that the student could get up before a class and explain each step clearly.

If it can't be done, it has not been studied hard enough.

Parents are paying for thorough work and want to see something for the investment.
